YANKS STOP JAPS; KILL 1,000

Reds Capture Kherson, Black Sea Port

CITY RETAKEN IN 22 MILE DRIVE DOWN DNIEPER

Claim Toll of 75,000 Nazis in 10 Days.

LONDON, March 14 [Tuesday]—(AP).—Gen. Malinovsky's Stalingrad veterans wiped out the German garrison at Kherson yesterday, capturing that big German base and Black sea port at the mouth of the Dnieper river and boosting the toll of German dead and captured to 75,000 in 10 days, Moscow announced in its war bulletin broadcast early today.

Striking swiftly 22 miles down the west bank of the Dnieper, the 3d Ukraine army chased the Germans into Kherson. Then breaking into the strategic city, Red troops slaughtered the Germans who sought to make a stand, the bulletin said. Moscow said Malinovsky's troops alone had killed 20,000 Germans and captured 2,500 between March 6 and 12, not counting those cut down at Kherson.

Premier Stalin in an order of the day calling for a 20 salvo, 224 gun Moscow salute termed Kherson "a large junction of rail and water communications and an important strong point in German defenses."

Odessa Big Objective.

The capture of Kherson, taken by the Germans in the autumn of 1941 a few months after they attacked Russia, opened the way for coördinated Red army drives on the next big Black sea objectives, the ports of Nikolaev, 35 miles northwest of Kherson, and Odessa, 90 miles west of Kherson.

Odessa, the ultimate major prize, is the funnel thru which the Germans must retreat along the Black sea coast into Rumania over inferior rail routes unless they can stop the soviet juggernaut.

Other units under Malinovsky captured a position on the Ingulets river 35 miles east of Nikolaev. That ship building center also is threatened by soviet forces last reported only 28 miles north of the city on both sides of the Ingul river.

Poised Close to Rumania.

Russia's three southern armies swept thru 320 more localities in 24 hours and were poised within 50 miles of Rumania's frontiers at three widely separated points.

The three points were at newly captured Skalat, 20 miles southeast of Tarnopol in the southeastern corner of old Poland, south of Proskurov rail junction in the west Ukraine, and at Galvoron on the banks of the middle Bug river.

The capture of Skalat disclosed that the Russians now were carrying out a wide flanking movement below the city in order to snap German communications between Tarnopol and Rumania. Skalat is about 50 miles north of the Rumanian frontier and about 100 miles east of the old Czecho-Slovakian border.

REGISTRATION ENDS; 50,000 NEW VOTERS SIGN UP

An indicated registration of more than 50,000 new voters was seen yesterday by John S. Rusch, chief clerk of the election board. Fire stations were open to 10 p. m., the deadline, to accommodate new voters.

Up to 4 p. m., registrations totaled 40,334. The figure was unofficial. With six more hours of registration, as many as 15,000 more registrations were possible, Rusch said. There were 13,509 changes of address.

Of an estimated 5,000 persons who registered yesterday in the offices of the board, Rusch said 80 per cent were women. Many were the wives of soldiers and sailors. The ratio of registrations among men and women in the fire stations, he said, was about the same.

As of last April, 1,915,883 registered voters were on the voting lists of Chicago and nine Cook county towns under the jurisdiction of the election board. The regular canvass is expected to eliminate many thru death, removal to other cities, and the draft.

Tells of Wire on Neck of Girl Torch Victim

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 13 [Special].—The discovery of a wire around the neck of pretty Patricia Winters, 17, Greenville High school senior, was related this afternoon to a jury trying her young sweetheart, David Filgas, 16, for her torch murder.

State Trooper Frank Kapugia testified he found the wire embedded in the girl's neck after her charred body had been removed from the fire wrecked car in which she died Dec. 11 while on a petting party with David.

In the trial that started this morning before a jury of three housewives and nine men, Prosecutor Menso R. Bolt is assertedly attempting to weave a web of circumstantial evidence to show that the dapper youth fired the car to kill his "date" for reasons to be developed.

Calls Death Accident.

David had contended Patricia's death was an accident resulting from the sudden explosion of the car. He related at a coroner's inquest that he and the girl drank two bottles of wine and partly disrobed, then his memory "blacked out." When he regained consciousness, he said, he was sitting behind the wheel of the car beside the burned body of his companion. He received superficial burns.

Altho the state policeman told the jury he found a multiple strand copper wire about eight inches long partly around Patricia's neck, Coroner Simeon Leroy testified he previously had examined the body and had seen no wire. Local authorities had first termed the death an accident.

The coroner also said the girl died from burns, rather than from choking, and that a skull-fracture apparently was caused by the great heat of the flames. The state contends the fire could only have been so intense from the application of some highly inflammable agent.

Tells of Inspecting Car.

Hiram Bristol, a farmer living near the scene of the fire, told of driving David home after he had stumbled to the home of Bristol's neighbor, William Johnson, clad only in shorts, shoes, and socks at 4:30 a. m. on the cold morning of the tragedy.

He told of stopping beside David's burned car, looking into the interior by the light of a match and seeing the body, then the following conversation with David who asked:

"Was there somebody in that car?"

"Yes."

"I'll never take Patricia Winters home again."

NEW DEAL NOW CORRUPTS FBI, HOFFMAN SAYS

Charges Attack on Free Speech.

BY LAURENCE BURD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Rep. Hoffman.

Washington, D. C., March 13.—Rep. Hoffman [R., Mich.] charged in the house today that the administration is turning the federal bureau of investigation into a Gestapolike agency in an attempt to suppress free speech by citizens who criticize the New Deal.

In an hour long floor speech the congressman reviewed in detail the smear campaign carried on by New Dealers and their sympathizers against members of congress and citizens fighting for free speech and constitutional government.

The smearers include, among others, Hoffman said, top government officials, starting with Vice President Wallace, and Columnists Walter Winchell and Drew Pearson, the Marshall Field press, the Luce publications, and Communist sympathizers among CIO leaders.

[Radio smearers face investigation by Committee on Un-American Activities, Rep. Dies announces. Details on page 8.]

Discloses Boy's Questioning.

Recent developments show, Hoffman continued, that the "searing, destructive influence of the New Deal" has infiltrated the FBI, headed by J. Edgar Hoover, which, the congressman said, has for years had an excellent record of nonpolitical efficiency.

The congressman then related to the house the case of a 17 year old Hartford, Mich., school boy, who was recently questioned by an FBI agent for "seditious" statements, after he had said President Roosevelt did not tell the truth in a 1940 campaign speech.

The young man, Hoffman explained, subsequently enlisted as an air cadet and will soon start training to become a combat pilot.

He was seized upon for questioning last month by an FBI agent, the congressman said, after he charged in a schoolroom discussion that the President told an untruth when he said American boys would not be sent to fight on foreign soil.

Lectured by Agent.

The incident was related in an editorial March 1 in the newspaper, Hartford Day Spring, which Hoffman placed in the Congressional Record. According to the newspaper account, the boy was questioned by the FBI "because he freely expressed his opinion in a class discussion of current affairs—specifically because he labeled President Roosevelt a 'liar.'"

The FBI agent, the editorial said, left the boy with "the odious impression that for his own safety in the future he had better confine his opinions to less 'seditious' statements." The FBI agent read the boy a definition of "seditious" from

FEAR 2D DEATH IN TRUNK CASE

Vitale's Daughter Tells of Strange Message.

(Picture on page 11.)

A theory that Onofrio Vitale, 50, missing $5,000 a year cheese maker, may have been killed in the same brutal manner as his close friend, James De Angelo, whose trussed and beaten body was found Saturday in the trunk of his widow's car, was bolstered last night when police learned that his family was warned the night he disappeared that he was "locked up."

De Angelo was last seen in his usual haunts Feb. 24. Vitale has not communicated with his family since Feb. 25, when he left his home at 7 157th st., Calumet City, to "attend a meeting."

That the two friends attended the meeting of which Vitale spoke and both were kidnaped, held prisoners, tortured, and finally killed—possibly in revenge or because they would not divulge desired information—is an angle investigators are considering. How the men were associated in business deals police have not determined.

Vitale's Daughter Questioned.

Calumet City police last night questioned Vitale's daughter, Ann, 20. She told of the call the night of Feb. 25. The message said: "Your father and his friend are locked up, and you'll have to get a bondsman." Then the caller hung up.

Miss Vitale said she and her cousin, Andrew Agosto, went to police headquarters in Chicago and were told to see the Calumet City police. Instead, she returned home. Her father's disappearance was not reported until March 4.

"I just figured he'd come home," she said in explanation.

Follow Triple Murder Trial.

Chief of Detectives John L. Sullivan and Capt. John O'Malley of Hudson avenue police, in charge of the De Angelo investigation, said there might be a connection between the trunk murder and the slayings of Thomas Oneglia, Dec. 6, and Sam [Snakes] Gervase, March 2. Oneglia was a stockholder in the Grande Cheese company, 134 N. La Salle st., by which Vitale was employed.

Some investigators said the slayings might indicate a revival of the blackhand activities of two decades ago. They recalled that, in the Oneglia and Gervase murders, the killers left their weapons beside their victims, a blackhand practice.

Lt. Kyran Phelan said the murder of De Angelo was one of the most brutal he had investigated in 20 years of police work.

"It appears that he was tortured a little each day for several days," he said. "This may have been in revenge, or in an effort to make him talk. Three or four of his ribs were broken. Several holes in his skull appeared to have been made by a small, sharp instrument or a chisel."

Merchant and Girl Quizzed.

Sullivan and O'Malley questioned a group that included hoodlums, De Angelo's girl friend, Mrs. Ethel Moran, 26, and Ross Prio, general manager of the cheese company. Mrs. Moran, whose husband is in the South Pacific, was held for further inquiry. She told how she traveled with De Angelo to Springfield and how he always had plenty of money. Once, when she asked his business, he slapped her.

Prio said he knew nothing of Vitale except he was a good cheese curer and an excellent salesman. He knew De Angelo only casually, he said.

REPORT SOVIET NOTE GIVES FINNS 'FEW MORE DAYS'

STOCKHOLM, March 14 [Tuesday]—(AP).—Soviet Russia was understood today to have given Finland a few more days to accept her armistice terms in a stern answer to the week-old Finnish request for an opportunity to negotiate conditions under which Finland would quit the war.

It was strongly indicated that Russia in the reply made yesterday, stood to all purposes on its original principal demands that Finland intern German troops in the country, withdraw to her 1940 borders and repatriate Russian prisoners.

Russia's reply was believed to have offered Finland one last chance to quit the war on conditions substantially the same as those tendered the Finns at their request about three weeks ago. The peace crisis was described in informed quarters here as "getting tougher" for Finland every hour. Neither government, however, was believed to have closed the door to eventual agreement.

2 ATTACKS MADE BY GIRL SADIST

One Boy, 8, Is Slugged; First Victim Choked.

A teen age girl was sought by Jefferson Park police last night following her sadistic attack with a monkey wrench on an 8 year old boy in Portage park, on the northwest side. Nine days ago a 5 year old boy was choked in that neighborhood, presumably by the same girl who made yesterday's attack on John Marth, 4112 N. Leamington av.

He was clubbed on the head so severely that it was necessary to remove him to the Belmont hospital. His condition was described as serious.

Marth was strolling in Portage park, Central av. and Irving Park rd., when the young woman addressed him. "Can you show me to the cannon in the park?" she asked. She referred to a relic of World War I, in the northeast section of the park.

Girl Gives Boy a Dime.

The girl offered Marth a dime, and he accepted. As they walked toward the cannon, she inquired about his school and teachers.

As the two reached the outdoor swimming pool, the girl, without warning, pulled a monkey wrench from her purse and struck the boy on the head five times. He screamed and fell to the ground.

His assailant disappeared before help could arrive. Park Policeman Edward Johnson was called, and Marth was taken to the hospital. He described his assailant as of high school age, perhaps 16 years of age, hatless, having a dark complexion and a low, husky voice, and wearing a tan coat with blue slacks. She was heavily powdered.

First Victim Choked.

On March 5, a girl described as 16 or 17, hatless and wearing a tan coat, stopped Robert Devlin, 5, of 5124 Hutchinson st. and James Cooney, 6, of 5142 Hutchinson st., at Laramie av. and Hutchinson st. and asked if they wished to earn money shoveling snow.

The Devlin boy accepted, and she led him by hand thru an alley. In the rear of 5108 Hutchinson st. the girl suddenly clamped her hands around his throat and began choking him. He screamed and wriggled free. The girl fled. The boy's throat was severely lacerated by her nails.

Altho both boys described their assailant as teen aged, police believed her older.

Enemy Suicide Troops Slain on Barb Wire

GUADALCANAL, Solomon Islands, March 14 [Tuesday]—(AP).—Five hundred Japanese hurled themselves into certain death upon the barriers before the American beachhead on Bougainville Island in the Solomons Saturday, and their bodies formed a bloody mat on the barbed wire entanglements.

Gen. MacArthur's troops used rifles, machine guns, booby traps, land mines, flame throwers, hand grenades, and bazookas to halt the repeated suicidal attacks against the northern perimeter around the Empress Augusta bay beachhead. The attacking Japanese knew no hope and had only one purpose—to kill as many Americans as possible before they died.

U. S. Casualties Light.

American casualties were officially announced as light, however, while Japanese losses were estimated conservatively at more than 1,000 killed since the initial attacks on the beachhead began March 8.

[A Tokio broadcast asserted that two out of the three allied air fields on Empress Augusta bay were in Japanese hands and that the Japanese were "taking over one American position after another."]

Fourteenth army corps headquarters said 501 Japanese bodies were found draped on the barbed wire in front of allied positions. Enemy bodies in the jungle outside the wire were not counted.

Counts 200 Dead.

Brig. Gen. Charles F. Craig, of the 37th division, said he counted more than 200 Japanese bodies piled knee deep in front of the wire in his sector. Apparently the enemy frenziedly threw themselves at the wire to force it by sheer weight of numbers, only to meet instant death.

There were three main attacks Saturday, the first before dawn and the others during the morning. At least two regiments of Japanese infantrymen backed by mortar and artillery fire charged in some cases to within 10 feet of allied pillboxes.

Some Japanese managed to penetrate the barbed wire and mines. [Gen. MacArthur said these Japs were wiped out later.]

Except for these isolated breakthrus, the Japs were halted before noon by infantrymen, mortar barrages, and by 105 and 155 millimeter shells lobbed within 200 yards of the allied front lines.

United States Lines Restored.

By nightfall Saturday all the enemy penetrations had been neutralized and lines were back in their original positions, with other suicidal attacks expected.

Japanese artillery continued active during the day and slightly damaged the Piva airstrip. The Seabees quickly repaired it.

Counter-battery fire silenced six new enemy gun positions. Eighteen enemy artillery pieces were knocked out.

Maj. Gen. John Hodge, American division commander, described the American artillery fire as "the best I have ever seen."

One hundred and forty navy and marine Dauntlesses and Avengers directed by Lt. Joseph Cutler of Macon, Ga., also hammered the Japanese with 78 tons of bombs. Flames and smoke indicated hits on ammunition or fuel dumps.

A destroyer commanded by Lt. Comdr. J. R. Pahl of Santa Ana, Cal., also poured in five inch shells.

Win Two Admiralty Isles.

ALLIED HDQ., SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, March 14 [Tuesday]—(AP).—An attack by three to four thousand Japanese on American positions at Empress Augusta bay on Bougainville Island in the Solomons was turned back Saturday, with about one-third of the attacking force killed, Gen. MacArthur's bulletin said today.

Troops of the 1st cavalry division moved from their well established invasion positions on Los Negros Island in the Admiralties to occupy two small islands in Seeadler harbor, Gen. MacArthur reported further. The islets, Hauwei and Butjo Luo, were hammered by American artillery firing from Los Negros and American destroyers.

Gen. MacArthur said also that Rabaul was hit again, this time with 117 tons of bombs directed mainly at the township, Vunapope airdrome, and harbor craft.

Navy Bombs Wake.

Washington, D. C., March 13 (AP).—Navy planes, raiding Wake Island, dropped 50 tons of bombs on Japanese installations there Saturday and returned safely to their base.

ARMY HOSPITAL IN SHELL HOLE SAVES 100 MEN

Chicagoans Fight to Aid Wounded.

BY ARTHUR VEYSEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
(Pictures on page 2.)

IN A PORTABLE HOSPITAL, LOS NEGROS ISLAND, March 13.—In this hospital, nothing but a tarpaulin covered shell-hole, more than a hundred American soldiers have been saved from death.

For four days during which the American foothold was not much bigger than a city block and when all of the approximately 1,000 men in the landing party were in the front lines, a gallant staff of four doctors and 30 medical corpsmen, three of them Chicagoans, worked day and night to cut down the Jap battlefield toll.

Wounded men lay on the beach while the staff, carrying their entire supplies on their backs, waded ashore soon after the landing. Maj. Edward A. Bachhuber of Mayville, Wis., hospital commander, pointed to a shell hole and said: "There's our hospital, boys."

Stretchers on Packs.

So the corpsmen, including Privates Arthur Metz, 6726 S. Maplewood av.; James Ures, 3147 S. Kedvale av., and Lawrence Azjex, 41st st., all of Chicago, dragged fallen coconut trunks across the hole and spread a tarpaulin over them to keep off the rain.

Two stretchers laid across a pile of packs provided an operating table. Two sergeants wiped the mud off their hands, lighted small kerosene stoves, poured water out of canteens into pans—and when the water was boiling dropped in their surgical instruments.

Corpsmen already were bringing in the patients. Because bullets were flying they put them into nearby foxholes while they were waiting their turn for an operation. In pairs, Bachhuber, Capt. Eugene W. Black of Omaha, Neb.; Capt. John Henry Stauffer of Canton, N. Y., and Capt. John Henry Reynolds of Muskogee, Okla., began their work.

Slashed and shattered bodies came in two by two. The doctors scrubbed wounds clean, poured in sulfanilamide and sewed up holes. Over many the doctors shook their heads and said "no hope," jabbed them full of morphine and went on to others who had a chance of living.

Kerosene Lamps for Light.

Stretchers became blood soaked. Night closed in. But the boys lighted two kerosene lanterns and pinned down the sides of the tarpaulin with coral to make the hospital light-proof.

Within four hours all the wounded had been treated. It was barely in time for the Japs were beginning to infiltrate into the beachhead. At dawn the hospital had a new line of patients. Plaster casts were molded around splintered arms and legs. A sergeant was brought in with one knee blown away.

"Please, doc—please don't take it off," he pleaded. But the leg came off.

"It's either your leg or your life," the doctor said.

Buddy Pleads for Shorty.

In the afternoon a private was carried in with a bullet hole thru his intestines. Reynolds worked over the private for five hours.

Another called Shorty came in in the arms of his buddy. The doctors said he was too far gone to live, so they filled him with morphine and put him aside to die. His buddy hung around pleading with the doctors. Late that night when all the other patients had been cared for the doctors started in again on Shorty.

"Gee, doc, thanks for doing so much for me," Shorty said as they brought him to the operating table. They patched up a hole in his head. "He may live, after all," they told his buddy. But by morning Shorty was dead.

During the day Flying Fortresses dropped supplies. Parachutes were torn into sheets. When plasma ran short the corpsmen lay down beside the patients and gave them their blood. All corpsmen gave at least two transfusions each, stopping in their work only long enough for blood to be taken from them.

During the second evening the doctors heard a noise outside the dugout. A corpsman assisting in an operation took his gun, said, "excuse me," and when the hospital lights were put out he crawled out under the tarpaulin. His gun rattled. He crawled back.

"A damned Jap was only 10 feet away," he said, relighting the lamp and bending over the patient. "He was ready to toss a grenade in here." In a foxhole serving as a ward nearby another Jap had better luck. He killed a corpsman.

Chaplain Is Stabbed.

Nearby, a Jap jumped into another foxhole with six Americans, including a chaplain who was assisting as a ward boy. In the scuffle the Jap was killed and the chaplain knifed in the hip.

On the third day reënforcements arrived and Bachhuber thought maybe it would be safe to put up a little tent for an operating room. However, a bullet came whining thru it so he went back to the dugout. On the fifth day a larger hospital unit landed and took over some of the work.

Its staff included Capt. Vladimir Sasko, 1725 W. Garfield blvd., Chicago, Capt. Clark Magill, an Oak Park, Ill., surgeon, and Capt. William Allan, 513 Wenonah av., Oak Park, a dentist.

"On those first days we were so short of men that every loss made death just so much closer for the rest," Bachhuber said. "All the injured realized that and begged us to let them go back to their buddies. All those who could walk we sent back. Whatever we could do for those boys was a privilege. You can't let boys like that die."

ENTERED ARMY IN 1942.

Capt. Clark R. W. Magill, 46, of 1106 N. Grove av., Oak Park, entered the army medical corps in 1942. His wife and three of their children live at the Grove av. address. A son, James, 19, is a pharmacist's mate in the navy.

10,200 CIVILIANS REMOVED FROM ANZIO WAR ZONE

WITH 5TH ARMY BEACHHEAD FORCES, Italy, March 13 (AP).—Maj. Ridgway B. Knight, senior civil affairs officer of the allied military government in Italy, said today that of 18,000 Italian civilians estimated to have been in the Anzio area, 10,200 had been withdrawn and that the evacuation problem was ended.

The remaining civilians are largely property owners or workers employed for the allied forces. "The civilians remaining won't be touched unless the units around them request their removal for military reasons," Knight said. Civilian casualties were described as low. Knight said 25 deaths and 40 wounded had been reported in the last 12 days. To meet the needs of the civilians two small hospitals have been set up—one with 35 beds and the other with eight.

Local price control has been established and the beachhead is one of the few places in the war where the black market does not exist. Bread is retailed to civilians at 2 cents a pound. Wine is 15 cents a quart. Fresh meat, mutton is 15 cents a pound.

MUD HALTS LAND ACTION IN ITALY; RIVAL GUNS DUEL

ALLIED HDQ., Naples, March 13 (AP).—Ground operations in Italy have come to an almost complete standstill, with both sides so deeply mired in mud that only the opposing artillery is able to maintain the battle.

[Monday's German war bulletin said "There was reconnaissance and shock troop activity on a lively scale on both sides [on Sunday]. Fire of our long range artillery caused heavy explosions on enemy landing points at Anzio-Nettuno."]

British Beaufighters hit two German supply ships off the Spanish coast, beaching one and leaving the other in sinking condition, an announcement said.

[A German broadcast termed this attack "a violation of international law," and identified the sunken vessel as the 3,700 ton German refrigerator ship Kirissi. It said 10 crewmen were killed and 15 wounded.]

Allied naval forces in the Adriatic were reported to have sunk two enemy vessels last Friday and Saturday nights.

FOUND DEAD IN ATTIC.

Albert Babs, 72, of 678 Garland pl., Des Plaines, was found dead in the attic of his home yesterday, the victim of a heart attack.

NOT A WARSHIP, BUT SHE DREW BLOOD IN PACIFIC

ADMIRALTY ISLANDS, March 8 [Delayed] — (AP). — She's not much to look at, the sea battered, old Green Hornet and she's not a warship, but she drew blood in the battle for Los Negros Island and the coast guardsmen who man her are proud of her record.

When the old tank landing ship [LST] first reached Los Negros Island, the Japanese had charged back to the inside edge of Momote air strip and the Americans were holding only a thin strip of the beach on Hyane harbor. The commanding officer asked Lt. R. R. Edge of New York City, skipper of the Green Hornet, to use his guns to hold the right flank of the line, doggedly defended by troopers of the dismounted 1st cavalry division.

The coast guardsmen turned to their guns and fired for one hour and a half. When they had finished, one of the sailors called to a soldier on the beach and asked:

"Hey, where's the front line?"

"Right at your feet," answered the soldier, as he drew a bead on another Japanese.

Officers included Lt. [j. g.] Ephraim Barning IV., Chicago. The crew included Seaman Levi J. Pettit of Lincoln, Ill.

NAZIS MUST GET OUT, IS HULL'S REPLY TO POPE

Washington, D. C., March 13 (AP).—The United States served notice tonight that if Rome becomes a battleground and treasured relics of Christianity there are destroyed the blame will be upon the Germans. Secretary of State Hull said:

"I think we all understand that the allied military authorities in Italy are dealing primarily with considerations of military necessity forced on them by the activities and attitude of the German military forces.

"It is my understanding that the allied military authorities are pursuing a policy of avoiding damage to such shrines and monuments to the extent humanly possible in modern warfare and in the circumstances which face them.

"If the Germans were not entrenched in these places or were they as interested as we are in protecting religious shrines and monuments and in preserving the lives of innocent civilians and refugees, no question would arise."

Hull's statement was in response to Pope Pius XII.'s appeal yesterday to allied and German leaders to spare Nazi-occupied Rome "so that they may be remembered in benediction and not malediction."

Discharged Tommies to Get 1,000,000 Free Suits

LONDON, March 13 (AP).—Civilian outfits for 1,000,000 men, complete from hats to shoes, have been ordered by the ministry of supply for free distribution to British soldiers when they are demobilized. The suits cost $21 each.

TWO CHILDREN DIE IN FIRE.

Bath, Me., March 13 [AP].—Two small brothers perished and a third was critically burned when fire leveled their home in a government housing project in this shipyard city tonight. The victims were Neil, 5, and Dale, 1, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Norman McLeod.

ITALY AND REDS WILL EXCHANGE AMBASSADORS

NAPLES, March 13 (AP).—Soviet Russia and Italy are exchanging ambassadors, the government of Marshal Badoglio announced tonight. This marked the first diplomatic recognition by any of the allied nations of the Badoglio regime.

The soviet action apparently was taken without consultation with other allied governments, which also have Badoglio's requests for exchanges of diplomats.

A British diplomatic official here yesterday professed lack of any knowledge of the step, altho Italian Communist leaders said they knew a week ago it was impending. On the other hand, American officials here were understood to have had advance knowledge of it, altho none would comment on the matter which, it was said, concerned only the Italian and soviet gocernments.

Broken Off by Mussolini.

Diplomatic relations between Italy and Russia were severed on June 22, 1941, when Mussolini declared war on the soviet nation.

Badoglio, in a message to Premier Stalin, said:

"At the moment in which our two countries decide to exchange official representatives, I particularly wish to underline to you, Marshal Stalin, that all the Italian people are fully conscious of the imposing and victorious soviet war effort. They are more than ever convinced of the necessity of restoring Italian and Russian relations on the basis of the constructive and friendly coöperation which was temporarily and tragically abandoned by the regime which today we are fighting together."

Exchange to Come Soon.

The bulletin announcing that the two nations are exchanging ambassadors said this move will "proceed without delay."

A Badoglio spokesman said that "the new Italy," during the nearly six months she has been classed as a co-belligerent with the allies, "has given conclusive proof of her good will, her loyalty, and her decided and firm intention of total coöperation with the united nations."

"Italy and Russia," he added, "realistically take stock of these circumstances and draw therefrom no less realistically the obvious measures which represent indeed the necessary prerequisite of a truly constructive policy."

Eugenio Reale, secretary of the Italian Communist party, said however, the action would have no effect on the party's opposition to Badoglio and its demand for the abdication of King Victor Emmanuel voiced yesterday in collaboration with the Socialist and Action parties at a mass meeting in Naples.

RECALLS AUGUST ACTION.

Russia's action in diplomatically recognizing the Badoglio regime was in line with a similar step taken last August when the soviet union gave fuller recognition to the French Committee of National Liberation than was given by either the United States or Britain.

GUNNER 'LOST' ON A FURLOUGH FOR 13 MONTHS

Atlantic City, N. J., March 13 (AP).—Staff Sgt. John B. Zealor, 22 year old tail gunner of Roxbury, Conn., can qualify as the envy of all service men. Army authorities lost him and he had a 13 months furlough.

The tail gunner gave this version of how it happened:

Zealor went into the air forces in January, 1942, and was shipped overseas six months later. As a result of 26 combat missions in the African theater, he received the distinguished flying cross, the silver star, and the air medal.

Returned to this country Jan. 10, 1943, he reported at Morrison field, West Palm Beach, Fla., and was given a furlough and told to await orders.

Last month, Zealor's mother, Mrs. Katherine Zealor of Bridgewater, Conn., received a communication from the war department saying it was not known where her son was. She telegraphed he was at home.

Shortly thereafter, Zealor was notified to report here, where he now is awaiting reassignment.

BRITISH CAPTURE ROAD TO AKYAB AFTER 2 YEARS

Way Open for Drive on Burmese Port.

NEW DELHI, India, March 13 (AP).—The inland part of the Buthedaung-Maungdaw road, necesary for an offensive on Akyab, Burma port 55 miles to the south, has been taken with the capture of Buthedaung after two years of fighting by British and Indian troops, it was announced today.

The Japanese showed signs of fighting back more effectively on the other sectors. In the Chin hills and in the Kabaw valley along the Assam frontier of India, they made advances on the British flank.

[A Japanese field dispatch broadcast by the Tokio radio last night said Japanese pincer units had forced a retreat by some 10,000 men of a British-Indian army near Tiddim, in the Chin hills sector 175 miles northwest of Mandalay.]

In the north Burma theater of the Hukawng valley the Chinese and American force of Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell was able to make a gain of only two miles in 24 hours. There the allies were five miles south of Chanma, or seven miles south of Walawbum, where Maj. Gen. Frank Merrill's American Marauders sprang their trap on the enemy last week.

Elgin Ensign Missing in Pacific, Navy Reports

Ensign Donald Kenneth Barker, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Barker, 167 Cherry st., Elgin, is "missing in a plane flight" somewhere in Southwest Pacific, the navy department reported yesterday. Barker was graduated from Elgin High school in 1936, attended Coe college, and was employed by the Borden company before he enlisted two years ago.

Parliaments of 2 Axis Nations Meet Same Day

AT ANZIO YOU'RE BETWEEN SHELL AND ITS TARGET

BY WILLIAM STRAND.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WITH THE 5TH ARMY FORCES ON THE ANZIO BEACHHEAD, March 12 [Delayed].—Anzio is probably the only place in the world where it is possible to look out from the shore and watch German shells striking near allied supply ships and then turn around, refocus the glasses, and watch the flash as well as the explosions of both German and allied artillery guns and shells. It is one place where the so-called rear headquarters are as much at the front, for most purposes, as the fighting troops.

* *

Here men have burrowed into the ground to find safety from enemy shells, a new race of cave dwellers overnight. They call this "digging in" and there's nothing similar on the southern Italian front.

Back where the lines changed constantly until the rains came, fox holes and slit trenches were regarded as adequate protection from the Nazi explosives. But not here where any foot of the road as well as any little plot of ground is subject to the full fury of enemy guns.

* *

The most ordinary shelter usually has a vestibule made from sandbags covered over with timbers, stones, and dirt. Americans unable to find sandbags fill burlap bags with dirt. Others bolster the interior of their shelters with dirt-filled gasoline drums, cardboard rations cases, and any other handy container.

Some have gone directly under ground, a fact which was discovered recently by a newcomer who was walking along a perfectly normal looking yard. When he happened to skirt a smoking pipe sticking out of the ground he was warned: "Be careful—you are walking on somebody's roof."

Inquiry disclosed this was a military police station which had been the object of numerous German barrages.

State Venereal Disease Cases Show an Increase

Springfield, Ill., March 13 (AP).—Syphilis and gonorrhea cases reported in Illinois total 10,692 so far this year, as against 9,711 for the 1943 period, the state health department said today.

NAVY RESCUES 19 FLYERS IN CRASH AT SEA

HAMILTON, Bermuda, March 13 (AP).—Rear Adm. Ingram C. Sowell, commander of the United States naval operating base in Bermuda, today announced the rescue by a destroyer of 19 officers and men of a navy patrol bomber who had been adrift 23 hours after a crash landing at sea.

Among the group was Raymond A. Sheets, 21, aviation ordnance man 2d class of Palouse, Wash., who suffered a broken back New Year's day when another patrol bomber crashed with the loss of nine members of the crew.

BRITISH AGENT MISREPRESENTS 4 TRIBUNE MEN

Magazine Article Lies About Policy.

Many readers of THE TRIBUNE have called attention to a condensation of the book, "Pioneers! O Pioneers!" in the current issue of the Reader's Digest. This book was written by Hilary St. George Saunders, a British author who made a lightning tour of America last summer, and the portion printed in the Reader's Digest contains a fabric of falsehood about THE TRIBUNE. Saunders also is the author of six British war books written previously for the British ministry of information.

The readers have asked what is behind the false charges Saunders has leveled at THE TRIBUNE, whether he is solely responsible for them, and how and why they were written. THE TRIBUNE believes the facts of the case, which have been carefully documented, present their own argument. They follow:

Four TRIBUNE men, two of them editorial writers and two department editors, received an invitation to dinner from William D. Clark, an official of the British information services' Chicago office at 360 N. Michigan av. They were asked to meet and to dine with Hilary St. George Saunders on the suggestion that he was a fellow craftsman who had an intimate acquaintance with the war. The dinner was held in the Tavern club and the table was set for six—Saunders, Clark, and the four TRIBUNE men, Leon Stolz, chief editorial writer; Joseph Ator, an editorial writer; A. M. Kennedy, Sunday editor, and Frederick Babcock, editor of THE TRIBUNE's book pages. No other newspaper men were invited.

Charges Controversy Avoided.

Saunders, in his account of this dinner, wrote that "all controversial topics" were avoided during the evening, altho he is the only one of the six men present who felt any such inhibitions.

"Only once," Saunders wrote, "did a hint of what was passing in their [the TRIBUNE men's] minds escape them and that was when mention was made of a restaurant where German food was obtainable. 'You would like it,' said one of them, 'if you can endure anything connected with Germany.' The words meant little, the tone in which they were spoken much. It was as tho he had said, 'You foolish Europeans, why do you believe in fighting so civilized, so remarkable a country as Germany.'"

Saunders meant that these TRIBUNE writers and THE TRIBUNE itself have a pro-German bias. Mr. Clark, the British host at the gathering, was as startled at Saunders' audacity as he was dismayed at his flagrant breach of hospitality.

"In my opinion," Mr. Clark wrote on March 4 to Mr. Stolz, "nothing occurred at that dinner which could possibly justify Mr. Saunders' version of it as summarised in the Reader's Digest. The suggestion that four CHICAGO TRIBUNE staff writers who were present had a pro-German bias is, in my judgment, so ridiculous that I cannot believe that Mr. Saunders meant what he appears to have written.

Not Regular Employe.

"I would point out that Mr. Saunders was never a regular employe of the ministry of information and has, as far as I know, no connection with it now."

The phrase that Saunders, who also writes detective fiction, used as the basis of his pro-German imputation is discussed in a letter written by Mr. Stolz to the editors of the Reader's Digest.

"Mr. Saunders promptly disclosed a visiting gourmet's curiosity about the restaurants of Chicago," Mr. Stolz wrote. "We mentioned a number of the superior ones, and I think it was I who spoke of the Red Star inn. I or somebody else very probably added 'if you like German cooking,' for that is the specialty for which this house is famous.

"That is all there was to it. Not since Serjeant Buzfuz proved Mr. Pickwick's faithlessness by the note requesting chops and tomata sauce has so much that is discreditable been inferred from so brief and so innocent a culinary observation.

Deductions Astonish Clark.

"Mr. Clark was as astonished as any of us at Mr. Saunders' remarkable deductions. . . . It is a pity that Mr. Saunders did not confront us with his conclusions at the time they flashed upon him.

"Mr. Saunders traduced us because he wanted to traduce our newspaper as his printed words make plain. He wished to discredit THE TRIBUNE in the eyes of its readers because it has insisted over and over again that America is not in this war to save the British, the Russian, or any other empire."

If Saunders thought any of the TRIBUNE men had Nazi leanings, he did not indicate it in his conduct at the dinner table. Toward the end of the dinner, he pulled out one of the confidential operations reports on the Dieppe raid from which he had worked up his book on commandos, discussed this unusual military document, and gave it to Mr. Stolz to read at his leisure. It was returned the next day, and its contents are still a military secret as far as THE TRIBUNE is concerned. The Tavern club dinner ended early because Saunders was escorted to the studios of radio station W-G-N, where he made a broadcast. THE TRIBUNE was kind to Hilary Saunders.

Halifax Sends Reply.

When Ambassador Halifax in Washington was notified of the falsehood that Saunders had written about THE TRIBUNE, he replied:

"I understand that Mr. Saunders wrote his book 'Pioneers! O Pioneers!' after his return to England as a private citizen. He had never been an official of the ministry of information nor was his book sponsored by any official agency. In these circumstances the British information services have no responsibility for it and any statements which it contains can only be taken as representing the views or recollections of the author himself. I might perhaps add that Mr. Saunders had nothing to do with organizing the dinner which he attended in Chicago and to which representatives of the Chicago press were invited to meet him."

Just before Ambassador Halifax' letter was received, THE TRIBUNE was informed by its Washington bureau that "Hilary St. George Saunders registered June 15, 1943, as a temporary employe of British information services. Still so registered."

In his trip across the American continent, Saunders flew with travel priorities, his way made easy by the British agents who met him and introduced him during his stop-overs. Mr. Stolz says that he does not believe Mr. Clark had any knowledge of Saunders' intention when he invited the Tribune men to meet him.

Indicates Planned Alibi.

Replying to Ambassador Halifax' letter, the president of the Tribune company wrote:

"I cannot accept the explanation of the British ministry of information.

"It sent Mr. Saunders over here as its representative. It obtained priorities for him on the air lines for his trip. The dinner which he lied about was given by Mr. William D. Clark, at that time the Chicago representative of the British ministry of information. That Mr. Saunders left the ministry before writing the book does not absolve the ministry for creating the situation which enabled him to write his lies. In fact it rather indicates a continuing conspiracy with the alibi planned in advance.

"If the ministry wishes to deny this and at the same time repudiate the lie, I will be glad to publish the fact."

'JIMMY' DOOLITTLE IS NOMINATED FOR LIEUTENANT GENERAL

Washington, D. C., March 13 (AP).—Maj. Gen. James H. [Jimmy] Doolittle, commander of the 8th air force in England, was nominated today by President Roosevelt to be a lieutenant general.

The 47 year old officer held the temporary rank of lieutenant colonel when he led the raid on Tokio April 18, 1942. After this attack he was promoted to brigadier general and was awarded the congressional medal of honor.

In July, 1942, he was sent to the European theater for the first time, attached to the 8th air force. A few months later he was named commander of the 12th air force in North Africa. He returned to England as 8th air force commander the first of this year.

Japs Main Foe of U. S., Not Nazis, Says Army Expert

BY EUGENE GRIFFIN.

America's No. 1 war is not the war with Germany, but the war with Japan, Col. Warren J. Clear, Japanese expert of the army general staff, told 1,000 persons attending a radar-radio industry conference in the Palmer House last night.

"The war in the Pacific is not a second war," he asserted. "Whether we are aware of it or not, it is our primary war. God knows, it was the primary war for the 3,000 killed by the Japs at Pearl Harbor, for thousands who were hacked to death on Bataan, and for many who still remain behind barbed wire as Japanese prisoners.

White Man's Fate at Stake.

"If Germany wins it will mean a disruption of free institutions for 15 or 20 years. If Japan wins it will mean a fundamental racial submergence for the white man, from which he will never emerge."

He said America must place 100 divisions on the mainland of Asia if it is to match the force Japan is planning to concentrate there.

"We have tons of evidence in documentary form," he said, "that Japan means to put the war on a racial basis the moment Germany loses. The propaganda Japan is spreading to this effect already is successful in that 350,000 members of subjugated races, other than white, are serving in the Japanese army in Manchuria, and another 500,000 in the Japanese army in Japan proper.

Standing Army Huge.

"Japan already has trained and armed 1,000,000 other subject troops. Japan has 4,000,000 Japanese under arms, besides 3,000,000 of military age not yet called up. Soon Japan will have a standing army equal to our planned army, and they are several thousand miles closer to the front than the United States.

"Japan can move her troops rapidly, not only by sea but by rail. She has rail lines from Saigon to Singapore.

"If Hitler had taken England and put 1,000,000 men on the island, it probably would have been impossible for us to retake England. Japan has millions of men many more thousands of miles away.

Spiritual Power Immense.

"Our people still do not recognize the immense spiritual power of the Japanese. They are a people of disciplined experience of more than a thousand years.

"We have got to realize that the army is Japan—the people are its flesh and blood. The Japanese is born and lives to serve emperor and country."

Col. Clear challenged Russian claims that the greatest defensive battle in history was waged at Stalingrad. He said the greatest defense battle was fought on Bataan, because at Stalingrad, the Russians were surrounded by Russia; the American troops at Bataan were surrounded only by jungle and Japs.

Fireman Falls 12 Feet Down Shaft; Badly Hurt

Raymond Doran, 34, of 1352 W. 77th st., a member of fire squad No. 5, was injured seriously last night when he fell 12 feet down an elevator shaft at 744 E. 63d st. while fighting a fire that originated in the D & G clothing shop. The fire loss was estimated at $2,000.

SUPREME COURT SPLIT RENEWED BY FRANKFURTER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 13.—Supreme Court Justices Black and Frankfurter today were again pitted against each other in the high court's verbal battle which has engaged the attention of the capital for several months.

The court was divided, 7 to 2, on a case involving confiscation by Oklahoma, a dry state, of 225 cases of liquor consigned to an army officers' club at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, from outside the state. The case was on appeal by Oklahoma officials.

The majority opinion, delivered by Justice Black, affirmed the lower court's issuance of an order returning the liquor to its consignees. If the officers who ordered and paid for the liquor violated any law, Black said, the army or some other United States agency should determine what course to pursue.

Says Ruling Aids Lawbreaking.

Justice Frankfurter, in a dissent concurred in by Justice Roberts, contended that the court order was in effect a means "for completing an outlawed transaction."

The majority decision upheld a federal District court's order for return of the confiscated liquor to Yellow Cab Transit company, which was transporting it from East St. Louis, Ill., to the Fort Sill officers' club. Members of the club had ordered the liquor thru the club secretary.

Justice Black's majority opinion declared that there was no Oklahoma law which prohibited or regulated interstate shipments of liquor thru the state to another state or to an area subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the United States.

Officers Not Represented.

The court said it would not rule on the question whether the transaction might violate the "assimilative" crimes statute, which would make Oklahoma law relating to liquor regulation the federal law at Fort Sill. It was explained this question could not properly be settled because neither the United States nor the army officers who received the whisky were represented in the case.

Justice Frankfurter argued however, that the transaction violated an Oklahoma law of 1917 prohibiting any person in the state from receiving liquor from a common carrier. Under the assimilative crimes statute, Frankfurter contended, Oklahoma law would apply to this case.

Concurring in Justice Black's opinion were Chief Justice Stone and Justices Jackson, Murphy, Douglas, Rutledge, and Reed.

Today's ruling was the only one in about 25 cases listed as ready for decision. Delays in announcement of some of the cases were interpreted to mean the justices may be having a hard time getting together on the principles involved.

SENATORS COOL ON MAJORITY TO RATIFY PACTS

Washington, D. C., March 13 (AP).—A proposal to amend the Constitution to permit senate ratification of treaties by a simple majority got a cool reception today from the senate judiciary committee.

Chairman McCarran [D., Nev.] told reporters a resolution introduced by Sen. Gillette [D., Ia.] was discussed at a closed session.

"The principles of the resolution were emphatically frowned upon by many members of the committee," McCarran said. "Apparently most of the committee favors retention of the present constitutional provision requiring that two-thirds of the senate ratify all treaties. We just let it rest in the committee."

4 Safe Conduct Vessels Land Supplies in Sweden

New York, March 13 (AP).—The American Swedish News exchange announced that four safe conduct vessels had arrived today in Goteborg, Sweden, carrying cargoes from South America and Mexico. Two freighters from Argentina had 10,000 tons of fodder cakes and grain, another carried 7,500 tons of Brazilian cotton and coffee. A tanker was from the Mexican gulf area. The exchange also said a Swedish freighter arrived at Pieraeus, Greece, with Swedish Red Cross foodstuffs.

FINNS' CAPITAL GRIM VISAGED IN PEACE CRISIS

Effects of War Show in Ruined Buildings.

BY EDWIN SHANKE.

HELSINGFORS, Finland, March 13 (AP). — Helsingfors looks war-like and depressing. The casual observer could hardly realize that Finland is passing thru a peace crisis.

The people are grim and determined. There is no gayety. Restaurant life, which is one of the few ways the Finns have to find relaxation and enjoyment, has been dampened by a law forbidding the serving of spirits after 8:30 p. m.

One sees few smiles as one passes down the bomb battered streets.

It is estimated that a third of the city's 300,000 population — mainly women, children, and the aged — had departed to the countryside. There was no sterner warning that this war is costing Finland heavily than a wagon load of new caskets moving down Mannerheim avenue.

A Few Germans on Streets.

You see a sprinkling of German soldiers on the downtown streets.

Except for the street activity, one could almost term Helsingfors a ghost city, similar to the American boom day towns later deserted.

A high percentage of windows in street after street have been boarded shut. Many of the boards hide ruined, burned out interiors. Behind others, business goes on as usual, but the shelves are emptier than they were when I was here a year ago.

In the absence of official information you find a mixed feeling of optimism and pessimism. A soldier commented:

"In 1940 we had a defeated army, but the sympathy of the world. Now we have an undefeated army, but no sympathy."

"One of Darkest Days."

The Swedish language newspaper Hufvudstadsbladet called today's anniversay [of the 1940 peace with soviet Russia] "one of the darkest days in our history, because we have learned the terms of Moscow peace. They hurt, and they are all against human rights and morals. We cannot say these new terms are mild and moderate, as the Anglo-Saxons and the press influenced by them declare. Perhaps continued contact with Moscow will lead to a stage opening wider perspectives."

A foreign office spokesman said the note Finland sent Russia mentioned specifically the proposed internment of German troops as a point which should be discussed with Moscow because it would be impractical.

Informed Finns say the Germans are taking a waiting attitude. There are no signs that they intend to withdraw voluntarily.

MOM'S GIFT FUR CLIMBS A TREE; POP HUNTS GUN

The Reising twins, Paul and Mary Francis, were 10 years old Sunday. Their parents, Otto and Mary Reising, 458 Johnson st., Gary, both teachers, gave them a fine party. Their four brothers and sisters and all their playmates attended.

Mrs. Reising hadn't thought about getting a present herself on the twins' anniversary, so she was surprised when she stepped into her bedroom and saw a beautiful fur on the bed.

"O, Otto, you remembered me, too," she cried as she rushed into the living room. "You got me a new fur neckpiece. It's so lovely."

Reising protested that he hadn't gotten her anything, but by then she was leading the children back to the room to see her gift, and he trailed along. As the group crowded into the room the "fur" came to life, yawned, ambled over the bed to the open window and up a tree limb.

"That," said Prof. Reising, "is a raccoon. Nice specimen, too.

"That," said Mrs. Reising, "is the kind of a fur I want. Maybe you better get a gun and go hunting."

JUGO-SLAV UNIT IN RUSSIA HOISTS TITO'S BANNER

Veterans Have No Use for King Peter.

BY EDDY GILMORE.

WITH JUGO-SLAV TROOPS SOMEWHERE IN RUSSIA, March 13 (AP).—A Jugo-Slav unit, equipped by the Red army, took allegiance here today to Marshal Tito, the Partisan leader, and prepared for battle under his banner.

It is a tough looking group, mostly seasoned fighters who have served in German labor battalions on the Russian front, the Italian army, the Hungarian army, or in the Jugo-Slav army.

Veteran Presents Banner.

Valemir Vlakhovic, a veteran of the Spanish civil war with a volunteer unit, who acted as the representative of Tito, presented a blue, white, and red banner with a red star in its center to the unit.

It was received by Lt. Col. Marko Mesic, a short, mustached, former artillery officer in a Croat regiment. After having been captured by the Germans, Mesic had been put into a Croat unit under the Nazis and sent to the Russian front on foot from Rumania in July, 1942.

U. S. Flag at Review.

In the stand for the review which followed were Gen. George S. Zhukov, Red army representative in the forming of all foreign units fighting with the Red army, Gen. Zigmund Berlin, commander of the Polish group in the soviet union, Gen. Emile Petit, head of the military mission from the French Committee of National Liberation, and a representative of the Czechs.

In addition to the Red banner, the Jugo-Slav, Czech, Polish, French, American, and British flags flew at the review.

Seize Adriatic Island.

LONDON, March 13 (AP).—Led by an American officer, a Jugo-Slav Partisan force has seized a foothold on Brac Island in the Adriatic entrance to the German held port of Split, the Jugo-Slav army of liberation said today.

The Cairo radio broadcast reports that the allies had sunk six German troop transports off Zara, up the coast from Split.

SEEK TO RUIN NAZI AIR FORCE IN ALLIED RAIDS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 13.—The primary object of continuous American daylight and British night bombing of Germany and occupied territories is to gain complete air mastery over the luftwaffe, observers pointed out today.

The frequent assertion by government and military spokesmen that the nonstop raids are in themselves a second front is not shared by air chiefs. They emphasize that the war cannot be won by bombing, but if the luftwaffe were knocked out it will simplify the problem of invading the continent. Therefore, it is stressed strategic bombing is a preliminary to, but not the actual second front.

It is because the luftwaffe is the immediate objective of air offensives from Britain that enemy airplane factories and assembling plants are priority targets. When these are paralyzed the Germans' inability to replace their losses will mark the beginning of the end of their defense, it was explained, and all targets in Germany and occupied territories will be at the mercy of the British and American air forces.

Canada Puts Rationing of Beer Up to Provinces

OTTAWA, Ont., March 13 (AP).—Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King announced today in commons that the federal government had decided to lift immediately the restrictions on the supply of beer released for sale to the provinces. Hereafter the distribution and sale of beer will be controled exclusively by the provinces themselves, he said.

Reds Report Heavy Raid on Capital of Estonia

LONDON, March 14 [Tuesday]—(AP).—Russian bombers in a recent attack on Tallinn, Estonian capital, set fires visible for 150 miles amid German troop trains, fuel dumps, a chemical factory, and also attacked ships in the harbor, a Moscow broadcast said today.

RUMANIA PEACE ENVOY REPORTED ON WAY TO CAIRO

LONDON, March 13 (AP).—Prince Barbu Stirbey was declared in a Daily Mail dispatch from Ankara today to have left Istanbul for Cairo in the role of Rumanian peace envoy to continue conversations with allied authorities.

The former Rumanian premier holds a special pass which will enable him to enter allied territory, the dispatch said, and added that this fact indicated that his mission was receiving serious attention of British authorities.

Stirbey is a bitter opponent of former King Carol, who once exiled him to Switzerland. The Daily Mail dispatch said he had talked with both Americans and British in Ankara.

ULSTER BORDER TO BE CLOSED, DUBLIN REPORTS

DUBLIN, March 13 (AP).—A high authority said tonight that the border between neutral Ireland and northern Ireland would be closed.

Even while this information indicated a drastic extension of the British-Irish travel ban, it was said that there would be no immediate formal sanctions against Ireland by the allies.

Hopes Held Unfounded.

The authority, who cannot be identified by name, indicated that any hopes Ireland might have that the decision on stopping traffic across the 200-mile border might be left up to the Belfast [Ulster] government were unfounded.

While travel across the Irish sea involves about 300,000 trips a year, suspension of cross-border communications would affect about 1,250,000 trips.

"Any interference with this free flow would create very considerable problems for business concerns and transport companies," a Dublin resident commented.

Hits Holiday Bookings.

"War conditions have created a tremendous development of tourist travel between the north and south. At the moment all Dublin hotels are completely booked by northern people planning to spend the St. Patrick's holiday week-end here."

There was some question as to whether the British will permit farm labor to come under the urgent work classification exempt from the ban. If not the ban will hit British farmers, it was pointed out, since the annual migratory exodus of Irish farm laborers has barely started.

"Ireland's Greatest Crisis."

The Dublin Evening Herald editorially described the situation as "probably the greatest crisis in Ireland's history."

One Dublin editor cautioned, however, "The last idea in the world we want to give is that we are taking off our coats. That wouldn't be true at all."

But he quickly added, "On the other hand we are so fond of peace in Ireland we will fight like hell to keep it."

Bares Move to Block Note.

OTTAWA, Ont., March 13 (AP).—Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King said today that Canada had rejected a suggestion from Prime Minister De Valera that she use her influence to have the United States withdraw notes requesting the closing of German and Japanese diplomatic and consular offices in Ireland.

The information, King said, was conveyed in informal discussions thru the Canadian high commissioner in Ireland, J. K. Kearney, and the Irish high commissioner here, J. J. Hearne. There was no written correspondence.

Australia Spurns Move.

CANBERRA, Australia, March 13 (AP).—Premier John Curtin said today that the Irish government had sought unsuccessfully to get Australia to use its influence to have the United States withdraw the recent note which asked Ireland to exclude German and Japanese diplomats.

Nazis Report Red Attack on Convoy Costs 7 Planes

New York, March 13 (AP).—A DNB [official German news agency] broadcast said tonight 25 soviet bombers attacked a German convoy today east of Vardoe, on the extreme northeastern tip of Norway, but seven were shot down and the Germans suffered no losses. The dispatch, recorded by the United States foreign broadcast intelligence service, was without confirmation from Moscow.

THIS LETTER CAME UNSOLICITED TO "THE BOWMAN MUSICAL MILKWAGON"

MAY I READ IT TO YOU?
Bud Bowman

"I DON'T USUALLY WRITE 'fan letters' but I feel that in this case you should know how much we enjoy the many Bowman products, which I use in my kitchen, and your fine radio program.

"MY SON, JOHN, age 12 years, was one of the victims of the polio epidemic, last summer, and after spending five months in the hospital, finally came home three weeks ago. He was so thin and run down that we wanted to make sure he got the best possible nourishment. Therefore, when he drinks three glasses of Bowman Milk at one meal, you can imagine how very pleased we are.

"JOHN was never especially fond of milk, so when he says, 'Oh, boy, this milk is good! Can I have some more?'—I just know I can't give him any better milk than Bowman's!

"SINCE JOHN IS NOT WELL ENOUGH YET to attend school, the radio provides him with entertainment and we both listen to 'The Bowman Musical Milkwagon' every morning, without fail. We like everyone on the program and have stopped trying to pick one certain favorite. You're all so swell that all of you are favorites with us! Thank you so much for your fine Bowman Dairy products and for a really good daytime radio show."

KEDZIE AV. BUS LINE IS URGED BY WAR WORKERS

Hearing on a petition by the city for establishment of a bus line on Kedzie av. between 66th and 115th sts., opened yesterday before Examiner Benjamin I. Morris of the Illinois commerce commission, and was continued to March 27.

A hundred persons crowded the commission's chambers as war workers and others testified the Chicago Surface Lines should open the route.

Among those testifying were Ald. Duffy [19th], ration board members, and Red Cross workers. Mrs. Gertrude Vonder, 10612 Sawyer av., asked the bus line on behalf of Mount Greenwood community residents.

CENTRAL UNITS FOR AID TO VETS URGED IN CITIES

A central information bureau for returned war veterans in every city of 100,000 or more population was advocated yesterday by Dr. Luther E. Woodward, New York, of the National Committee for Mental Hygiene, at the annual luncheon meeting of the Illinois Society for Mental Hygiene in the Wedgwood room, Marshall Field & Company.

Such a bureau would avoid "mushrooming of new organizations," Dr. Woodward said. "We must avoid the runaround for the veteran."

Community education is necessary for public understanding of psychiatric disabilities, said Dr. Woodward. He deplored a tendency among some employers to question as unfit a man rejected or discharged for a slight neurosis.

Ronald P. Boardman, elected president of the local society yesterday, said the state mental hygienists, cooperating with social agencies and the governor's committee on rehabilitation, would establish a central clearing house in Chicago for discharged soldiers with emotional and mental handicaps.

Other new officers include Mrs. George R. Dean, president of the Juvenile Protective association; Dr. Francis J. Gerty and Mrs. B. F. Langworthy, vice presidents; William B. Basile, secretary; E. A. Throckmorton, treasurer; Mrs. Martha Beck Von Peccoz, assistant treasurer; Mrs. Solomon B. Smith, finance chairman, and Dr. R. G. Novick, medical director.

U.S. MARAUDERS AND FORTS BOMB NORTH FRANCE

LONDON, March 13 (AP).—United States Flying Fortresses in small force smashed today at German forward positions in northern France—target of an estimated 15,000 sorties in the last three months. Again the Germans failed to send up a single fighter to defend this sector.

Two of the B-17s which crossed the channel under Thunderbolt escort failed to return, victims either of anti-aircraft fire or mechanical failures.

United States 9th air force Marauders struck the same area in the afternoon, escorted by R. A. F., dominion, and allied Spitfires. Mosquito bombers staged a third attack, losing one plane.

R. A. F. bombers crossed the southeast coast tonight for another blow at the continent.

BURGLARS GET $2,000 LOOT.

John R. Binder Jr., 3052 Newcastle av., told police yesterday that thieves stole a 300 pound safe containing $600, $700 worth of war bonds, jewelry valued at $700, and nine bottles of whisky in a week-end burglary of his home.

12 SOLDIERS DIE, 14 ARE INJURED IN AN EXPLOSION

Camp Robinson, Ark., March 13 (AP).—Twelve soldiers lost their lives and 14 others were injured today in an accidental explosion during a surface mine demonstration at the northern edge of this reservation. The camp public relations office announced 10 men were killed instantly and two died tonight at the base hospital.

The soldiers were engaged in the installation and removal of various types of mines. Cause of the explosion was not determined.

All the soldiers involved were members of the 652d tank destroyer battalion, attached to 4th army special troops.

Blast Kills 4, Hurts 28.

Camp Breckinridge, Ky., March 13 (AP).—Explosion of live artillery ammunition in the course of training activities was announced by the public relations office here tonight as the cause of an accident which claimed four lives and injured 28 soldiers here Friday afternoon. Among those suffering minor injuries were Pvt. George W. Wessels Jr., 22, Rockford, Ill.

BRIDGES GIVES HIS PLATFORM: RE-ELECT F.D.R.

Dallas, Tex., March 13 [Special].—Harry Bridges, whose deportation as a Communist has been sought for years, declared here today that the goals of his CIO union are "a fourth term for President Roosevelt and a congress that will represent the people." He contended it would be a "catastrophe" for a Republican congress to be elected this fall. The Australian born alien is head of the International Longshoremen and Warehousemen's union. He came here to confer with members of an affiliated union.

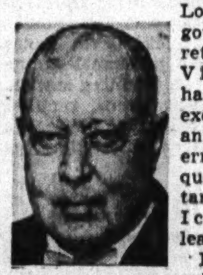
LOVETT RESIGNS VIRGIN ISLE POST ON ICKES ORDER

Branded by Congress as Unfit.

CHARLOTTE AMALIE, Virgin Islands, March 13 (AP).—Robert Morss Lovett, former government secretary for the Virgin Islands, has resigned as executive assistant to the governor at the request of Secretary of Interior Ickes, it was learned today.



Robert Morss Lovett.

His resignation culminated a long fight between the Roosevelt administration and congress over his retention in the islands.

Salary Suit Pending.

Lovett has pending a case in the Supreme court to recover salary withheld by act of congress since last November. In a statement to the press he said:

"It is obvious that, with appropriations pending for next year, my presence in the islands, in view of the personal hostility of members of congress, is a burden which the department of the interior cannot longer carry in view of its obligations to the people of the Virgin Islands whom I can best serve by leaving them."

Formerly a professor at the University of Chicago, Lovett had held the post of government secretary at a salary of $5,800 a year from July 25, 1939, until last fall. When congress held up his pay as secretary, Lovett was promoted by Ickes to executive assistant.

Held Unfit for Office.

Lovett was among a group of government employes accused by the Dies committee of having been affiliated with subversive organizations. A house appropriations subcommittee recommendation held him unfit to hold government office.

This recommendation was approved by the full committee.

"He sponsored and wrote various articles published by communist front organizations over a period dating back to 1922," the committee said.

Last July, the senate, after long opposition, concurred in the removal from the federal pay roll of Lovett and two other federal employes.

Aurora Ranger Missing After Battle in Italy

Mrs. Grayce Kraft, 177 S. Lincoln av., Aurora, was notified yesterday that her son, Pvt. Leroy Allen Kraft, 24, had been missing in action in Italy since Jan. 30. Pvt. Kraft is believed to have been one of a band of Rangers that fought against heavy odds near Cisterna. None returned. He was a graduate of East Aurora High school and had been in the army since July, 1940.

Missing Chicago Bomber Writes from Nazi Prison

Robert Owen, 523 N. Catherine av., La Grange, yesterday received a postal card from his brother, Lt. George Owen, 24, a bomber pilot who had been reported missing Jan. 11 in a raid over Germany, revealing that he is a prisoner of war in Germany. He is uninjured, he stated in the card. The raid in which Lt. Owen was shot down was his eighth over enemy territory. He attended De Paul university, and had been in the army four years, his brother said.

SENATE BEGINS DEBATE ON ARMY VOTING MEASURE

Connally Guiding the Bill After Lucas Quits.

BY PHILIP DODD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 13.—The right of states to control elections was defended today as the senate began debate on the compromise soldier vote bill, which gives the right of way to state ballots for service men and women but permits use of a short federal ballot under limited conditions.

Passage of the bill was urged by Sen. Connally [D., Tex.] and Sen. Austin [R., Vt.], members of the senate and house conference committee which drafted the measure after the two houses had disagreed on a method of service voting. The senate had approved a straight federal ballot and the house had voted for state ballots.

The senate will meet at 11 a. m. tomorrow, one hour earlier than customary, in an effort to speed a vote on the measure. Some senate leaders predicted, however, that the debate would continue another two days.

Urges Quick Action.

Sen. Connally, formally introducing the measure, said the bill should be acted on promptly so states will know what changes are necessary in their election machinery to provide state absentee ballots to voters overseas in time to be counted, and to validate the federal ballot when necessary.

"States' rights carry with them state responsibilities," Connally asserted. "The people should see that their state leaders carry out their responsibility to get ballots to their men and women in uniform."

Despite Sen. Connally's warning that if the compromise bill fails there probably "won't be any soldier vote bill passed by this congress," Sen. Lucas [D., Ill.] and Sen. Green [D., R. I.], administration stalwarts, continued to press for a straight federal ballot.

Sen. Austin defended the federal ballot provisions in the bill which stipulate that to receive the federal ballot, a voter serving overseas must be from a state in which the governor has certified that the federal ballot is authorized by law.

Guffey Calls It 'Steal.'

Sen. Barkley [D., Ky.] and Sen. Hatch [D., N. M.], whose states make no provision for absentee voting, objected to the assumption in the bill that a state providing no state absentee ballot could validate a federal ballot.

Sen. Guffey [D., Pa.] attacked the bill as a "vote steal," contending that only a universal federal ballot would give all service men and women an opportunity to vote. Sen. Green read a letter from Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia of New York in which LaGuardia said that it was "impractical and impossible" to send state ballots to all voters in uniform.

"Opponents of the compromise bill are trying to keep the political issue alive," Sen. Nye [D., N. D.] said in an interview tonight. "The best way to stop this controversy and give the boys a chance to vote is to pass this bill as soon as possible. A straight federal ballot would be unconstitutional, but thank the Lord, there are some men in congress who still observe the Constitution."

22 RESPONDENTS IN GRAFT CASES BOUND TO TRIAL

Lansing, Mich., March 13 [Special].—Trial in Ingham county Circuit court here, probably at the May term, of 22 respondents charged with legislative graft conspiracy by Judge Leland W. Carr's one man grand jury was assured today when the alleged conspirators stood mute on arraignment and not guilty pleas were entered for them.

Each of the group, free under $2,500 bond, had been bound over to Circuit court a week ago by Judge Carr after a preliminary hearing marked by sensational testimony of bribery during the 1939 legislative session.

Judge Carr and his Ingham county colleague, Judge Charles H. Hayden, who will preside at the trial unless a visiting jurists's services are obtained, received the pleas jointly as the March court term opened. Each of the defendants appeared personally, standing before the judges and replying "stand mute" in answer to formal questions regarding his plea.

NAZI PRISONER OF WAR FOUND HANGED IN CAMP

Phoenix, Ariz., March 13 [Special].—Military authorities tonight were investigating the hanging of a Nazi war prisoner at the Papago park war internment camp near here and the attempted escape of two prisoners from the camp.

Altho both events apparently took place last night and were announced simultaneously today, Col. A. H. Means, commandant, would not say whether there was any connection between them. Eleven prisoners have escaped from the camp in the last two months, but all were captured.

Col. Means said the hanging victim was Werner Dreschler who arrived here yesterday from another camp. He was found hanged in an empty building situated within the prisoner of war enclosure, the colonel related but would not disclose further details.

Four German prisoners have committed suicide at the camp at Concordia, Kas., but at least one of them was reported to have been a self imposed execution after a kangaroo court of German officers pronounced a death sentence.

WIFE ASKS $900 A MONTH; COURT GRANTS HER $200

Mrs. Katherine K. Smythe, 34, of the Ambassador West hotel, must live on $700 a month less than she says she needs. She is seeking separate maintenance from her husband, Paul H., 42, a juke box inventor. In previous court hearings, she listed his wealth at $300,000, and petitioned for $900 a month support to live in the manner to which she has been accustomed. Yesterday Judge John J. Lupe of the Superior court, after reading a report from Master in Chancery Dennis E. Sullivan that Smythe's fortune is $80,000, fixed Mrs. Smythe's temporary maintenance at $200 a month.

NEW SYSTEM URGED IN SETTING FARES OF GROUPS IN TAXICABS

Adoption of the so-called Philadelphia plan to equalize the costs of group riding in taxicabs was urged yesterday at a meeting of city, taxicab, army, navy, and office of defense transportation officials.

R. F. Kelker Jr., engineer for the city council committee on local transportation, who advocated the plan, cited an example. Three persons board a cab. The first pays full fare to his destination. The meter is reset, and the second passenger pays full fare from the destination of the first passenger to his own. The meter is again reset, and the third passenger pays full fare from the destination of the second passenger to his own.

Michael Sokol, president of the Checker Taxi company, and Benjamin Samuels, vice president of the Yellow Cab company, opposed the plan as unfair to some riders.

CICERO OFFICIAL SEES PAYLESS SCHOOL PAY DAY

Cicero teachers face a payless pay day March 24, it was asserted last night at a meeting of the Cicero Educational council at which the present administration of school district 99, comprising the Cicero elementary schools, was assailed for financial mismanagement.

Louis H. Christensen, a recently elected school board member who is in sympathy with the council, composed largely of parent-teacher association members, disclosed the possibility. He told those at the meeting, in the auditorium of the school administration building at 24th st. and 51st av., in Cicero, that the board's cash working fund of $440,000 is exhausted, and that anticipated taxes for the current year of $400,000 would be inadequate to replenish the fund.

SPONSORED AIR SHOWS TO LOSE NAVAL SUPPORT

The navy department, thru an order issued yesterday in Washington, D. C., placed a ban on broadcasts under commercial sponsorship that rely exclusively on naval personnel. The ruling as phrased will apply at the end of present contracts or after the exercise of existing options.

Network series that apparently would be affected are the Friday night "Meet Your Navy" series on the Blue network and the Sunday morning WBBM-CBS Great Lakes choir, both using personnel of the Great Lakes Naval Training station.

Nonsponsored programs, such as W-G-N's "On Target" and WMAQ's "Sky High," are not affected by the ruling.

WOLL TO DROP INDICTMENT IN M'INTOSH CASE

United States Atty. Woll yesterday announced that he would appear before Judge William J. Campbell today and request removal from the docket of an indictment charging Pvt. Charles L. F. McIntosh with violation of the national stolen property act. Woll said he was acting at the request of the federal attorney general and of the army. The latter had heard charges of check frauds at McIntosh's recent court-martial. The charges were caused by McIntosh's travels with Mrs. Alice de Tarnowsky, Barrington heiress, now his wife. McIntosh is in the rehabilitation center at Fort Sheridan.

KNOCK AT DOOR SOLVES KNOTTY PROBLEM OF COP

Detective Edward Kasiak of the Brighton Park police was sitting in his apartment at 4929 S. Karlov av. yesterday, wondering how he could locate the fellow who stole a gray suit from the home of Milton Prusak at 5016 S. Kedvale av., when a young fellow wearing a gray suit knocked at the back door and asked if Kasiak could tell him where a family named Jones lived.

Kasiak told the fellow to wait a moment while he asked his wife. He got his gun and ordered the young man to step inside. The man, Lawrence Shads, 17, of the Center hotel at 1426 Madison st., was carrying a .25 automatic pistol and admitted the gray suit had been stolen from Prusak's apartment.

In Shad's room police found two pistols, a camera, jewelry, and clothing valued at $400. Police said Shads admitted stealing the articles in seven burglaries, most of them on the south side. He robbed Prusak's apartment Sunday night.

A STATEMENT

Marshal Stalin, in his controlled press, calls me a gangster journalist and a friend of Hitler's.

These accusations have their amusing side, coming from a gentleman who is the head of the Communist press — the only gangster press I know.

And who was the closest and dearest friend Hitler had until that traitorous ally betrayed him and threw him over and refused any longer to divide the spoils of war with his eager partner?

Does not the Communist press continually and consistently advocate the Communist principles of defiance of law and order, of the violent overthrow of established government, of the extinction in blood and brutality of the well-to-do classes?

Would you not call that a gangster press, THE gangster press,—and is it not the only press advocating violence and lawlessness and robbery and murder which is permitted to publish?

Was not the estimable Marshal Stalin, until most recently Hitler's best beloved friend and buddy, his accomplice in the invasion of the Baltic republics, his pal in the rape of Finland, his partner in the plunder of Poland?

Is not the genial Marshal — although assuming an air of superior purity and probity since his break with pal Hitler, still trying to steal Finland and absorb the Baltic republics, and reravish Poland?

A leopard does not change his spots, although deserted by his former hunting companion and dearest friend.

As for me, I never saw Hitler but once in my life, and that once was to interview him for my papers.

The interview was published widely in the English press and in the American press, and is available to anyone who wants to read it.

There is nothing pro-Hitler in it; on the contrary, it is critical.

Hitler on his part has been equally critical of me.

He said in a speech—as recorded in Houghton, Mifflin Company's book "Der Fuehrer"—

"A gigantic organization of press lies was built up, and again it was a Jewish concern, the Hearst press, which laid down the tone of the agitation against Germany."

All of which utterance of Hitler's is as childishly false and foolish as Marshal Stalin's untruthful statements.

As a matter of plain and simple fact and procedure, I make a habit of interviewing the conspicuous men in all the countries I visit.

I do this for the benefit of my readers, who are apparently interested in the thoughts and statements of such notabilities.

To be sure, I have never interviewed Marshal Stalin, but, then I have never been in Russia.

I am reserving the Stalin interview for my last interview.

And from what I know of the amiable Marshal, I imagine it would be.

G. O. P. CAMPAIGN IN COOK COUNTY PUT UNDER WAY

Crowds Hail Candidates at Ward Meetings.

BY GEORGE TAGGE.

Regular Republican state candidates, fresh from seven weeks of downstate touring, launched their Cook county campaign last night with predictions of victory for the national, state, and county tickets. It is 16 years since the G. O. P. rang up a Cook county triumph.

Gov. Green, Richard J. Lyons, candidate for United States senator, and five other slate candidates were cheered at overflow meetings in the 27th, 29th, and 33d wards. They said these could no longer be considered Democratic strongholds.

Conceding only one real primary contest on the state or county tickets, the regulars are concentrating on that one, the fight of Arnold P. Benson for the secretary of state nomination. His opponent is State Treasurer William G. Stratton. Their billboards are about the only ones seen.

Benson Gets Good Reception.

Aside from the Benson-Stratton battle, the regular organization strength is being turned to the upbuilding of Republicanism generally.

Benson got a good reception at Committeeman William John Granata's 27th ward meeting at 15 N. Ashland blvd., but it was noted that his identity did not "click" with the crowd until the office he seeks was mentioned.

"The number of people here," said Benson, "is evidence of the same kind of overwhelming sentiment we found downstate.

"You are going to join with others to reclaim government from men who were never elected to anything, but who are trying to regiment you in every detail of your daily lives.

"Let's talk every day facts. Take the income tax forms. In Cleveland five reporters were sent out with the same sets of figures to have returns made out for them by government agents. The results ranged all the way from a refund of $13.76 to a demand for payment of $246.10."

"Last Vestige of New Dealism."

His own victory in November, Benson said, will wipe out the "last vestige of New Dealism is Illinois." The secretary of state's office is the only state-wide job still held by the Democrats. One of his first acts will be to simplify every form and questionnaire of the office, Benson promised.

Applause was won by two other downstate candidates, Conrad F. Becker for state treasurer and Earle B. Searcy for Supreme court clerk, with their remarks that they appreciate the long toil of precinct workers necessary to gain party triumph.

Greatest enthusiasm was shown for candidates who are veterans of the Chicago electioneerings—Gov. Green, Lyons, Atty. Gen. Barrett, and State Auditor Lueder.

Green Predicts Victory.

"I do not hesitate to open the Cook county campaign with this definite prophecy: "1944 will be a Republican year in Cook county and in all America," Gov. Green said.

Metropolitan Chicago has an additional reason to go Republican, he said. Besides wanting new leadership to win the war and reëstablish the American way of life, Cook county citizens want to improve their local government "which for more than a decade has disgraced this community," he maintained. He lauded John T. Dempsey, G. O. P. candidate for state's attorney.

Chicago voters may hold the fate of the nation in the battle to restore American freedom, Atty. Gen. Barrett said.

"Battle to Be Fought Here."

"The battle will largely be fought and won in Chicago," he said.

Illinois, New York, Pennsylvania, and California hold the hope of America, he contended in an analysis of election records. "Altho all of these states should help elect a Republican President, the only way to make sure that we get one is to place Illinois' 28 electoral votes in the G. O. P. column," he said.

"Republican victory is in the air everywhere, but we must not be overconfident," Barrett said. "Too much depends upon the result of the coming election to let carelessness intervene. Party victory is not at stake alone. The future of America will be determined."

KELLY REFUSES TO TAKE SIDES IN PARK FIGHT

Mayor Kelly, who returned from Florida Sunday, yesterday reiterated his hands off policy in the fight between Robert J. Dunham, president of the Chicago Park district, and the Back of the Yards Neighborhood council over the council's use of Davis Square park.

"I will not step into this argument," said Mayor Kelly in reply to a direct question. He was asked if he contemplated removing Dunham, and his answer was "No."

He was asked if he had the power to remove Dunham.

"I haven't the power," the mayor said. "That is a matter for the state legislature or the courts."

PART OF WELSH MINERS RETURN TO THEIR JOBS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

CARDIFF, Wales, March 13.—The situation in the South Wales coal fields was obscure tonight. Many miners returned to work today, ending at least temporarily their part in the unauthorized walkout which began a week ago. But figures on the numbers returning or remaining out are virtually impossible to determine.

There seems a good chance that union officials, who have been opposed to the walkout since it began, are being purposely vague in giving the exact totals on the reasonable theory that if the numbers returning happen to be less than 50 per cent, such information might encourage those who returned to walk out again.

[An Associated Press dispatch from London said only 30,000 miners returned to work yesterday, leaving 70,000 still idle.]

J. W. Davies, regional coal officer for Wales, said this afternoon that altho domestic fuel consumption in South Wales has been drastically reduced because of the walkout, no factories yet have been forced to close down.

DEWEY, BRICKER, AND MacARTHUR LEAD WARD POLL

Gov. Dewey, Gen. MacArthur, and Gov. Bricker maintained their standing in that order in the second week of the poll of registered Republican voters conducted by the G. O. P. 5th ward committeeman, John Leonard East, he said yesterday. Bricker took second place, however, in the total number of votes for first, second, and third choices.

Combined results for the canvass up to date are as follows:

	1st choice.	2d choice.	3d choice.
Bricker	363	516	349
Dewey	1,697	624	235
MacArthur	519	409	259
MacNider	15	52	62
Stassen	59	168	212
Taft	105	393	480
Warren	5	47	89
Willkie	272	131	121

These names are printed on East's ballots. Others written in by the voters include Gov. Green, Gov. Saltonstall, Herbert Hoover, Sen. Burton, Sen. Nye, Sen. Vandenburg, and Gov. Griswold.

East said that districts as far away as New York have inquired about the operation of the poll with a view to making similar samplings of opinion of G. O. P. voters.

MRS. F. D. R. GETS STRONGER WITH AGE, SHE SAYS

PARAMARIBO, Surinam, March 13 (AP).—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt arrived today at an air field in Surinam on her tour of United States bases in the Caribbean area. The President's wife was greeted by Acting Gov. J. C. Brons, Col. Clarence Culp, commander of United States troops in Surinam, and other military and civil officials.

Mrs. Roosevelt was accompanied by Lt. John Bracken, U. S. N. R., representing the Caribbean sea frontier command, and by Miss Malvina Thompson, her secretary. She expressed regret that in passing thru Miami, Fla., she had just missed Princess Juliana of the Netherlands, who was returning from a visit to the Caribbean area.

Asked by a reporter whether she was not tired from the strenuous tour, she replied: "No, I believe you get stronger as you get older."

Sect Member Takes Term Rather Than Enter Army

Eugene R. Rybiski, 29, of 5240 Byron st., a member of the Jehovah's Witnesses sect, yesterday spurned an opportunity to escape a three year prison sentence if he agreed to join the army. The offer of probation was made by Federal Judge John P. Barnes after Rybiski had been convicted by a jury of having failed to report for induction.

Melrose Park to Annex Small Farms Community

The Small Farms community, a tract of land in Leyden township bounded by North av., Bloomingdale rd., 17th av. and 20th av., will become a part of Melrose Park today. The Melrose Park village council last night voted to annex the territory, in response to a petition filed by a majority of the 90 families now living there.

Mexican Strike Paralyzes Service to 80,000 Phones

MEXICO CITY, March 13 (AP).—A strike of 1,751 employes of the Mexican Telephone company today paralyzed service to 80,000 telephones in Mexico. The other two companies in Mexico continued to give service. The employes demanded a flat 35 per cent raise. The company offered 15 per cent, minus any increases already given under a government decree raising wages on a sliding scale. The union representing the workers said this increase would average about 3½ per cent.

COURTNEY RIPS GREEN REGIME IN DOWNSTATE BOW

BY THOMAS MORROW.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Harrisburg, Ill., March 13.—State's Atty. Courtney, Democratic candidate for governor, told 300 persons in city hall tonight that the free enterprise system, which he termed the backbone of democracy, must be kept alive in any post-war plan for Illinois. In the speech, which opened his downstate campaign, Courtney branded the Gov. Green regime a "do nothing" administration designed to gather patronage for a political party.

Two hundred vacant seats confronted the candidates as they gave Illinois its first look at the Democratic state ticket. Republican candidates, headed by Gov. Green, drew an overflow crowd of 500 six weeks ago and turned others away from the courthouse.

Several Candidates Absent.

Absenteeism among the candidates detracted from the campaign opening. Casimir Griglik, Supreme court candidate, stayed in Chicago to attend the funeral of Ald. Pieczynski; Sveinbjorn Johnson, running for attorney general, was in Champaign doing his chores as professor of law, he said. Edward J. Barrett, marine corporal in the Pacific and candidate for secretary of state, was not present, and as the meeting opened there were no bulletins on the missing candidate for auditor, William Vicars of Pontiac.

Courtney made one reference to President Roosevelt, then forgot the national leader of the party. He told his listeners that "we do hear criticism of the activities of our national administration, and open minded, fair criticism of public action should be encouraged and well received."

"Unbossed," Says Courtney.

His speech indicated his campaign will follow the political machine busting line that has served him well in Cook county, Courtney asserted he had no political boss and will have none. He referred to his friendship for the late Gov. Horner and declared that public interest, not party politics, will guide him if he becomes governor.

Saline county, in which Courtney opened his campaign, has been on the line politically for the last three elections. Sen. Brooks won the county by 98 votes in 1940, while Roosevelt was returned victor by 105 and county offices were split.

In 1942 Brooks increased his margin of victory to 1,476 votes, but the Democrats won the county judgeship. The trend in the county to the present has indicated a larger Republican victory in November.

Pays Tribute to Lucas.

Courtney paid tribute to Sen. Lucas, now in Washington with plans to join the campaign tour later, and Mrs. Paul Douglas, candidate for representative at large. He said these two will discuss national issues.

Mrs. Douglas said that this time the country must win the peace as well as the war and outlaw aggression in fact as well as verbally. E. C. [Ted] Hunter, candidate for lieutenant governor, said the state should make the winning of the war transcend all political matters.

PUT UNDER SUPERVISION.

Walter Hebda, 20, of 13041 Houston av., former state asylum patient, was ordered held under court supervision until May 13 by Judge John R. McSweeney yesterday when he was arraigned on a charge of receiving a piano accordion stolen from the Gospel Mission church at 13312 Baltimore av.

When Strong Men Cry

. . . The Red Cross Answers

If you could hear the cries of pain-ridden men on the battlefield you would stop at nothing to bring them aid. If you could hear the cries of thirst and hunger of an American boy behind the wire wall of a prison camp, you would bring him food and water at any cost. And if you could hear the cries of homesickness of boys in desert outposts, in jungle tents, in ships at sea, in hospitals, you would strive to solace them. What you would do, the Red Cross does. It is the link between us and our boys.

Red Cross men and women by the thousands are in the field with our troops on every battlefront. Red Cross furnishes life-saving blood plasma for our soldiers, sailors and marines. Red Cross brings entertainment to the wounded and homesick. Red Cross gives personal aid to all of our service men and to their families. Red Cross serves humanity without reservation. The Red Cross is asking for our help now.

We in Chicago are asked to contribute $12,000,000 to help the Red Cross. As good Americans, let's give as unstintingly as the Red Cross gives its services. When you give to the Red Cross you are giving to your own sons, brothers, friends and husband. Do your share.

CHARGES SMEAR DIRECTORS WITH CORRUPTING FBI

Hoffman Bares Its Use to Probe Free Speech.

the dictionary, which defines the word as "conduct tending to treason," the article continued.

The editorial said the FBI could readily have verified the patriotism of the boy "without resort to threats and insinuating implications" and declared the war is no excuse "to stifle free expression of opinion."

Hoover Answers Editorial.

FBI Director Hoover in a letter sent yesterday to the Hartford paper, Hoffman disclosed, denied the interrogation was an attempt to stifle free expression, and contended the FBI had "no choice but to make a preliminary inquiry" after getting a report from a Hartford resident. The informant, Hoover said, reported an "unwholesome condition in Hartford," apparently "from a Nazi inspired source." The FBI inquiry, Hoover's letter continued, showed the complaint was without foundation.

Hoffman, in analyzing the boy's charge against the President, told the house that Mr. Roosevelt did make an "unqualified promise" that our boys would not be sent abroad to fight and that the promise was not kept. Whether the promise could have been kept is not the question, Hoffman said.

Quotes President's Speech.

The congressman then quoted from the official record of President Roosevelt's speech in Boston on Oct. 30, 1940, in which the President said:

"And while I am talking to you mothers and fathers, I give you one more assurance. I have said this before, but I shall say it again and again and again; your boys are not going to be sent into any foreign wars."

Declaring that the question of whether we could have stayed out of the war is beside the point in this latest FBI incident, Hoffman said: "My sole purpose is to show that the school boy who said that the President was untruthful had, under our form of government, the right to make that statement in view of political events and statements.

Asks Agent's Repudiation.

"Yet here at home, a 17 year old school boy, who will fight for the right of free speech, has his right to speak freely challenged; is charged with sedition and with traitorous conduct by a government agency, because he ventured to exercise the right of free speech to call attention to the President's failure to keep a promise."

With so many New Deal agencies currently smearing administration critics, Hoffman asserted, the FBI should promptly repudiate the action of its agent in this case if it hopes to keep its reputation for fairness and justice.

"There is no room here in America for a Gestapo," the congressman continued. "Nothing will so disrupt the people's support of the war as acts of attempted intimidation and coercion on the part of those in authority here in Washington."

Demands Winchell Probe.

Hoffman demanded that the FBI cease intimidating "honest, law-abiding, patriotic citizens" and devote its time and taxpayers' money to its constitutional duties to the end of hastening a military victory.

In this connection, Hoffman urged the FBI to investigate the writings and radio utterances of Walter Winchell and other "smear artists," whom he charged with "creating disunity."

"Thruout this country," Hoffman said, "hundreds of thousands of persons are seeking seriously for the reason why Winchell, Drew Pearson, whom the President described as a chronic liar, and others are permitted unlimited freedom in creating disunity, while honest, respectable citizens out in the country are, upon complaint, immediately investigated by agents of the FBI."

Favors FBI Independence.

Observing that Winchell "demands the prosecution for sedition of all those who disagree with his foul insinuations" and at the same time claims to be a "buddy" of Director Hoover, Hoffman called upon Hoover to disavow publicly any connection with Winchell. Hoover, the congressman said, has never denied that the FBI permits Winchell access to confidential information.

"If the FBI desires to retain the confidence of the people, it must divorce itself not only from the mouthpiece of the Jergens company, Walter Winchell, but from New Deal political control," Hoffman told the house. "If it does not, it will soon find itself, so far as the public is concerned, in the same category as other government agencies."

It is also time, Hoffman said, for the navy to "kick out of service and deprive of his status as a reserve officer the notorious purveyor of false information which can be used by our enemies to the detriment of our war effort." Winchell has an inactive status on the naval reserve rolls.

WICKARD YIELDS TO REA INQUIRY GROUP'S THREAT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 13.—Announcing that President Roosevelt now wishes him to "speak without reservation," Secretary of Agriculture Wickard today told a senate investigating committee of his part in administration attempts to oust Harry Slattery as head of the rural electrification administration.

Wickard had previously refused to testify on this phase of the inquiry, using the "not in the public interest" excuse. When the committee threatened Jonathan Daniels, White House aid, with a contempt citation for a similar defiance the President ordered all concerned to answer committee questions.

Slattery has told the committee the efforts to get rid of him were based upon his refusal to permit political use of the REA. The agency, according to witnesses, can be used, thru its loans to farmers for electricity projects, to influence some 7 million farm votes.

TRAFFIC GROUPS MOVE TO CURB POST-WAR SPEED

Representatives of traffic associations who met yesterday at National Safety Council headquarters, 20 N. Wacker dr., discussed means of blocking the nation's anticipated post-war traffic speed spree when arbitrary speed limits are lifted.

Joseph Kluchesky, police chief of Milwaukee, who was named chairman of a joint committee on post-war speed control, said post-war driving speed must conform to the deteriorated condition of automobiles, tires, and roads.

The committee will study and compare traffic control measures before agreeing on definite post-war plans, Kluchesky said. Results of the study will be used as the basis for recommendations to all major traffic associations in the country.

RADIO SMEARERS FACE U. S. PROBE, DIES ANNOUNCES

Stations Are Urged to Curb Liars.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 13.—Radio commentators, notably Walter Winchell, who specializes in "vicious and un-American propaganda," may be called to account for their falsities by the committee on un-American activities, Rep. Dies, [D., Tex.], committee chairman, announced today.

Dies said the question whether his committee shall undertake an investigation of broadcasting is up to the radio industry itself.

"Character assassination and un-American propaganda on the air waves has progressed to the point where it lies clearly within the scope of our committee's inquiry," he declared.

Radio Urged to Act.

"If the broadcasting companies are wise, they will take the initiative themselves in stopping the use of their facilities by smear artists. A first step would be affording opportunity to maligned persons to answer before the same audience."

Dies said his committee is considering subpenaing scripts of certain commentators over a period of several years. These would be analyzed by investigators to establish the truth or falsity of statements.

"Fully 60 per cent of the statements of some commentators can be shown to be utterly false," Dies remarked.

Dies Referring to Winchell.

Dies is known to be referring to Winchell, who broadcasts weekly over the Blue network. This chain was sold for 8 million dollars last October to Edward J. Noble, former undersecretary of commerce, and a protege of Harry Hopkins, White House adviser. The Time-Life-Fortune magazine axis later bought 12½ per cent of the stock of the network from Noble.

Two years ago the New Yorker magazine made a survey of Winchell's daily column in the New York Mirror, which is widely syndicated. A corps of investigators was employed to check on the truth of several hundred items printed by the Broadway gossiper over a one month period. The results:

Completely inaccurate items, 41.2 per cent; partly inaccurate, 18.3 per cent; accurate, 40.5 per cent.

Adept Dodges Described.

In spreading their un-American propaganda on the air, broadcasters such as Winchell "have become adept in taking advantage of the loopholes in the libel laws," Dies said.

"The technique of smear by innuendo is being used more and more by these commentators to get around the law," he commented. "It is not so much what is said as the way it is said that does the damage.

"There is evidence of collusion between some broadcasting firms and commercial sponsors to mold public opinion by propaganda. The motives and reasons for dissemination of falsehoods should be inquired into."

Winchell, in Miami, Fla., said he would be happy to tell congressmen "to their faces" things he said he had not been allowed to tell on the radio or in his column.

H. V. Kaltenborn, another radio commentator, said he agreed with Dies that the subjects of "unfair" personal attacks should be given a chance to reply.

AS HEROES OF NEW WAR WIN MEDALS, PALS THINK OF KELLY

Front line stories about war heroes decorated with many medals prompted World War I. veterans yesterday to remember John J. Kelly, marine private, whom Maj. Gen. John A. Lejeune, marine corps commandant in that war, called "the most distinguished private soldier from Illinois."

John J. Kelly.

Kelly, a Chicagoan, is now a retired salesman living in South Chicago. Now 45, he said he wished he could fight in this war, but deprecated his part in the last one.

Clippings, however, showed Kelly was one of the two men who won congressional medals of honor from both the navy and the army. During the war he received four citations, the French medaille militaire, croix de guerre with star and palm, the Montenegrin medal for bravery, and the Italian croce de guerra. He also wore a regimental fourragere, the victory medal with clasps and citations, and the marine good conduct medal. He captured machine gun nests at Chateau Thierry, Belleau Wood, and Blanc Mont Ridge.

SENATE SETS UP GROUP TO STUDY SOURCES OF OIL

Washington, D. C., March 13 (AP).—The senate today established an 11 member committee with a $25,000 fund to investigate the nation's petroleum sources and the production and consumption of oil in relation to national security.

Vice President Wallace was directed to appoint three members of the group, with two members each being selected by the foreign relations, insterstate commerce, commerce, and public lands committee.

The committee will investigate the plans of Petroleum Administrator Ickes to build a 1,259 mile pipeline from the Persian gulf area to the Mediterranean as well as the whole post-war oil policy.

Reports that Chairman Connally [D., Tex.] of the foreign relations committee would be included in the investigating committee gave rise to belief that he would head the group. Other members already decided on are Senators Maloney [D., Conn.], O'Mahoney [D., Wyo.], Johnson [D., Colo.], Hatch [D., N. M.], Brewster [R., Me.], Moore [R., Okla.], and Vandenberg [R., Mich.].

Women at work

I think that all of us are aware of the part that the women are playing in industry in these busy days. When the figures are revealed, most of us are quite astounded to learn that there are 6,300,000 more women employed this year than three years ago—in 1940. In 1940 there were 10,800,000 working women, and in 1943 that figure jumped to 17,100,000. One might almost be pardoned for paraphrasing an old saw, "It's the woman who pays" to—"It's the woman who gets paid."

Of course, this big increase in the employment of women is largely the result of about 10,000,000 men changing their civilian clothes to army and navy uniforms. And these women are doing a swell job, just as they are nobly backing up the war effort in the countries of our Allies.

And, while we are on this subject there are some other interesting figures. The Chairman of the Republican National Committee was recently quoted as saying, "Women cast 45% of the 1942 vote, and indications are they will be on a 50-50 basis with men in votes cast in 1944." And why not? They labored for many years to get the right to vote; they are doing man's work now, many of them, and I dare say they are more conscious than ever, today, of the responsibility that accompanies the right of franchise.

I think, when time has healed the wounds of heart and flesh, America will be better off for having had its women step out of the home into other fields, during a temporary emergency period, to gain a realistic perspective of what has always been considered, exclusively, a man's world. Let's hope that it won't be long before the job at hand is finished so that these emergency-period-women-workers can again begin to practice their main line—homemaking.

And, we, in industry, must see to it that our boys, who return from the war, will be able to provide ample means to maintain the homes to which they return, without the necessity of their womenfolk assisting in providing the necessities of life. Men want their women in the home . . . they're so nice to come home to.

BILL TO ABOLISH FSA IS OFFERED BY HOUSE GROUP

Washington, D. C., March 13 (AP).—Legislation designed to abolish the farm security administration was offered in the house today by an agriculture subcommittee which has been investigating the agency for months.

The bill, introduced by Chairman Cooley [D., N. C.], would transfer to the Farmers' Home corporation the assets and duties of the FSA, all regional agricultural credit corporations now operating under the farm credit administration, and the emergency farm feed, seed, and rehabilitation loans of the farm credit organization.

Cooley said the legislation would "curb the powers to supervise and regiment families," would make 99 year government leases "a thing of the past," and would provide for granting of existing public facilities at resettlement projects to public or semi-public institutions if they could not be sold at reasonable prices.

RUNAWAY CAR DRIVER KILLED.

Kenosha, Wis., March 13 [AP].—Donald Reynolds, 22, of Richmond, Ill., died yesterday morning when his automobile went out of control, climbed an embankment, and struck a tree.

DARROW'S SPIRIT IGNORES PLEA MADE BY FRIEND

The spirit of the late Clarence Darrow failed to respond yesterday for the sixth time to the entreaties of his friend, Claude D. Noble, Detroit magician and business man, with whom the noted lawyer made a reappearance pact in 1932, four years before his death.

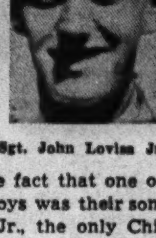
As in previous years, Noble knelt at 12:30 p. m. on a Jackson park bridge near which Darrow's ashes had been sprinkled, and asked the lawyer's spirit to knock a book, familiar to them both, from his hand. Then Noble said a prayer and waited for recognition of his plea. Nothing happened.

The two men and Howard Thurston, the late magician, made the pact after they had studied spiritualism for several years and had exploded a number of claims made by so-called mediums.

"I hope the failure of this pact will keep the public from spending vast sums of money on fakes who claim to have contact with the spiritual world," Noble said. "The war has given impetus to a new wave of fakes."

PARENTS READ TRIBUNE STORY OF HEROIC SON

Yesterday's TRIBUNE was favorite reading for Mr. and Mrs. John Lovisa, 3144 Arthur av., Brookfield, for in it was an exciting story by Arthur Veysey, Tribune war correspondent in the Pacific, telling how 30 Yanks had wiped out to the last man an assault party of 300 Japs.



Sgt. John Lovisa Jr.

The Lovisas' interest was in the fact that one of the 30 American boys was their son, Sgt. John Lovisa Jr., the only Chicagoan in the group. The fight occurred on Momote air strip in the Admiralty Islands. Sgt. Lovisa operated a machine gun and killed many Japs. The entire platoon was lauded for heroism.

Sgt. Lovisa, now 24, enlisted in the army Aug. 12, 1941, and trained in the cavalry. He had always wanted to be a soldier. Yesterday his parents, and sister, Irene, read and re-read The Tribune story of the epic fight in which John had participated. "We're proud of John," said the father, a native of Italy. "Very proud," added the mother, a native of Czecho-Slovakia. But they're also proud, they said, of their two other sons, both soldiers, Corp. Joseph, 28, and Sgt. Frank, 26.

COURT SCUFFLE MARKS SEDITION CASE ARGUMENT

Trial of 30 Defendants Set for April 17.

Defendants Hungry

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 13.—Ben Lindas, Washington attorney appointed to defend George Sylvester Viereck in the sedition case, asked the court today to find a way to provide more food at noontime for those defendants who are in custody. Lindas said the men are served a light breakfast in the district jail before being brought to court. They get only a sandwich and water for lunch. Lindas said Viereck, "no longer a young man," should have at least coffee or something warm for lunch. Herbert S. Ward, attorney for William Dudley Pelley, made a similar request. Judge Eicher agreed to look into this situation.

BY PHILIP WARDEN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 13.—A defense attorney in the sedition case was ordered ejected from a federal courtroom here today after he had accused the justice department of ruthlessly smearing Mrs. Elizabeth Dilling, Chicago, and 29 other defendants by attempting in a bill of particulars to show them up as friends of Hitler.

The attorney, Henry H. Klein of New York, representing Eugene Nelson sanctuary, scuffled furiously for a few seconds with three deputy United States marshals before Chief Justice Edward C. Eicher of federal court for the District of Columbia, offered to rescind his ejection if Klein would sit down and obey court rules.

Klein refused the offer and left the courtroom, only to return 10 minutes later acting as if nothing had happened.

Not the First Run-in.

Klein had been ordered to leave the courtroom when he continued to address the bench after Judge Eicher had ruled him out of order. The prosecutor, O. John Rogge, special assistant to the attorney general, had objected to Klein's argument on the grounds that the question of motions for additional particulars was before the court and Klein had filed no such motion and was not asking the court in his argument for additional particulars.

Klein has had run-ins with the court on previous occasions. When he reëntered the courtroom, Judge Eicher offered him an opportunity to address the court on the question before it. He told Klein that when he ordered him ejected, Klein "was making a political speech," not arguing a motion. Klein later submitted a motion to postpone the trial for an indefinite period. Judge Eicher refused to let the motion become part of the record.

Mrs. Dilling Not in Court.

Mrs. Dilling was not in court today. Instead she sent to Rogge and members of congress a mimeographed letter saying that because "I know there are no valid particulars about me to be extracted," she would not spend the money to come to Washington at this time. She has charged that the recently filed bill of particulars did not in reality contain any particulars. There was no action taken upon the letter.

At the insistence of Rogge, Judge Eicher set the case for trial on Monday, April 17. So many preliminary motions have been filed, it was pointed out, that trial could not begin on March 20, the tentative date for its start set last month. Judge Eicher ordered set Monday, March 20, as the final day for hearing preliminary motions.

Much of today's session was consumed by renewed arguments on demurrers to the government's indictment. Judge Eicher said that, altho he would not hand down formal opinion until additional points of authority on the law could be filed with him, he had heard nothing today to cause him to reverse his previous memorandum opinion upholding the validity of the indictment.

Government Answer Hit.

Attorneys arguing for additional particulars charged that the only particulars the government has given the defendants so far were copied from a book. Claude A. Thompson accused the justice department of copying verbatim passages from Prince Karl Lowenstein's "Hitler's Germany," a book published by the Amherst college press in 1939, and distributing it to the defendants as a "voluntary" bill of particulars.

Thompson and other attorneys said the bill of particulars supplied by the justice department failed in every respect to set forth where, when, with whom, or under what circumstances the defendants committed acts of the alleged conspiracy.

$150,000 Check

Fowler McCormick (left), International Harvester company president, presents $150,000 to Martin H. Kennelly, Red Cross war fund chairman, while Mrs. Robert Blackburn looks on.

Fowler McCormick, president of International Harvester company, yesterday presented a check for $150,000 to Martin H. Kennelly, general campaign chairman of the Chicago chapter of the American Red Cross, as his firm's local contribution in the current fund drive. The company has contributed another $150,000 to be credited to branch plants. The total is $100,000 more than the company gave last year.

Bendix Aviation corporation also announced a $150,000 Red Cross contribution. This was 50 per cent greater than its 1943 gift.

Final instructions were given yesterday to 100,000 volunteer workers, who will begin a house to house canvas tomorrow in Cook, Du Page, and the south half of Lake county. The canvass will open with noon ceremonies at State and Madison streets.

NEW DEAL, RED PLOT CHARGED BY MRS. DILLING

'U. S. Has No Case,' She Tells Prosecutor.

In a letter to Special United States Prosecutor O. John Rogge—a copy of which went to all members of congress—Mrs. Elizabeth Dilling yesterday charged that the administration has no case against her and 29 others charged with conspiring to overthrow the government and set up a Nazi regime in the United States. The case is scheduled to go to trial soon in Washington, D. C.

The Chicago authoress and lecturer notified Rogge she would not be in Washington for a hearing on a bill of particulars in the case furnished the defendants a few days ago. She termed that bill a "32 page German history" and added it would "be superb as a farce were it not intended as malicious, libelous, irrelevant window dressing for this affair."

No "Blood in a Rock."

"I shall not go to the expense of trying to procure from you a 'bill of particulars' with particulars," she added. "As I know there are no valid particulars about me to be extracted, it would be like spending time and money to wring blood from a rock.

"You have no case. You have in bad faith imposed on the United States courts at taxpayers' expense, a Communist backed New Deal conspiracy directed primarily at members of congress; secondarily at all patriotic Americans opposed to communistic policies and personnel in the New Deal."

Charge New Deal Plot.

Mrs. Dilling then issued this challenge:

"None of your New Deal crowd and Communist pals would dare take me on in fair open debate, permitting me to back everything I have written or said with documentary proof. I would welcome the chance. If your crowd had a case against me you would risk letting me be tried outside of Washington, D. C., under a non-New Deal judge and non-New Deal pay roll jury.

"I certainly want a change of venue from New Deal Washington, D. C., and from an F. D. R. appointed judge, but have been told by every attorney in Washington whom I have consulted that it is useless to apply. The big, strong New Deal ties its little victims' hands. I hope to see the day when not only my name and the names of other good Americans will be cleared from the libels heaped upon them by your New Deal-Winchell-Communist crowd, but also when those guilty will be punished for this conspiracy against constitutional Americanism."

LEAHY IS CHOSEN PRESIDENT'S AID AT NOTRE DAME

South Bend., Ind., March 13 (AP).—The Rev. Hugh O'Donnell, president of the University of Notre Dame, today appointed the Rev. James J. Leahy as his administrative assistant.

Father Leahy takes the post made vacant by the death of the Rev. James D. Trahey. He will be campus representative of the fighting forces for the 6th army corps area and the 9th naval district.

He also will direct a program given in the university's colleges of engineering, science, and commerce.

CHARGES SOVIET MOVES BACKED IN U. S. BUREAUS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 13.—Rep. Busbey [R., Ill.] charged in a house speech today that individuals high in government service or high in its confidence "are actively promoting Russia's aims to sovietize other nations in violation of the Atlantic charter."

"Entrenched in the office of war information, the office of strategic services, the office of economic warfare, the federal communications commission, and other strategic posts," Busbey said, "are those who are working night and day, not in the interests of our government, but rather to pave the way for totalitarian domination of the United States and the European continent."

Communist Front Aid.

The congressman cited particularly Louis Adamic, author, whom he charged with "promoting above all others" the interests of the soviet union. Adamic, who was born in Jugo-Slavia and is a member of numerous Communist front organizations according to files of the congressional Dies committee, has consistently urged the Balkan states to attach themselves to Russia.

Adamic, Busbey told the house, has openly boasted of "powerful connections" with OWI, the office of strategic services, and the state department. Recently, he continued, Adamic published in a Communist foreign language newspaper an offer of employment in the Jugo-Slav section of the United nations relief and rehabilitation administration and directed applicants to apply to him. Who authorized Adamic to place this advertisment is a mystery, Busbey said.

The congressman observed that press accounts emanating from Jugo-Slavia of guerrilla warfare there are now devoted almost entirely to exploits of Marshal Josip [Tito] Broz, a Communist sympathizer.

Charges Deliberate Buildup.

"Using all the arts of fiction and propaganda, Adamic and his group of trained seals are flooding the country with fabulous tales" about Tito and his partisans, Busbey asserted.

Busbey said no one in this country has first hand knowledge of Tito's appearance and activities, and said efforts of several newspaper correspondents to go into Jugo-Slavia and report the facts on just what is happening have been blocked by various military authorities.

NBC CHIEF SEES BRIGHT FUTURE FOR TELEVISION

Niles Trammell.

Television will become the greatest mass entertainment medium in the world, Niles Trammell, president of the National Broadcasting company, predicted yesterday. Trammell opened a "war clinic" for network affiliates in the Drake hotel and said that he would outline the chain's television plans during the three day sessions.

The network recently made application for a half dozen television licenses for stations in Chicago, Washington, Cleveland, and west coast cities. It already operates a television station in New York.

Trammell said post-war television should not be hamstrung by governmental restrictions.

In Chicago NBC has applied for a license on the No. 1 television channel, occupied for five years by the station of the Zenith Radio corporation. Trammell declined to comment on the protest registered to this move by E. F. McDonald Jr., president of Zenith. McDonald called NBC's action "presumptious and unfair" and said that it would be "vigorously contested."

W-G-N, Inc., recently applied for a television license and placed an order for a transmitter and studio equipment for post-war delivery, or when priorities permit.

Judge Trude Will Hear Suits in Criminal Court

Judge Daniel P. Trude of Circuit court will sit as a Criminal court judge commencing tomorrow to increase from four to five the number of judges now hearing criminal lawsuits. Chief Justice Benjamin P. Epstein said assignment of a fifth judge was necessary to facilitate hearing of pending cases.

Obliges Husband

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

MRS. IONA SMITH.

Howard Smith, 30, an army private at Scott field, had a wish gratified yesterday when his wife, Iona, 26, of 12552 Elm st., Blue Island, a secretary, obtained a divorce before Judge Robert J. Dunne of the Circuit court. She charged cruelty. The Smiths were married May 4, 1940, and separated May 15, 1943. Questioned by her lawyers, Norman and Joseph H. Becker, Mrs. Smith said her husband's wish was not to have any marital ties while he was in the army, and because of that, plus his cruelty, she was glad to oblige.

CHICAGO CADET DIES IN CRASH OF TRAINING PLANE

Neil Funk.

Mesa, Ariz., March 13 (AP).—Aviation Cadet J. R. Durston of Hampshire, England, and Cadet Neil Funk, 730 N. Albany av., Chicago, were killed in the crash of their training plane on a routine mission. Funk's wife left here a few days ago after visiting him. Their plane had been missing since last Wednesday.

Milwaukee Flyer Killed.

Bainbridge, Ga., March 13 (AP).—Second Lt. Ralph Mokwa, 23, of Milwaukee, flying instructor at the army air field here, was killed last night in the crash of a combat training plane near Faceville. Mokwa received his basic training here and only recently had returned as an instructor.

SLAYER LOSES 2 PLEAS TO ESCAPE CHAIR TONIGHT

Paul Leroy Williams, 24, under sentence to die in the electric chair after midnight tonight for the holdup murder of a Chicago grocer, yesterday lost two last minute appeals to stop the execution.

Williams' appeal to the state pardon board that he was insane and that the murder was accidental was rejected by Gov. Green.

Judge Harold G. Ward in Criminal court denied a petition filed by W. W. Anderson, Negro attorney, asserting that Williams had pleaded guilty to shooting Thomas Papayanis on Sept. 19, 1942, because he was deceived.

Williams and his mother, Evelyn, testified that the late Atty. Francis Callahan Sr., told them the state's attorney had promised to ask for a 14 to 20 year sentence if he pleaded guilty. Francis McCurrie, assistant state's attorney, told the court no agreement had been made.

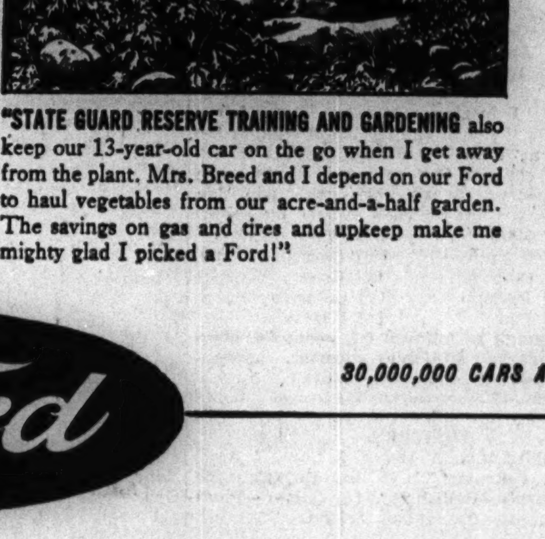
"IT'S 30 MILES TO THE AIRCRAFT PLANT...

"Sure glad I've got a FORD!" says F. NELSON BREED, Architect, Aircraft Plant Executive, Ridgefield, Connecticut

"WE BUILD FIGHTER PLANES. And my 1931 Ford is doing a grand job in the car pool that gets me and my friends to work. Each week crowds on the mileage. But the old bus seems to thrive on it. She's running like a clock. Repairs have been few and far between and have cost me practically nothing."



"STATE GUARD RESERVE TRAINING AND GARDENING also keep our 13-year-old car on the go when I get away from the plant. Mrs. Breed and I depend on our Ford to haul vegetables from our acre-and-a-half garden. The savings on gas and tires and upkeep make me mighty glad I picked a Ford!"

● The very qualities which made Ford cars the peacetime choice of millions are now serving the vital transportation needs of the nation at war.

Millions of owners know how faithfully Ford cars stand up thousands and thousands of miles, year in and year out, with minimum repairs. And it is characteristic of Ford cars to make the most of every thimbleful of gas.

Right across the country, Ford owners are learning that these fine cars live up to every promise ever made for them.

And helping to keep them in tip-top condition is the Ford Protective Service. Your friendly Ford dealer is equipped and trained to make repairs as quickly and reasonably as possible. Visit him regularly once a month for a check-up.

WHERE YOUR GASOLINE RATION WENT.

Midwestern motorists, who have just had an official intimation that their A coupons are to be cut from three to two gallons, may thank two persons for this new deprivation. Those persons are Mr. Roosevelt and his cabinet officer in charge of petroleum, Mr. Ickes.

The amount of gasoline available for civilian use is the result of a simple problem in subtraction. It consists of the amount of our production less military requirements and lend-lease. Mr. Ickes and Mr. Roosevelt have been working steadily for two years to reduce the remainder available for civilians, Mr. Ickes by discouraging production, Mr. Roosevelt by dissipating American supplies while the British empire hoarded its petroleum reserves.

Every one in the petroleum industry knows how to increase production. It is done by increasing the price of crude petroleum. Price increases have always produced increased production. They encourage the continued operation of high cost stripper wells and, what is probably more important, they encourage the discovery of new reserves by so-called wildcat drilling operations.

Mr. Ickes has on occasion paid lip service to this principle, but as petroleum administrator for war he has never done anything about practicing it. The price of crude oil has been held down, in the face of the need for added production, by the price fixing doctrinaires. Instead of resisting them and increasing war time production, Mr. Ickes has been spending his time planning post-war pipe lines in Arabia.

It is many months since the senatorial committee returned from its tour of the battle fronts to report to the nation that refineries drawing their oil from the great reserves of Asia Minor were operating at fractions of their capacity, while the United States was supplying 85 per cent of the petroleum products used by all the allies.

Mr. Roosevelt sought to quiet the apprehension aroused by the senators' report by a statement at a press conference that steps would be taken immediately to reduce the drain on our reserves. That was many months ago. The drain has continued. Only recently a conference was called to meet at London on the question.

This method of dealing with the question throws light on some of the curious practices of lend-lease. If our allies want something, a request to the complacent Mr. Hopkins or his lend-lease assistants suffices. When we want something, an international conference has to be held to determine whether we get it.

We are short of gasoline because Mr. Ickes isn't producing all the country can produce, and because Mr. Roosevelt is giving away more than is necessary of what we do produce.

FOURTH TERM JITTERS.

Mr. Roosevelt in the past has not been bad in his political timing. His admirers say he is the master politician of half a century. Some of his nonadmirers concede that he and his consistory of city machine bosses, other world ideologs and pay off experts have been pretty good, good enough to establish a squatter sovereignty in the White House. With another term there'll be an argument for prescriptive tenure, holding that the tenant has won the place often enough to keep it.

Of late however, Mr. Roosevelt has been pitching them wild. Good judgment and better control would have restrained him from sending to congress a message in which he called a constitutional service vote bill a fraud on the American people and demanded an illegal and indefensible election measure which was plain nullification and supposed to be in his interest. A master politician would not have disclosed that he either did not know the paramount law of the United States or did not care what it was.

An expert in politics would not gratuitously have run a needle into his best friend in congress. Senator Barkley's experience is worth noting by people who think our government would work more smoothly if there were friendlier and closer consultation between the executive and legislative branches. Mr. Barkley was consulted on the tax act veto and he advised against it, speaking as the servant of his commander in chief. The next morning he discovered that he along with his fellows had been described as an illiterate friend of the greedy against the needy. A candidate with a calmer judgment would not have done this—and would not have had to apologize for it. Mr. Roosevelt may not be rattled but he certainly is not playing a master hand.

On a more recent occasion the candidate who wants a fourth term in order to be in on the post-war shaping of destinies let a blurt out of the blue, apropos of nothing at all, that rattled windows all over Europe. Why he thought it timely to say that Stalin was to get a third of the Italian fleet "or its equivalent" may be known to his intimates. Mr. Churchill, among others, couldn't understand it and had to explain that the Italian fleet was doing valuable service to the allied cause and would continue in that service. A master politician who knows he must offend the Poles by giving Stalin what he wants might wonder why he also offended the Italians. Was it just to startle the White House reporters or does he think that Stalin can help him carry the election this year?

The fourth term prospects may have the tenant too worried for sober reflections. Ever since he took the third term in 1940 the elections have been going against him. In 1942 he almost lost the house of representatives. It has been out of control ever since. Republicans now have a majority of the states. In eight out of 10 special congressional elections since 1942 his candidates have been defeated by Republicans and in other elections, such as in New York, New Jersey, Kentucky, and Philadelphia, his fellows have been beaten.

Admirers of the master politician admit that you can't find a vote of confidence in any of this, but they say that the master has not yet appeared in person. He has not been a candidate. The voters have not been subjected to his spell. They have not been touched by his magic. His stable mates have been finishing badly but he hasn't been personally in the game. There's a difference, as every politician knows, but the tenant himself seems more flustered than would be expected. He can't afford to lose and he fears he will.

The stakes are great. The candidates never risked so much before. His foreign friends in high places are as safe as human beings can expect to be. Stalin selects himself. He's in. Mr. Churchill does not face a general election. It's been nearly 10 years since Britain had such an election and there may never be another, and altho the prime minister loses a special election here and there, he is solid with the house of commons, constituted now about as it was in 1935. Undisturbed tenure seems to please also the parliamentarians.

If Mr. Roosevelt is to sit on the highest clouds with his two friends and command the earth to form itself anew he must survive the November elections. Even Lloyd's might not care to take the risk. The tenant, fearing eviction, may be flustered.

VICIOUS CENSORSHIP.

The news that America has been getting from our armies in Italy, and particularly from the Anzio bridgehead, is so inadequate that it can hardly be called news. The fault lies with the censor who is apparently trying to protect somebody from the consequences of his blunders. The censor hasn't allowed us to learn so much as the name of the field commander of the American doughboys below Rome. Even the news of the heroic conduct of our men and of the British contingent has been so delayed that the soldiers have not received the full credit for their achievements that they have richly earned.

Gen. Wilson, the British successor to Gen. Eisenhower in command of the Mediterranean theater, has had almost nothing to say about Anzio and, if recollection is correct, has not visited the beleaguered front. Gen. Alexander has appeared there a few times. On one such occasion he abused the correspondents for reporting the changing tide of battle when they should, he thought, have maintained a steady tone of optimism. Further than that we know that Gen. Mark Clark, who commands all the American ground troops under Wilson, pays week-end visits to the Anzio front and then goes some place else.

The name of the general who stays on the job and who is directly responsible for success or failure has not been divulged. His men have earned glory but he is not allowed to share it. The censor has so arranged matters that those who are responsible for the faulty planning of the operation will win renown if their mistakes are overcome by the valor of the men at the front and the skill of their anonymous commander. If the operation proves to be a futility or worse it is still possible to transfer the blame to the general on the spot. He is there, no doubt working 18 hours a day under fire. He has encouraged his men and sustained them, but we are not allowed to know who he is.

The censorship in the European theater is bullheaded and narrow, and, we are persuaded, politically oriented. The censorship in the Pacific has not always been above reproach but has been steadily improved and in recent months has been admirable. The contrast is striking.

A STRIKE THE LABOR DRAFT DIDN'T STOP.

More than 100,000 coal miners in Britain went out on strike. Coal production had been reduced seriously by a slowdown attributed to the fact that, while minimum wages recently were increased, piece work rates were not raised. The miners contend that they can get the minimum wages whether they work hard or not, while skilled workers, because of the lower piece work rates, can boost their pay by only a negligible amount by producing more.

The proponents of Mr. Roosevelt's labor slavery bill have made as much capital as they can of the coal strikes in this country, asserting that the work stoppages require the passage of the bill. Great Britain has had a labor draft since early in the war. It also has coal strikes.

The slavery bill is not needed in this country, nor would it be effective in stopping strikes. It is an act to put every civilian worker in the country in a position where he could be regimented and punished for his political opinions by an administration bent on fastening a totalitarian government on the United States.

THE BEST USE FOR "FOUND" MONEY.

[Philadelphia Inquirer.]

Now that an agency for disposing of the government's surplus property, acquired during the war, has been established in accordance with Mr. Baruch's suggestion, his accompanying recommendation, which seems to have escaped general attention, should not be overlooked.

It was that the proceeds of all sales should be used to reduce the national debt. When families clean house and dispose of articles they no longer need, they are apt to regard the receipts as found money to be spent for something else. The sensible course would be to save it.

These billions of dollars will constitute a strong temptation to spending. With the government's credit so good, why should it use this money to reduce its debt? "The great importance of reducing the national debt," says the Baruch report, "is to return to a position of strong national defense for future emergencies." The answer seems sufficient.

HOME IS THE SAILOR.

The late Irvin S. Cobb's quotation from memory of certain verses by Robert Louis Stevenson, to be carved on his gravestone, was inaccurate. "If I'm wrong," he added in the letter that was opened after his death, "will somebody kindly correct?" This column feels a press veteran's duty to fulfill, on this point, the last wishes of a companion in the craft.

* * *

Mr. Cobb's memory supplied him with an excellent re-writing of Stevenson, as follows:

These be the lines you grave for me:
Here I lie where I long to be;
Home is the hunter, home from the hill,
And the sailor home from the sea.

Stevenson's self-written epitaph carries two stanzas, thus:

Under the wide and starry sky,
Dig the grave and let me lie.
Glad did I live and gladly die,
And I laid me down with a will.

This be the verse you grave for me:
Here he lies where he longed to be;
Home is the sailor, home from the sea,
And the hunter home from the hill.

* * *

Stevenson wrote these verses, called "Requiem," in Hyères, on the French Riviera, in the spring of 1884, when he was recovering from a severe hemorrhage of the lungs, and also afflicted with ophthalmia and sciatica. They were first printed in Underwood's magazine in 1887.

The complete poem is lettered on a bronze panel set in a massive concrete tomb, on the crest of Vaea mountain, Samoa. The inscription also carries his name, the years of his birth and death, and the Greek letters, Alpha and Omega. On the opposite face of the block is a panel in the Samoan language. It says, "The Tomb of Tusitala," and quotes the Samoan translation of the speech of Ruth to Naomi, "Whither thou goest, I will go, and where thou lodgest, I will lodge; thy people shall be my people, and thy God my God; where thou diest will I die, and there will I be buried."

ST. PATRICK'S CHILD.

Potted shamrocks fresh and green
Take me back to childhood scene,
For never would a birthday pass
But Gran would say, "Where's that wee lass,
Who came on guid St. Patrick's day?"
Then tweak my ear with chuckle gay
And set the tiny earthen pot
Of shamrocks in a sunny spot
Upon the casement window ledge,
Exacting first my solemn pledge
To tend them well with faithful care;
And as I watched them growing there
Outside the window I could see
The world a-greening tenderly,
And how I loved the burgeoning!
For Granny's gift each fragrant Spring
Instilled enchantment in my heart
By giving me my own small part,
And even now do shamrocks green
Recall for me that well-loved scene.

Nice Work If You Can Get It.

"Good morning. Simplified Numbers, Inc. Yes, we assist people in straightening out their number problems. Your house number? Mr. Witherspoon, vice president in charge of house numbers, will take care of you."

"Yes, this is Witherspoon. Um-m, you wish to rent a house with a number which is the same as the last four numerals on your social security card? A most difficult assignment, but we'll do the best we can. Our rates are 10 per cent of the difference between your old and new numbers. Good-by."

"Simplified Numbers—'we've got your number.' License number? That's Mr. Billingsgate's department. I'll connect you."

"Billingsgate speaking. You want state license No. 1 for your automobile? It can be arranged, but you're 501,679th on the list. Yes, you'll probably be too old to drive when we get around to you. Of course, we have other plans to help you remember your number. I'll mail them to you today. Good-by."

"Simplified Numbers, Inc. You want a 'good number' for tonight? Sorry, Mr. Gayfella, but that's a little out of our line. O, dinner at the Vampire Room and tickets for 'Good Morning, Gals'? Come to think of it, I'm not doing anything myself tonight. Okay. I'll meet you at the corner of 5th and Numeral blvd. at 5:20. O, Mr. Gayfella, you say the nicest things. Good-b-y-e-e." Hig.

THE MAN OF THE DAY.

The man of the day is, as far as I've seen,
Not soldier, or sailor, or hell-bent marine;
He's not clad in navy, nor yet in O. D.,
But jeepers, his uniform looks good to me!
Folks see him coming away down the block,
And nobody waits for his ring or his knock;
They rush out at sight of his uniform gray
And eagerly ask, "Any letters today?"

So hail to the welcome gray-uniformed postman!
He has that about him that outclasses most men!
His shoulders grow bent from his heavy, brown bag,
And often, toward nightfall, his footsteps may lag;
His youth may have left him, but youth everywhere
With quickening heartbeat goes walking on air
When he brings a letter from loved ones away—
I tell you, the postman's the man of the day!
Casual.

How to Keep Well By Dr. Irving S. Cutter

SO-CALLED INTESTINAL FLU.

Every year, particularly during the colder season, many localities will encounter epidemics of acute intestinal upsets. The malady seems to be widespread and to exist thruout the country. It may announce itself about Thanksgiving time in one community; during March, in another. The disorder is popularly labeled "intestinal flu." It isn't so at all.

The patient awakens in the morning with nausea, dizziness, and abdominal cramps. Profuse watery stools will persist for two or three days. As we would expect, there is considerable prostration, appetite vanishes, and the tongue is covered with a heavy fur. If one in the household is stricken, others may follow suit. In fact, whole neighborhoods may be afflicted.

A few weeks ago my attention was called to this condition because it presented itself among a group of college students. Careful checks of the water and milk supplies failed to reveal the cause. But when the nutriments were examined, staphylococci and streptococci were found in profusion. The source seemed to be meats of various types which may have been handled carelessly or contaminated, after cooking, by a carrier. In other words, some dish or pan, possibly the refrigerator or the hands of the one who served the meal, must have supplied the microbes.

Discussing the matter with an eminent public health bacteriologist, he stated that in an epidemic of fair size, in connection with an industrial plant, he and his colleagues had been able to recover an unknown virus from the circulation of these sufferers. Examinations of blood cultures and stools of the victims in question disclosed negative results, so far as bacteria were concerned altho one in three showed the virus.

The conclusion seems warranted, therefore that we are dealing with a filtrable germ which is present most of the time but is probably activated by the existence of bacteria of various types.

Treatment consists of rest in bed, plenty of liquids, and a high acid-ash diet. Aromatic sulfuric acid may be helpful in reducing the number of discharges and relieving discomfort. In rare instances, blood appeared in the stool. In only one individual did the malady persist for longer than two weeks but this patient was well below par physically to start with.

The general health, however, seemed to have nothing to do with the malady. It attacked those who were strong and rested, as well as those who had been weakened by overwork or loss of sleep.

A few complained of severe abdominal cramps and here small doses of tincture of opium were resorted to. Sore throats and marked congestion of the airways were exhibited by some of the sufferers. This was accounted for on the basis that microbes were probably present in the nasopharynx which, because of the depleted state of the victim, were thus enabled to grow.

Fortunately, the ailment is not serious. But one thing can be said positively—it is food-borne. The chances are that the virus is not associated with the edibles but that it takes a combination with bacteria to ignite the figurative conflagration.

BROKEN NOSE.

I. L. S. writes: My daughter fell and broke her nose when she was 2 years old. She is now 8. When is it advisable to have it operated on?

REPLY.

The repair of deformities about the face is best accomplished after growth has been attained. At that time, make certain that you are in the hands of an expert.

LOW PRESSURE.

E. H. writes: I am 17 years old and my blood pressure is 85. I have been told that this is much too high. How can it be lowered?

REPLY.

Your level is all too low. It betokens indolence. The antidote is more activity. At any rate, there is no cause for worry.

"WASHED OUT."

T. H. writes: Since I had the flu earlier in the season, I have been extremely fatigued. What to do?

REPLY.

Cases of slow recovery are common. A program of resistance building is in order, including a balanced diet and some activity in the open air. Spend at least 10 of each 24 hours in bed.

STERILIZATION.

J. K. writes: If boiling water is not available on a trip to Mexico, what is the best way to protect a hypodermic syringe?

REPLY.

Take along a dozen or more needles, each sterile and protected with suitable wrappings. Any hospital or clinic can recondition the equipment.

CIRCULATORY CHANGES.

F. J. writes: Is cardiovascular disease the same as hardening of the arteries?

REPLY.

The term is broad and includes abnormal changes in the arteries, the capillaries, and the heart itself.

IT TRAVELS.

Mrs. D. G. writes: Can rheumatic fever go to the ears and the head?

REPLY.

The accompanying infection may—with middle ear disease or even more serious manifestations.

We Keep a Calendar.

These are the days we never spent together,
Forgotten calendar, turned against the wall.
We shall discount the data as the weather,
It was not made to please us all.
Redeem the days? Why bring forgotten sorrow?
We keep a calendar only for tomorrow. —Ingeborg Jay.

Fun in Music.

The life of even a budding singer is not without humor. Clifford Brier, who describes himself as just that, was introduced the other day by the gushing program chairman of a woman's club as "a young tenor who will sing several numbers for us now in his inimical style." As several ladies in the audience caught the malapropism, as well as Mr. Brier, he barely got thru the song at all. This was enough for any one week, but the next day he was singing before another woman's club. He had just concluded a group of songs and had walked to the wings, to much applause, when he noticed with dismay that his accompanist had left his encore reposing on the piano in full view of the audience. In large black letters was the title, "I Shall Return." He did.

Relativity.

Some pilgrims from Michigan dropped into Field's book store not long ago. The husband told the clerk he wanted Louella Parsons' book, "The Gay Illiterate," George Jessel's autobiography, and Fowler's "Good Night, Sweet Prince." His wife then gave her order. She wanted a copy of "David Copperfield." The clerk was neither amused nor surprised. "Funny thing," he commented. "George Jessel was here yesterday autographing some copies of his book, and before he left, he bought a copy of Dickens. 'That's the wonderful thing about America,' Jessel said. 'We pay 98 cents for Dickens and $2.50 for Jessel.'"

O, tempora . . .

The world moves on and so do military standards. Arnold Gams, a student at Kelly High school, had read Act I., Scene II., of Shakespeare's "Julius Caesar," that scene in which Cassius works Brutus up to stabbing pitch with such remarks as: "Why, man, he doth bestride the narrow world like a Colossus, and we petty men walk under his huge legs and peep about to find ourselves dishonorable graves. . . ." Caesar then walks in angrily and says he wants fat men around him, "sleek-headed men and such as sleep o' nights." Cassius, he said, was too lean and hungry: "He thinks too much; such men are dangerous."

"Caesar may have been a great soldier in his day," snorted young Mr. Gams, "but he'd just be a 4-F today."

DIVIDED LOYALTY.

Chicago, March 9.—In today's Tribune a Mrs. Sally Berman is quoted as saying, in response to a question about the coming national election, "Lend-lease has aided Russia so much that I plan to vote for Roosevelt." She had previously stated that she was born in Russia and was just recently naturalized.

I am not well versed in the naturalization law, but I do know that each candidate for citizenship must renounce all allegiance to foreign princes and states in general and to the state of his origin in particular. Since the beginning of the war a large number of naturalized citizens have been deprived of their citizenship because of allegiance to foreign states.

In her quoted statement Mrs. Berman proved, in my opinion, that her actions as an American citizen are motivated chiefly by her allegiance to Russia. It appears to me that her statement is admittable evidence of her divided allegiance. If my conclusions are correct, it appears that both Mrs. Berman and the government servants charged with the responsibility of naturalizing aliens have made a mistake. One or both of them should take steps to rectify that error.

James Schall.

NOW IS THE TIME.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 6.—It seems that some American citizens are irked by the Constitution and the American way of life. Now is the time for these royalty worshipers and British bootlickers in public and civilian life to move to England while the "British are bursting with friendship toward Americans."

When lend-lease ends and these Anglophiles are no longer useful to the "mother country," the British will not want them any more than we do.

NEVER MIND THE BALL, LET'S PLAY SOCCER.

Oak Park, Ill., March 10.—After witnessing last night's hockey game, I submit my ideas for putting pep in the game: Furnish each player with a baseball bat instead of the hockey stick. Then draft each imbecile who throws debris on the ice and have him substitute for the player assaulted. Yours for mayhem,

L. B. C.

THE MENACE.

Jamaica, N. Y., Feb. 28.—Thank God for your efforts in behalf of the people of America. The shadow that is encircling this land will end in total eclipse for all of us if four years more of it prevail. America is praying you will have the strength to help destroy this Roosevelt-Willkie-Wallace menace.

Lawrence Nugent.

THE AXIS MAKES USE OF THEM.

NEW GUINEA, Feb. 9.—We listened to Tokio radio last night in which the commentator made much ado over the "Unrest in the United States," mentioning specific strikes and their places.

Capt. E. C. Reynolds.

ANOTHER WILLKIE MOUTHFUL.

Dubuque, Ia., March 9.—I note that Willkie in his speech yesterday said that America can become a great nation. Now, isn't that saying a mouthful for a man who calls himself an American?

H. J. M.

ANTI-FOURTH TERM CIO-ER.

Chattanooga, Tenn., March 8.—You hear on all sides that the CIO is for Mr. Roosevelt. I am one member of the CIO who is not for a fourth term. What we need in the CIO is a good house cleaning. The stands our leaders take on some of the issues before congress are not only detrimental to our organization, but to all of the people of America. When Mr. Roosevelt gets us where he wants us, he will chop off our heads just as he has done to all other persons and organizations who have closely allied themselves to him. Mr. Murray is making himself appear ridiculous in going to the White House and agreeing to back certain bills that are diabolical in the sight of intelligent members of our organization.

R. C. U.

PART OF GROWING UP.

Chicago, March 9.—So "Shillelah" doesn't like the popular music of today! Would he rather have our youth somber and beyond their years as youth is in other countries? If "Shillelah" passed thru the adolescent stage without being a part of every fad that came up, whether it be Sinatra or pompons on loafers, then it's a case for the books. These same adolescents whose I. Q.'s are in question are buying bonds and lots of 'em, they're working part time to relieve the help shortage, they're collecting scrap, paper, fats, and if, during their free time, they choose to drop a nickel in the juke box to hear The Voice or "Marzie Doats"—that's their business and part of their growing up.

Mary Sweeney [20].

WE HAVE, OFTEN.

Moline, Ill., March 7.—I notice in yesterday's paper your first editorial was on "The Typhoid Menace." Why don't you quit complaining about pollution of the Chicago water supply and also about the fact that the government won't let Chicago divert more water into the canal and go after the real trouble at its source?

Why don't you advocate sewage disposal and treatment plants and really put on a campaign to make all cities clean up their filth? We spend billions of dollars of public money raking leaves and doing other useless things, whereas every city should be made to treat its sewage before dumping it into our once clean waters.

PENSIONS ARE A LIEN.

Chicago, March 10.—1. If a brother who has been receiving aid dies, would his home go to the state? 2. Would the sisters be responsible for funeral expenses, or does the state provide funds for burial if he carried no insurance? 3. If they are responsible, would they be entitled to any personal property to reimburse them for their expenses?

M. A. P.

1. The accumulated pension payments would be a charge against any estate that he leaves at his death.

2. $100 is allowed for a minimum funeral.

3. Yes, in the sense that these expenses would be collectible against the estate.

POST-WAR PAPER TO BE COLORFUL, EASIER TO READ

That's the Mechanical Promise of Future.

[This is the ninth of a series of articles on a Tribune survey of the post-war outlook.]

BY HAL FOUST.

America's newspaper publishers are preparing for post-war improvements of their own product. While handicapped by war time shortages and curtailments and harassed by governmental meddling with the news, the owners are quietly advancing plans for better newspapers in the reconstruction era to follow the armistice.

Editorially, the problem centers on a fight for freedom of the press, now restrained or suppressed by communism and fascism in much of the world abroad, and threatened by the same influences on the home front. Mechanically, the problem is less familiar to readers. For the mechanical aspects we are interviewing a leader in this field, John W. Park, production manager of THE TRIBUNE, and for two years chairman of a mechanical committee for the American Newspaper Publishers' association.

Papers to Be More Attractive.

The physical quality of the daily and Sunday paper is to be made more attractive, the better to inform and to guide the public thru the stress of reconversion to peace. The improvements also will enhance the efficacy of advertising at a time when all industry will be struggling to raise the general standard of living, to strengthen the general economy so it can bear the burdens imposed by the war.

"The newspaper plant is a factory using special equipment to process newsprint and ink," said Park, reflecting his own specialty in the publication business. "Awaiting post-war introduction are improvements in the equipment, the methods, the ink, and possibly the newsprint.

"Newsprint color printing, with its modern methods first introduced by THE TRIBUNE 18 years ago, will be further refined and more extensively used thruout the paper, with colored news photographs a likely development. After the war, no first class newspaper will be without color. It is most effective for advertisments, as well as for the news columns.

Ink Must Dry in Instant.

"The main printing problem is that we must print the reverse side of a sheet a tenth of a second after printing the first side. The ink must be converted from a liquid to a solid in the bat of an eye.

"To meet the requirement for speed, newspapers have been using an oil based ink. For this ink, the paper must be absorbent, like a blotting paper. There is room for improvement, as you can tell by staining your finger tips rubbing them on a newspaper.

"The ink manufacturers and a few of the more progressive newspapers are experimenting in war time with different types of inks. The manufacturers have made improvements to meet military demands for labeling that will withstand exposure in the arctic and in the tropics.

Study Plastics and Alloys.

"War time developments of plastics and new metal alloys are also being studied for adaptation to newspaper production. A magnesium alloy might displace the present lead-tin-antimony plates on a press, reducing the weight and thereby increasing the speed of printing. Plastics, which can be made with a wide variety of characteristics, are sure to find much use in a newspaper, probably for the molds in the stereotyping operation, probably to replace metal in the engraving room by casting an etching directly from a camera film.

"Linotype and press manufacturers, now making guns and other arms, also are experimenting with improvements on their peace time product which will be available to publishers when peace has ended war time shortages of metals and labor. We're experimenting in our own shop with several innovations."

The Tribune press rooms have a record for inventions that have aided all newspaper publishers. After World War I., Col. Robert R. McCormick devised a coupling of press units to attain flexibility in production. Park, who was also an artillery officer in that war, has watched and contributed to many of these developments in his 25 years with this newspaper.

Better Ink in Prospect.

"The likelihood of a better ink is probably the most interesting development from the viewpoint of subscribers," said Park. "One invention being studied would transfer the ink from the plates to the paper electrically, without a physical contact. Electronic drying processes are also being studied.

"Experiments are being conducted with dyes and with a chemical ink which is set by atomic action when it contacts the newsprint. We're also trying three other types of inks that would be new for newspapers: [1] pigment precipitation by evaporation, [2] a hot ink, set by cooling, [3] water rather than oil solvents.

"We'll have a cleaner print job, easier to read and better looking for more readers and more thoro readers—an aid to public enlightenment and to marketing in the post-war years."

16,000 PAY TAX AT U. S. OFFICE; TWO DAYS LEFT

170 Deputies Assist Record Crowd.

A weary deputy collector of internal revenue peered into the hall at the United States courthouse yesterday and sighed. He looked about the huge room where 170 fellow revenue agents tried to help the tardy thousands who had come to file income tax returns and sighed again.

The people were standing eight abreast. The line they made from the Dearborn street entrance extended across the huge rotunda and further to the Clark street entrance where monitors pleaded all day:

"Come to pay your tax, lady? This is the line right here. I know it's a long wait. Some of these people have waited since 7 a. m."

16,000 Pay in Day.

At 3 p. m. the crowd showed no sign of diminishing and 16,000 persons had paraded to cashiers' windows to pay their tax.

Carter H. Harrison, collector of internal revenue, then asked that persons mail returns and payments instead of coming to the courthouse.

Officials said it was the largest crowd ever to file thru the courthouse for assistance in filling out returns.

Six regular cashiers' cages on the fourth floor weren't enough to cope with the crowd. Six windows on the first floor, used for selling stamps, were made into auxiliary paying windows.

400,000 in Mail Today.

Nigel Campbell, assistant to Harrison, estimated that nearly a million of the 3,000,000 returns expected by the office have been received. He estimated that today's mail will bring 400,000 more and that 700,000 returns will arrive in the mail tomorrow and 700,000 more on Thursday. The district covers 26 northern Illinois counties.

Last week, Campbell said, district offices helped 87,000 persons fill out returns. The majority were handled by the main office, the six suboffices in Chicago, and four in Cook county outside the city. The offices will be open until 9 p. m. today and tomorrow.

To avoid penalty, payments should be postmarked before midnight tomorrow.

SERVICE MEN'S 'BILL OF RIGHTS' BEFORE SENATE

Washington, D. C., March 13 (AP).—The so-called "G. I. Bill of Rights" which incorporates the American Legion's views on veterans' legislation, was reintroduced in the senate today by Sen. Clark [D., Mo.] and 77 co-signers, apparently assuring quick approval in that chamber.

A senate finance subcommittee held lengthy hearings on Clark's original veterans' measure and the new bill, slightly revised, must go to the committee again under today's procedure.

Described by Clark as "a fundamental bill of rights for the service men and women, representing as little as we can do at this time," the measure provides for hospitalization and education of veterans at public expense, permits cheap government loans for veterans to purchase homes, farms, and businesses, and authorizes a maximum of 52 weeks of unemployment compensation ranging from $15 to $25 a week within the first two years after discharge.

Form 1040 Much Simpler Than Paying Confusion

Philadelphia, Pa., March 13 (AP).—Some 7,500 income tax payers jammed the federal building today and several women fainted in the crush. "They'll find less confusion in form 1040 than they found here," quipped a clerk.

F. D. R. EXPECTED TO SPEED DRAFT CALL FOR DADS

Cut Army Deferments

Washington, D. C., March 13 [Special].—The war department is completing regulations to remove occupational deferments for all except a few hundred of its 8,500 employes in the 22-25 year age group, it was learned tonight. It voided all deferments for its 18-21 year old employes in October. The only exceptions in the new order will be men from 22 to 25 who are skilled in a handful of new arts, such as radar. No deferments are authorized for clerical workers or others whose jobs can be filled.

BY LLOYD NORMAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 13.—President Roosevelt will act within 24 hours to speed the drafting of fathers not needed in war industry in an effort to protect war plants against further loss of essential workers who are being withdrawn to fill lagging draft quotas, it was learned tonight.

The action was urged today by War Man Power Director McNutt and WPB Chairman Nelson at a conference with the President on occupational deferments, White House sources said.

The conference was arranged at the request of the war agency heads, who are alarmed by reports from industry that key workers are being drafted by local boards racing to fill draft quotas.

Draft Boards Fall Behind.

WMC sources, said the crisis resulted from a recent order by the selective service system to review and tighten occupational deferments. In many cases draft boards have fallen behind on their quotas as the result of liberal deferments of fathers and in some cases have canceled occupational deferments of childless husbands on a wholesale scale.

The President's new order, now being prepared by the WMC, is expected to clarify the government's policy on occupational deferments and to rule out leniency toward fathers. It is expected the order will reiterate the policy that dependency is no longer a ground for deferment and that the only basis for occupational deferment is the need of the worker in war production.

Calls Situation "Serious."

McNutt told reporters after the White House conference that the WMC is dealing with a "serious situation" which requires prompt action. He declined, however, to comment on what was discussed at the conference.

The WMC position on occupational deferments was expressed Thursday by Lawrence A. Appley, WMC executive director, who said war production would suffer if local boards do not apply strict standards in granting deferments. He disclosed some boards had winked at these standards in deferring fathers.

PLEDGE STABLE SUGAR SUPPLY FOR HOME USE

Present sugar allotments for regular home use and home canning will not be cut for some time, probably several months, the office of price administration said yesterday. The OPA at the same time ordered a reduction in that used by ice cream companies, beverage bottlers, and makers of condensed milk, mayonnaise, and candy.

Household sugar allowances, as well as those to bakeries, will remain at current levels after April 1, when the other industrial users will be cut from current 75 and 80 per cent of 1941 usage to 70 per cent. Sugar stamp 30, now valid, and stamp 31, to become good April 1 for five pounds, will remain good indefinitely.

2 Income Tax Agents Collapse Under Strain

New York, March 13 (AP).—This income tax business is tough on the collectors as well as the payers. Two worn out agents in the collectors office were sent home for medical treatment as what officials called the greatest rush here in history approached its peak.

A COUPON SLASH TO 2 GALLONS IN FORCE MARCH 22

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 13.—Rationing officials have decided to decrease the value of A coupons west of the Alleghanies from three gallons to two gallons each, a 33⅓ per cent slash, OPA sources said tonight. The formal announcement will be made tomorrow and the cut will be effective March 22.

The effect of the action will be to equalize the A coupons thruout the country at the current level in the 17 eastern states where the two gallon A coupons are allotted entirely for personal driving. In the midwest, one gallon of each three allowed under an A coupon is devoted to occupational driving.

Coupons Valid 10 Days.

OPA will make the A coupons valid for 10 days—as is now the practice in the east—instead of for one week, which is the present validity period in the midwest and west. The reduction in the gasoline ration thus is obtained thru extension of the period which the coupons are valid.

The cut in gasoline allotments will hit motorists who have only A books and who cannot qualify for occupational driving allowances. War workers, doctors, ministers, and others who are eligible for B and C extra rations will be able to obtain additional gasoline to compensate for the one-third cut of their A coupon value.

The decision of the OPA rationing staff came after gasoline allocations for the second calendar quarter were made known by the petroleum administration for war. These allocations were not made public, but were reported to be somewhat larger than for the first quarter. The increase, however, was reported offset by expanded farm and highway needs for gasoline during the spring season.

"Share the Misery."

Col. Bryant Houston, OPA rationing chief, conferred with the gasoline rationing chief and PAW representatives over the week-end and today in an effort to determine whether the gosoline cut is necessary. PAW officials were reported to have urged upon him the need for equalizing the A book ration thruout the country.

WOMAN IN SWISS CHILE LEGATION SEIZED AS SPY

SANTIAGO, Chile, March 13 (AP).—A modishly dressed stenographer in the Swiss legation—formerly employed by the German embassy—was detained by the Chilean secret service today in an espionage roundup. More than 20 persons were arrested. Authorities recovered thousands of dollars which the embassy was accused of distributing for spying.

Miss Else Von Flater, about 35, was said to have possessed documents giving instructions to spies in Chile. She is a German citizen, authorities said.

Two other arrests of Germans on espionage charges were announced yesterday. Juan Moller was seized with a radio transmitter found in his home, and Maximo Kutzner was arrested at Valparaiso. Juan Westermeyer, a physician at the military hospital, was suspended by the minister of defense.

YOUR PERSONAL POST WAR WORLD
These are the Andrew Stevens, Rural Route 2, Ashland, Oregon.
Says Andrew Stevens, "Things are certainly humming in this farm and orchard country.
"War means more money for us. But it can also mean inflation. That would be bad now, for us and the nation. It would be even worse for our post war hopes. So we Stevens are strong boosters of the seven-point plan."

Who's to blame if the cost of living gets "Out of Hand?"

WE BEGIN to see the answer if we look at what causes prices to head upward in wartime.

It's pretty simple, in a way. For one thing, most of our factories are busy turning out war goods. What's being produced for us civilians is not nearly enough.

For another thing, many of us are making higher wages and salaries at war work.

If we try to spend this money for the too-few goods on sale—meanwhile forgetting about price ceilings—we get into a terrible scramble. It's an auction on a grand scale—coast to coast and border to border. The upshot is that prices shoot up.

Are WE to blame?

That makes it clear that we as individuals can be mainly to blame if the cost of living begins to pinch. If we go out for goods at any price we are sure to send prices skyward.

It's true our Government can and must help keep prices down. But that doesn't make it any less important for us to do our part . . .

There are seven things each of us—as individuals—can do to help keep down the cost of living. They are recommended by our Government as good for us and good for our country. They are in the box at the right.

Let's all do these 7 things

Each of the points helps to hold down prices. Either they show us where to put our money so it can't be spent on scarce goods. Or they remind us that Government price controls will work only if we live up to them.

So, if we do all these seven things as best we can, we know that we are being "good citizens." We know that if prices do start skyrocketing, no part of the blame is on our shoulders. That gives us every reason for doing the things suggested in those seven points—and to start doing them this very day.

* * *

68,000,000 Americans, with the help of their life insurance agents, are already doing one of these seven things. They have also found the peace of mind, the family protection, the feeling of independence that owning life insurance brings.

It is in the interest of these 68,000,000 people—as well as the nation as a whole—that the Life Insurance Companies of America have joined together to bring you this wartime message to help prevent runaway prices. Address inquiries to 60 East 42nd St., New York 17, New York.

ANDREW STEVENS is a truck and fruit farmer with a cash income, after farm expenses, of $2,150. He has budgeted his income so that $1,050 goes into war bonds, savings, life insurance and debt payments. Are you fighting as well against runaway prices?

Here are the 7 Things our Government suggests that every family can do now and keep on doing

1. Buy and hold War Bonds.
2. Pay willingly our own share of the taxes—including increased taxes—that our country needs.
3. Provide for our security by adequate life insurance and savings.
4. Reduce our debts as much as possible.
5. Buy only what we need and make what we have last longer.
6. Follow the ration rules and price ceilings.
7. Cooperate with our Government's wage stabilization program.

$275,000 FRAUD BARED; SUSPECT HELD IN CANADA

14 Stores Are Mulcted by Fake 'Mill' Bills.

New York, March 13 [Special].—Canadian police in Vancouver, B. C., today interrupted the flight of 39 year old Ralph M. Wilby, an imaginative accountant of Jackson Heights, N. Y., wanted here for the theft of $275,984 from a nation-wide chain of department stores.

That figure was given in a 17 count indictment filed by Assistant District Atty. George J. Hunter Jr., on Feb. 25. Actually the district attorney's office said, "Wilby's peculations may go as high as $500,000." Two detectives left today for British Columbia to bring him back.

Assumption of the name of a major in the Canadian army, establishment of four nonexistent textile mills in New Jersey and payment to himself in sums purportedly owed the bogus mills by the department stores, were the basic methods employed over a four year period by Wilby, the indictment charged.

Served Forgery Term.

Wilby, who served in the Ontario reformatory in 1930 for theft and forgery, according to police records, went to work here four years ago for the William T. Knott Company, Inc., as an accountant and auditor. Last September he became assistant treasurer of the concern.

The Knott company is a subsidiary of Mercantile Stores, Inc., of Wilmington, Del., which owns 14 stores and controls four others in the United States and Canada. The Knott company, according to the indictment, acted as purchasing agent for these stores, 15 of which were said to have been swindled by Wilby.

In a manner as yet undisclosed Wilby obtained the references—and adopted the name of Maj. Alexander Douglas Hume, a Canadian army officer and chartered accountant, in getting his job.

Formed Own "Mills"

Not content with his $6,000 yearly salary as assistant treasurer, it was charged, Wilby formed the nonexistent textile mills.

As Hume, Wilby received forms from the 15 department stores listing amounts to be paid various concerns—four of which included his imaginary mills. He established bank accounts, it was said, in Trenton for each of the mills and as he received payments from the department stores, deposited them to the account of his "mills." When he wanted money, he would draw checks payable to himself and deposit them to his own accounts in New York.

The first clew as to Wilby's whereabouts came when he inadvertently used his right name instead of the major's in signing a check and then hurried crossed it out. This occurred in Hamilton, Ont.

Last January, auditors began to go over the Knott company books. Wilby went skiing. The skiing trip was interrupted on a ferry boat today between Vancouver and Victoria.

'L' ASKS ACTION ON SUIT TO GET FARE INCREASE

Herbert M. Johnson, attorney for the Chicago Rapid Transit company, told Circuit Judge Miner yesterday that the elevated lines were losing thousands of dollars daily because of the delay in deciding the plea of the elevated lines to restrain the Illinois commerce commission from prohibiting fare increases. A hearing on objections to the report of Charles A. McDonald, master in chancery, who on last Nov. 6 favored an injunction and a boost in the "L" fare from 10 to 12 cents, with an extra cent for transfers, was to have been held yesterday before Circuit Judge LaBuy. Judge Miner continued the hearing to March 24.

MINER ARRESTED IN HOLDUP DEATH OF MAIL CARRIER

Whitesburg, Ky., March 13 (AP).—John Banks, 35, Letcher county miner who is charged with fatally clubbing a rural mail carrier, robbing him, and burying him alive, was arrested yesterday, Sheriff Gilbert Polly announced today.

The sheriff said Banks admitted slaying Pearl Bowling, 50, explaining that "he had to do it."

Bowling was delivering a telegram when Banks clubbed him and covered his body with earth and leaves. She sheriff said two boys saw the attack and summoned aid after Banks left the scene.

Farmers' Workers Drop to Record March 1 Low

Washington, D. C., March 13 (AP).—There were 8,562,000 workers on farms on March 1, the lowest number on record for that date, the agriculture department reported today.

VERY CONSTANT EX-WIFE JAILS CONSTANT BALT

Constant Balt.

Persistence pays, especially if you have a writ in your pocketbook, agreed Mrs. Ann Balt, 34, of 7100 Sheridan rd., yesterday. Back in 1934 she divorced her husband, Constant Balt, now 47, of 2757 Commonwealth av., a certified public accountant.

He fell behind in payments of $5 a week for support of their child, Constance, now 15. Mrs. Balt eventually procured a body attachment for his arrest. That was in 1936. The arrearage was settled, but the writ was not recalled, and Mrs. Balt kept it in her purse for possible future use. In time Balt fell again in arrears, this time to the amount of $390, and Mrs. Balt brushed off the writ.

Yesterday she saw her ex-husband in the La Salle st. financial district. She handed the writ to a policeman, who promptly arrested Balt. A short time later Balt was arraigned before Judge Robert J. Dunne of the Circuit court. He paid the $390 and was freed.

DETROIT POLICE TRACING DRAKE MURDER WEAPON

First response to the efforts of police to trace the gun used in the Drake hotel murder of Mrs. Frank Starr Williams came yesterday from Detroit [Mich.] police, who asked for a complete description of the weapon.

Chicago police were hopeful that the Detroit authorities had uncovered a clew. Their admitted one chance of solving the slaying depended on tracing the gun's ownership. Every major city in the country has been canvassed without any previous response.

Mrs. Williams, wife of a state department attache, was shot in her Drake room Jan. 19 by an unidentified woman. Her daughter, Mrs. Patricia Goodbody, also was fired upon.

EXCHANGE TAX HELD INVALID; CITY TO APPEAL

The new city ordinance taxing currency exchanges $75 a year was ruled invalid yesterday by Judge John Lupe of Superior court. Approximately 500 exchanges are affected. The fee was fixed by the aldermanic budget makers to provide part of the $2,000,000 needed to boost the pay of hundreds of city employes in 1944. Judge Lupe held that the Illinois statutes applying to money changers and brokers made no provision for taxing currency exchanges. The exchanges were represented by Atty. Hirsch E. Soble. The city will appeal.

RELEASED AFTER FOURTH ARREST IN TWO WEEKS

Anthony De Lordo, acquitted of participating in the gambling war assassination of Martin [Sonny Boy] Quirk, was freed by police yesterday after a petition for a writ of habeas corpus had been dismissed by Chief Justice Benjamin P. Epstein on the police agreement to release him. James M. Burke complained that De Lordo had been arrested and released four times in the last two weeks, the last time Sunday with a girl at 69th st. and Ashland av. Judge Epstein said he could not stop police from seizing him.

U.S. APPEALS AP CASE DECISION AS TOO LIMITED

All Issues to Go to Supreme Court.

New York, March 13 (AP).—The government appealed today from the lower court decision in its civil anti-trust suit against the Associated Press and said its appeal, together with that taken previously by the AP, would bring all aspects of the case before the United States Supreme court.

The department of justice's formal petition for permission to file a cross-appeal was granted by Circuit Court Judges Learned Hand and Augustus N. Hand. The AP, non-profit news coöperative, obtained similar permission last Thursday when permission was also granted to the Tribune company of Chicago and Col. Robert R. McCormick, who also are defendants. Col. McCormick is editor and publisher of THE TRIBUNE and also an AP director.

Scope Called "Limited."

The AP would be restrained under the judgment of a special expediting court from observing by-laws under which members might consider the competitive effect of an applicant for membership. However, this three judge court declared that the AP might restrict admission on other grounds.

"The limited scope of the prohibition against new membership restrictions has been assigned as error by the government," the justice department's appeal papers said.

The government's cross-appeal contended also that the district court erred in refusing to enjoin the AP from continuing to provide its news report exclusively to members, from demanding of members the local news of spontaneous origin, and from entering into an exclusive news agreement with the Canadian Press.

Cites Alleged Errors.

The lower court said the restraints it did impose in this respect could be modified or terminated in the event the AP amended its by-laws respecting admission, but the government contended they should have been granted irrespective of any by-laws modification.

"The court erred," the petition continued, "in its conclusion of law that the Associated Press does not monopolize or dominate the furnishing of news reports, news pictures, or features to newspapers in the United States."

Wendell Berge, assistant United States attorney general in charge of the anti-trust division, said in a statement that the purpose of the cross-appeal was to "obtain a review of these questions by the Supreme court so that, as a result of appeals by both parties, all aspects of the District court's decision will be brought before the Supreme court."

Death Sentence Stayed by State Supreme Court

Springfield, Ill., March 13 (AP).—The state Supreme court today stayed the death sentence of William Harold Jameson, 22, of Evansville, Ind., and agreed to review his murder conviction in the Jan. 14 shooting of a taxicab driver at Duquoin, Ill. Jameson's electrocution had been set for March 23.

Friend of the Yanks' Kin

BY SALLY JOY BROWN

[This department answers questions covering problems related to the social service of relatives of service men, both in the column and by mail, if stamped, addressed envelopes are sent with inquiries to Sally Joy Brown.]

C. D. writes: "We have just heard that my brother is now a prisoner in Germany. We are very anxious to know how we may write and send him packages. Can you tell us how this is done and advise me as to what we are allowed to send?"

ANSWER: I am forwarding a bulletin on packages to prisoners of war. However, no package may be sent without the official labels provided by the war department. The person named by the soldier as his emergency addressee will receive the official labels. If no member of the family has received such information, write to the office of the adjutant general, war department, Washington, D. C., and provide complete identifying information concerning your brother.

Mrs. P. T. writes: "I am the wife of a first sergeant in the army overseas, and I am expecting a child. I would like to know whether I can apply for the free medical care and hospitalization which is offered to the wives of service men. I am entirely dependent upon my husband, and I have no parents living and no other source of income. He also supports his widowed mother."

ANSWER: As the wife of a first sergeant, you are not eligible for the free maternity care provided for the wives of service men in the four lowest pay grades. However, it is possible that the Red Cross can assist you in making plans for hospitalization at reduced fees, and I would suggest you contact that organization.

Mrs. H. B. writes: "I have been living with a man for seven years as his common law wife. We have two daughters, and he has also been supporting my son by a former marriage. This man has been our sole support for seven years and is soon to be inducted. Since Illinois does not recognize common law marriages, I know that I am not entitled to any government income for myself, but I have been told that my son could not receive any allowance unless he was adopted or we had our marriage rectified. Because the children are so small, it will be impossible for me to go out and work. Can you tell me whether the information I have received is correct?"

ANSWER: Yes. Ordinarily, a step-child may be considered eligible for a family allowance, but since you are not married to the man, your child by a previous marriage could not be considered as related to the man with whom you now live, except by adoption. The family allowance, in cases where there is no legal wife but two children, amounts to $62, and it would be necessary for the father of the children to provide sworn affidavits concerning their parentage. If it is at all possible, I would suggest that you have your relationship legalized before the man enters service.

Jack Davis, 45, of 2057 Sheffield av., accused of molesting three young children and showing them obscene pictures, was pummeled yesterday by the irate father of two of the children, 8 and 10, when the men met in a corridor outside Felony court before Davis' arraignment.

The father, Harold Nelson, 40, of 4259 N. Wolcott av., literally bounced Davis against corridor walls with his fists. Bailiffs intervened and took Davis before Judge Matthew Hartigan.

After lightly reprimanding Nelson, the court held Davis, a married man, in $3,000 bail for hearing March 30.

5 Are Burned to Death as Fire Destroys Home

Rollingsford, N. H., March 13 (AP).—Five persons burned to death today when fire destroyed their home. They were John Serveats, 27; his son, John Jr., 4, and two nieces, Barbara Downs, 10; Virginia Downs, 2, and a nephew, Lawrence Downs, 16.

SUSPENDED COPS DECIDE TO SEEK REINSTATEMENT

Eight police captains suspended after a grand jury investigation into gambling conditions last fall said yesterday they would file petitions in Superior court tomorrow asking immediate reinstatement and pay for time they have been under suspension.

The announcement followed a request by the civil service commission that the captains provide written instead of personal answers to the charges that gambling was permitted in their districts. The request was made to expedite the proceedings, after the commission spent eight weeks listening to evidence in the case of another captain, Walter Healy.

In their written answers, the captains are asked to tell which allegations made against them are admitted; which are denied, and to record any facts showing an affirmative defense. Commissioner Allman will be asked to file a reply to the written answers of the captains he has accused of negligence.

POSTOFFICE SAFE ROBBED.

Jacksonville, Ill., March 13 [AP].—Several hundred dollars in cash was stolen from a steel safe in a postoffice substation in Steinheimer's Drug store last night.

Travelers Aid Board to Lay Benefit Plans

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE WOMAN'S board of the Travelers Aid society, which has given a series of interesting and profitable annual benefits, has invited members' husbands to a meeting in the home of its president, Mrs. Edwin W. Sims Jr., and Mr. Sims, at 6 o'clock this evening to discuss plans for this year's party. Guests will bring their own cocktails and box suppers.

The board has lost many of its original members, who have accompanied their husbands to army or navy posts. The most recent loss is Mrs. Gardiner B. Van Ness Jr., whose husband, Lt. Van Ness, now is stationed in Washington, D. C., where she has joined him. Another member, Mrs. Robert Vested, will be missing shortly, for she and Mr. Vested are moving to Cleveland, O.

A special member of the board, Mrs. Frank Osborne Elliott, who now lives near Gulfport, Miss., where Lt. Elliott is stationed, is being congratulated upon the birth of a daughter, Edith Christina, on Feb. 23 in Gulfport. Mrs. William Sills will continue with her board work, tho her husband, recently commissioned an ensign, will be away. She and their three sons will remain in Winnetka.

On the Calendar.

The Woman's guild and auxiliary of St. Chrysostom's church has selected April 18 for the date of a fashion show and tea it will give in the church gymnasium to raise money for the guild's various charities and for the church's service men's center. Mrs. Arthur Hollaman, new president of the guild, and Mrs. Earl Bruder, are in charge of the benefit. Mrs. Frank H. Woods Jr. will obtain the models who will appear between 3 and 5 p. m., among them Mrs. Louis Sudler, Mrs. Winfield Durbin II., Mrs. Louis Watermulder, Mrs. William M. Collins Jr., and Mrs. John Ames.

The Evanston senior board of the Infantile Welfare society will benefit from a "treasure and trinket" sale to be held in some prominent Evanston location March 29, 30, and 31. Mrs. Warren Buckley and Mrs. H. P. Roby are chairmen of the project. Mrs. William T. Faricy and Mrs. Clinton Merrick are in charge of jellies and baked foods. Mrs. Wallace Patterson will obtain china, silver, and glassware; Mrs. Elias Lyman will see that there is a good supply of needlework on hand, and Mrs. George Sollitt and Mrs. William Engel are in charge of trinkets and jewelry, respectively. Mrs. Charles H. Bosworth will tell fortunes by reading cards, and Mrs. Gretta P. Fuller will read horoscopes.

The Chicago Society of the Archaeological Institute of America will present Prof. Henri Seyrig, director of antiquities in French Syria, in a lecture at 8 p. m. tomorrow in the James Henry Breasted lecture hall of the University of Chicago. Prof. Seyrig will speak on "Excavations at Palmyra, 1939-'40."

Wedding News.

Saturday, April 1, is the date set for the marriage of Miss Jean Wolcott, daughter of Mrs. Ryland A. Wolcott, and Petty Officer Ezra Pugh of the navy, son of Mrs. Chauncey Ezra Pugh of New York. The ceremony will take place in the Winnetka home of the bride's mother, with only the families present to hear the Rev. Samuel D. Harkness of the Winnetka Congregational church read the ceremony. A larger reception will follow. The bride's sister, Ensign Nancy McKeown [Mrs. Scott McKeown] of the SPARS will arrive from Seattle, Wash., on the 22d to serve as matron of honor. A younger sister, Katrina, will be at home from Bennington college to serve as bridesmaid along with the bridegroom's sister, Miss Martha Pugh, who will come west with her mother.

Also coming for the wedding will be the bride's grandmother and uncle and aunt, Mrs. Eben Wolcott and the Roger Wolcotts, all of Indianapolis, Ind. Mr. Wolcott will give his niece in marriage. Mrs. John Quincy Adams Jr. will entertain at a luncheon for Miss Wolcott on the 23d, and Mrs. Robert Blackburn will give the spinster dinner. Mrs. Wol-

200 More Join WAVES Than WAC Weekly

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 13.—Two hundred more recruits are enlisting in the WAVES each week than are going into the WAC, according to latest figures available in the war and navy departments. However, the total strength of the WAC, estimated now at more than 70,000, still is ahead of that of the WAVES, which was 51,000 on March 1.

The spurt in WAVE enlistments, which has enabled the WAVES recruiting rate to catch up with and pass that of the WAC within a few months, followed the navy's removal, last Nov. 12, of its ban on the enlistment of sailors' wives in the WAVES. The WAVES' ranks still are barred to the wives of commissioned naval officers. From the start the army has permitted wives of enlisted men and officers to join the WAC.

The WAVES now are taking in more than 1,000 recruits weekly, compared with 850 a week last fall. They are aiming at a weekly average enlistment rate of 1,200 and a minimum goal of 92,400 in service for training by the end of 1944. Approximately 10,000 WAVES now are in training stations.

The last official figure on WAC strength, issued Jan. 1, set the number in service and training at 62,859, of which about 3,000 were on overseas duty. The WAC has been enlisting approximately 800 recruits weekly since then to reach the present estimated total of more than 70,000.

Authorized recruiting strength of the WAC, originally set at 25,000, now is 200,000.

The SPARS, whose ranks were opened to wives of enlisted coast guardsmen at about the same time similar action was taken affecting the WAVES, also expect to reach their immediate recruiting goal of 8,800, by June 30. They now have 7,100 on active duty, in coast guard installations along the nation's seaboards and principal inland waterways and in training.

Here Are Recipes for Some of Items on Current Menus

Following are recipes for some of the dishes included on Mary Meade's ration budget menus this week:

Mexican Tamale Pie—Combine 1 cup yellow cornmeal, 1 teaspoon salt, and 4 cups boiling water in top of double boiler. Cook for 45 minutes, stirring occasionally. Brown 1 medium chopped onion, 1 chopped green pepper, and 1 pound hamburger in hot fat. Add No. 2 can tomatoes, No. 2 can whole kernel corn, drained, 1 teaspoon chili powder, dash of cayenne, and salt to suit taste. Cook until thickened. Line greased baking dish with half the cornmeal mush, pour in meat mixture, cover with remaining mush, and bake in a 375 degree oven for half an hour or until brown.

Meat Balls with Raisin Sauce—Combine 1 pound hamburger, 1 medium minced onion, 1 cup dry bread crumbs, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1 beaten egg, and ⅓ cup milk. Shape into balls, brown in hot fat, pour raisin sauce over balls, cover, and simmer 25 minutes. Raisin sauce: Saute ¼ cup each chopped onion, green pepper, celery, and a minced small clove of garlic in 3 tablespoons bacon drippings, about 5 minutes. Add ⅓ cup seedless raisins, ⅓ cup catsup, 1 tablespoon vinegar, 1 cup water, and salt and pepper to taste.

Prune Angel Pie—Mix 1⅓ cups crushed graham crackers with ¼ cup chopped nuts, ¼ teaspoon each cinnamon and cloves, and 1 teaspoon baking powder. Combine ½ cup sugar with 3 egg yolks, ¾ teaspoon vanilla, and 1 cup chopped cooked prunes, and add to dry mixture, mixing well. Fold in 3 egg whites which have been beaten until stiff but not dry. Bake in greased 9 inch pie plate at 350 degrees for about half an hour. Save part for lunch Tuesday.

White Collar GIRL

BY RUTH MAC KAY

According to the Experts.

The experts say
The faultless way
For you to rise from bed
Is to ignore
The icy floor
And concentrate instead

On how to touch
Your toes and such;
That is their firm assertion.
You must, they say,
Begin each day
With physical exertion.

I still contend
I'd rather spend
My mornings counting sheep;
Let others rise
And exercise—
I much prefer to sleep!

It Sticks in the Mind.

The introduction by a former high school teacher of one of Chicago's most successful business women as "the girl I never thought would amount to much!"

The junior supervisor at the Illinois Bell Telephone company who obeyed that impulse to "Adopt a Yank" last Christmas and was surprised by a visit from her Yank a few days ago.

The 17,000,000 women now in business in the United States, comprising one-third of all workers at the present time.

Lil Oswald's comment that a sailor is a "wolf in ship's clothing."

Your Telephone Personality.

Over the telephone there is only one way to transmit personality—thru the voice. And that much-talked-of first impression is important. Since facial expression and personal appearance cannot help you—except possibly by giving a lift to your spirits—put everything you have into your voice. Inject a note of pleasantness and vitality that will quicken your listener's interest.

A charming personality depends upon two things—a pleasing voice and good speech. . . . How do you open your telephone "door" or that of your employer? Your voice is the sole representative and it is inevitable that you make some kind of impression on your listener. Will your tone of voice, your way of greeting, the ease with which you are understood send across the telephone wire a fleeting glimpse of a friendly, alert, and capable person?

RUBY RILEY, in "Correct English."

Epilog.

The daughter answered the telephone Sunday when I called to ask whether Bill, the young son overseas, still wanted some books. The mother, who works every day, was resting. "Bill is dead," the daughter's voice said gently. "But mother says to tell your readers to give their books to the WAVES at Abbott hall for their lounge." Her voice shook a little: "That's what mother says."

Children Make Paper Serve Its Country Twice

Five grade school children—two boys and three girls—each clutching a $10 bill, appeared yesterday at the army's Gardiner General hospital, 1660 E. Hyde Park blvd., to present the financial results of the sale of 4,622 pounds of waste paper which they had collected in the current salvage drive.

The boys, George Wolkhamer, 13, of 5229 Ingleside av., and George Cortilet, 13, of 1119 E. 54th st., suggested that the money be used to buy airplane building kits for the disabled soldiers at the hospital. Both the boys spend their leisure time making model planes.

The girls—young Wolkhamer's three sisters, Herma, 12; Marie, 11; and Susan, 9—looked at each other and then Susan said maybe the soldiers would like to have paper dolls to amuse themselves during their recuperation.

The girls finally gave in, however, after Pvt. Stanley Maer of New York City, a patient, settled the problem by saying he thought model airplanes would be better.

The five children reported it was no easy task collecting more than two tons of waste paper, which is vitally needed for war. They said the job took four days and that they called on literally thousands of persons, using George Wolkhamer's ancient red wagon. A dealer gave them $26 for the paper and they augmented this with their own spending money and a contribution of $10 from Mrs. Wolkhamer to make up the hospital gift.

After presenting the money at the hospital the children went home, put the little red wagon back into service, and started on another round of paper collections.

A new paper salvage drive, with many prizes, was announced yesterday. The Chicago waste paper campaign committee, an organization of the paper consuming mills, has offered $1,000 to be divided equally among the Catholic and public grammar schools for the largest collections, starting March 20. The drive now in progress, sponsored by the Chicago Newspaper Publishers' association, will end Saturday.

$5 PRIZE RECIPE

Steak a la Mode.

[Serves six.]

1½ pounds steak
Salt pepper and flour
Bacon drippings

'Good Night, Sweet Prince'

By Gene Fowler

[Copyright: 1943, 1944: By Gene Fowler: Published by arrangement with the Viking Press, Inc.]

SYNOPSIS: John Barrymore, born at Philadelphia Feb. 14, 1882, promptly was nicknamed "Greengoose" because he looked "just like the pretty lad in the story book." As a schoolboy, however, he was unprepossessing. His father, Maurice, and his mother, Georgianna Drew Barrymore, were both famous stage personalities. The grandmother, Louisa Lane Drew [Mum Mum to the children], was a distinguished actress, and her sons—Sidney [Uncle Googan] and John—were increasingly successful. John and the other Barrymore children, Lionel and Ethel, lived in this theatrical atmosphere. Later the boys were sent to boarding school. Then their mother, Georgie, became ill and was sent on a health cruise.

INSTALMENT VIII.

A CHILD NEVER AGAIN.

When Georgie returned from the Bahamas, her sons were away at Seton Hall and Ethel at the Convent of Notre Dame. Mum Mum had accepted a short engagement in Boston. John Drew had gone abroad, and Maurice was with a stock company out west. It was a scattered family.

The sea journey had benefited Georgie somewhat, yet physicians now could diagnose her condition as tuberculosis in an advanced form. They decided to send the actress to Santa Barbara in California.

Who would go with Georgie, to watch over her during the then eight day journey by train? The tradition of the theater was severe. Its people must not miss a curtain; contractual obligations outweighed any personal problems of actors.

It seemed that no one other than Ethel, barely 14 years old, was available for this duty. And it seems now, 50 years after that sad time, that Ethel always would be called upon to bear family burdens. She became a successor to Mrs. Drew in this and many other respects, a willing, dependable, uncomplaining refuge for madcap relatives in their hours of bewilderment.

Ethel left the convent to go on the long journey with her stricken mother. Without experience of the world of precise business contacts where service and courtesy are often modified by the amount of cash in view, the child had to make all arrangements for her mother's transportation and care. It was a shocking circumstance for a girl suddenly to exchange the cloistered serenity of Notre Dame for the shove-about rudeness of railway stations.

Ethel, her mother realized, was growing into a beautiful person, both in appearance and in character. Georgie remarked the long golden curls, the blue eyes that seemingly changed to gray or green or even midnight with the girl's moods.

"All my children," said Georgie, "have Drew eyes and Drew hair." Then she added, as if to herself, "and Drew courage."

Sometimes Modjeska visited her friend Georgie in the sanitarium. The Polish actress had been playing for several seasons with Edwin Booth, now in his own year of death. She resided, between Shakespearean tours, at her Anaheim home, which was not far from Santa Barbara. It became obvious to Modjeska that Georgie was gravely ill. She tried gently to prepare Ethel for the shock of her mother's death.

One July morning Ethel went to mass. As she was returning to the sanitarium, one of the little girls of the neighborhood, skipping along happily, began a sing-song shout: "Your mother's dying! Your mother's dying!"

The shocking chant put Ethel in a state of agonizing suspense. She tried to run to her mother's room, but her feet were stones. She held her breath as she reached the doorway, from which a thin faced doctor emerged to tell Ethel that it was true.

Ethel knelt beside the bed to hear her mother say, "What is to become of my poor little ones?"

Ethel undertook the task of arranging for the removal of the body to Philadelphia. To make herself appear mature the child did up her hair and bought a long black dress. She purchased a coffin from meager funds. She was sadly resolute. She assumed the burden, alone, and far from home. She would be a child never again.

Once more on the train Ethel sat for eight nights and days in a day coach. There had been no money available for a berth. She did not get out to dine at the railway eating houses, as was the practice in those days. Occasionally some one thought to give Ethel a sandwich, but that was all. She was the kind of person even then who could share her joys with others but never her grief.

She had spent her last dollar on a telegram to Sidney Drew at North Long Branch. He would know how to break the terrible news of mother's death to Mum Mum. Perhaps he could even find papa, who had not been heard from for weeks.

At Chicago, between trains and while Ethel was standing by to see the plain box wheeled from the baggage car, she heard her name called by a messenger boy. She signed for the message, sent by one of Maurice's best friends, Clay M. Greene, shepherd of The Lambs: "Don't worry about a thing, little girl. We are trying to locate your father."

Lionel remembers that at his mother's funeral Maurice seemed unable to believe that Georgie had died. He kept trembling and denying the tragic fact. He had on a frock coat, the one he had worn on-stage in "Frou-Frou," and a high, stiff collar that irritated his neck and chin.

Ethel and Jack went to the cemetery in a carriage with Mum Mum, who, clad in black, looked gravely thoughtful, much as she had in the portrait Sully had painted of her in 1864. Lionel rode with his father and an actor friend, Eben Plympton. The friend reached across Lionel's shoulders to place a hand on Maurice's shoulder.

"Why don't you have a cigaret, Barry?" Plympton asked. "It might settle your nerves a little."

Maurice stared at Plympton confusedly. "But would it be the right thing to do?"

"Of course," said Plympton, providing Maurice with a cigaret. Lionel lighted it for his father, but noticed that it hung loosely from Maurice's lips and soon went out.

After Georgie had been buried and the family were on their way to the New York train, Mum Mum said: "The greatest sorrow of all is for a mother to outlive her children."

Looking at Hollywood

By Hedda Hopper

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., March 13.—Went to a different kind of party several days ago—a luncheon given by our Motion Picture Mothers' club. It was formed five years ago, and Tom Brown's mother has been president until the other day, when Robert Cummings' mother took over. . . . The club, which has 100 members, was founded because these women were lonely. Many of them worked long years to educate their children, then came to Hollywood, and the youngsters became stars. The children had work to do, new associations at the studios, new friends, a new life, long, tiring hours, and little time left over. Their mothers were left to themselves. . . . Many of the mothers who had lived in small towns where they knew every one came here knowing no one.

Happy Thought Ends Loneliness.

In order to bridge that utter loneliness and friendlessness, they banded together. Now the minute a new star or starlet arrives, the mothers of other stars call and invite her to a party. . . . It isn't only a social organization. Four years ago the club formed a Red Cross chapter, and the members have made hundreds of garments, hospital supplies, and sweaters. They've met every quota required by the Red Cross. . . . From the very beginning of the Hollywood Canteen they took over Monday night. They're there behind the snack bar, making sandwiches and seeing to it that strange boys have a good time.

No Clinging Vines These Mothers.

The other day at the luncheon Anita Louise's mother said, "I used to feel I was only as important as my little girl—no more, no less. Now I'm important because of achievement. If I serve well and to the best of my ability, I'm important. My child has nothing to do with it." . . . These women aren't ashamed of a few wrinkles here and there. Not one has had her face lifted, and experiences etched in some of the faces denote firm character. . . . More than half have sons or sons-in-law in the service. Gary Cooper's mother was wearing the uniform of the Beverly Hills emergency corps of which she's also head. Lydia Rader, Sharon Douglas' mother, has four sons in the army.

Proud Grandmothers, Too.

John Carroll's mother told me that her granddaughter, who is 4, is learning to play the piano. When her grandmother asked what she was going to play at a school recital she replied, "I'm learning 'Sleigh Bells.'" But at the recital she announced her piece as "Beethoven's Moonlight Sinatra!" She'd heard some one say it on the radio. . . . Joan Davis' mother brought Joan's daughter. The child's leg was in a plaster cast. I asked how it happened. "O, a boy chased me!" "Aren't you a little young for that?" said I. Her answer came back quick as a flash. "Yes, but you should have seen the boy! He was on a bicycle."

Eternal Feminine.

George Marshall's mother was not only wearing a feathered hat, but an opal necklace and earrings to match. When I said, "Aren't you superstitious?" she said. "Would you be if your son gave you anything as beautiful as this?" . . . Melvyn Douglas' mother told about his letters from the Pacific war zone. . . . Joan Crawford's mother's like a cricket. She's all over the place. . . . Cesar Romero's tells me Cesar is already on the other side. . . . There was Philip de Lacey's foster mother. Remember little Philip? He was a child star. She, a trained nurse, adopted him when he was 18 months old. She's 76 now—he's 26 and a director of March of Time pictures. When I remarked about her appearance she said, "How could one grow old with a boy like Philip?" . . . After the war the club will build a small clubhouse with a garden. You'll travel thousands of miles without finding a group of women more charming, alive, or interesting. I'm proud that they not only call me friend but member.

Club Leaders to Visit Veterans at Hines Today

The philanthropy committee of the Conference of Club Presidents and Program Chairmen will visit Edward Hines Jr. Memorial hospital today, taking to the disabled veterans of two wars there gifts of cigarets and candy. Mrs. Frederick Tice, the committee chairman, also has arranged for George Troeseth, magician, and a troupe of other entertainers to perform for the men.

State Leader to Be Guest of County Eight and Forty

Cook county salon of Eight and Forty, American Legion auxiliary honor society, will give a dinner tomorrow night at the Top of the Town club, 185 N. Wabash av., for the departmental chapeau, Mrs. Louise Geer of Champaign, who is paying her annual official visit to the unit. Other special guests will be Mrs. Margaret Delles of Chicago, nationale chapeau; Mrs. Margaret Speir of La Grange, nationale la cassiere [treasurer], and Mrs. Florence Kellogg of Chicago, la organizer.

Household Forum

—By Louise Bargelt—

Mrs. H. B. Hanson, 9909 10th av., S. W., Seattle, Wash.—When sending packages to boys overseas, place Scotch tape over the entire address. This prevents addresses from becoming smeared. [Ed. note: If you can still get it, or have some in reserve!]

Mrs. V. Betts, 1011 Dwillard dr., Kalamazoo, Mich.—When the inside of a light bulb begins to darken, it's a good idea to retire it to a clothes closet or some other place where it won't be used often. There it will last for some time and won't waste light where light counts.

Betty H., Chicago.—Old socks have a dozen uses around a house. I use them for applying wax and for applying silver polish as well as for all kinds of dust cloths.

cott will give the bridal dinner at the Racquet club on the 31st.

Here and There.

Lt. Scotson Webbe, who is on duty in the Pacific, soon will have word of the arrival of his second son March 6 at Northwestern hospital in Minneapolis, where his wife and their elder boy have been living with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Harry Michelson. The children's paternal grandparents are the Albion S. Webbes of Winnetka.

The Rev. and Mrs. Von Ogden Vogt have received word that their son, Walter Ogden Vogt, has completed his work at the officer candidate school in Australia and has been commissioned second lieutenant. He now is in New Guinea.

The Charles Garfield Kings have been enjoying a brief family reunion with their son, Lt. Garfield King, and daughter, Mrs. John I. Shaw. Lt. King left yesterday after a two day stay, having come from Florida to see his parents and little daughter, Sheila. To share in the reunion, Mrs. Shaw made the trip from Washington, D. C., where Lt. Comdr. Shaw is stationed with the navy.

Lt. [j. g.] and Mrs. Louis Lee Hemingway Jr. are here for a short visit with the former Eleanor Cochran's mother, Mrs. Edward A. Cudahy, and Mr. Cudahy. When they leave Thursday they will go to Portland, Ore., to await Lt. Hemingway's orders. Young Mrs. Hemingway's sister, Miss Nancy Cochran, will not see her on this visit, as she will remain for about 10 days longer in California visiting their maternal grandparents, Dr. and Mrs. Murray P. Brush.

Officers Elected.

Mrs. Harold Yegge was reëlected president of the Evanston Junior league when the group met yesterday in the Orrington hotel in Evanston. Officers serving under her on the new board will be Mrs. Carl B. Davis Jr., Mrs. Randolph Putman, Mrs. Arwed Boitel, Mrs. Thomas Coulter, and Mrs. Chester Taylor Jr. Also on the board will be Mrs. Roger Barrett, as magazine editor; Miss Shirley Garnett, arts chairman; Mrs. Wallace D. Mackenzie, publicity; Mrs. Frank Madden, future policy chairman, and Mrs. Edward Cullen, educational chairman.

At the annual meeting of the Cradle society of Evanston held Friday at the Casino, Arthur L. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. William B. Benton, and Mrs. I. Newton Perry were selected directors of the society. Mrs. Robert E. Wood, who was elected a vice president, is the first woman to hold that office. Other officers and directors were reëlected, including Sewell L. Avery, president. Mrs. William B. Walrath, founder, is managing director.

Women in War Work

The agile fingers of a violinist went to work for the war when Miss Alma Garland replaced a man in the radio department of Northwest Airlines. Along with 34 other graduates of the Midland Radio school,

[Northwest Airlines Photo.]

Miss Alma Garland at work as radio operator for air line.

Miss Garland is handling complicated codes and devices which were the work of men before the war.

Radio Operator Garland's specific job is to communicate with planes by radio phone, giving pilots weather reports, and to receive and send important messages on which planes depend for safety.

Miss Garland is not the only former artist among Northwest Airlines' personnel. Other women radio operators were pianists and dancers before going into the work which keeps transportation of essential travelers "on the beam."

Mrs. J. DeForest Richards of the Illinois chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution has sent out invitations to a large Red Cross meeting at 2:30 p. m. Thursday in the ballroom of the Drake hotel. A movie showing activities of the Red Cross overseas will be presented, and Paul Edwards, who returned recently from 15 months abroad as a Red Cross field director, will speak.

Mrs. G. Corson Ellis, director of the central information bureau, OCD, 209 W. Jackson blvd., reports that 30 more volunteers are needed to staff the office, which handles hundreds of inquiries daily regarding war agencies, programs, and problems.

The duties of the bureau's assistants have expanded recently to include greater service to veterans of this war and their families. Returning soldiers, sailors, and marines are directed by the central information bureau to the agency best equipped to solve their special problems.

Among the organizations which Mrs. Ellis and her assistant, Mrs. Lewis Willner, coöperate are the Red Cross, the Soldiers' and Sailors' council, the veterans' administration, the American Legion, the Army Emergency relief, and the veterans' aid bureau of the United States employment service.

The office is open from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. daily except Sunday and until noon on Saturdays. Volunteers who work for the bureau are trained on the job.

Women interested in this type of volunteer war job are urged to call Mrs. Ellis at the bureau's new number, Wabash 5500. Prospective assistants must be willing to devote a minimum of two days a week.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 spade	2 diamonds	2 hearts	Pass
3 clubs	Pass	3 spades	Pass
4 spades	Pass	Pass	Pass

West led the king and queen of diamonds. South ruffed, led the spade king and, when West played low, led a second spade toward dummy. West shrewdly held up the ace again, and now declarer could not afford to lead a third round, because West would win and force out South's last trump with diamond leads. Of course, declarer had no cause for worry about the trump situation—he could well afford to let West make both his trumps—and he therefore cashed the ace and jack of hearts. So far, so good, but now declarer made a fatal slip: he led a low club to the king and then started to cash the good hearts. West ruffed, laid down the trump ace, and then shifted to diamonds. Declarer had to use his last trump to ruff, and when he tried to run the club suit, East turned up with a stopper. Down one!

The contract could have been made very easily if declarer had refused to ruff the second diamond lead, but even as the hand was actually played up to the seventh trick, success would have been certain if declarer had exercised a little care. Instead of leading the low club to the king, he should have cashed the club ace or queen and then led to the king. If both defenders followed, the whole club suit was good. If West ruffed the second club, the king would still be in dummy to solidify the suit. Finally, if West discarded on the second club, the king would win and declarer would take the established finesse against the club jack.

Saving to Have Baby Worth It, Mother Writes

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1944: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

To some persons, having a baby is a nice, normal experience and they are happy about it, but quite matter-of-fact, too. To others it is a very great, special event.

Recently I have had letters from mothers asking me for the exact words of a tiny poem which appeared in this column several years ago, but of which they had lost the clipping. The poem, called "To My Child," by Anne Campbell, follows:

You are the trip I did not take;
You are the pearls I cannot buy;
You are my blue Italian lake;
You are my piece of foreign sky.

In answer to my reply to one of these requests came the following letter:

"My dear Mrs. Bevans:

"Thank you very much for your prompt and interesting letter to me regarding the poem 'To My Child' by Anne Campbell.

"When I saw these four lines in the paper after my baby was born, they 'hit home.' For he was exactly that. The money I saved and the things I did without were kept for him, to have him and see that he would have all the necessities and comforts I could give him.

"Ever since I was a little girl, I dreamed of having a son some day. Unlike other girls, I would send to all the child care bureaus, maternity centers, and so forth, until I had books on prenatal care, care of children, habits, foods. These I read avidly.

"Then when I was 20, I met 'the boy.' It was during the worst of the depression. We went together four years, I being content if we just went to a movie for entertainment. We were married and I realized I could not bring up a child the way I wanted to on $25 a week, so I worked four years, trying as much as possible to live on my husband's salary—putting the rest away for my baby-to-be some day, so he could go to college sometime if he so wished.

"So then I had him. I knew if he needed a doctor, an operation, or anything, even tho my husband earned so little, there was money in the bank for these things.

"So you see why I say I feel that poem was written for me.

"Needless to say, my husband is crazy about Billy, too."

Sherry Onion Soup! Really something!

With this added touch of Sherry wine, onion soup becomes royal fare!

RECIPE: Slice 6 medium onions thin, and saute in 4 tbsps. oil until transparent. Add 5 cups meat stock, or 5 cups water and 6 bouillon cubes. Cover, simmer until onions are tender. Add ½ cup Sherry wine. Pepper and salt. Heat to boiling. Pour into individual casseroles or one large one; float pieces of toast on top; sprinkle with grated Parmesan-type cheese; and bake in hot oven (450° F.) until cheese browns lightly. Serves 6.

Serve Sherry with this soup. Glasses of Sherry wine are pleasant to serve with this or any other soup. Keep a bottle of Sherry handy. It's the aperitif wine for all occasions. See your wine dealer today. Wine Advisory Board, San Francisco 5.

Edith Atwater joins the Selwyn cast of "Tomorrow the World" Sunday night, April 2, replacing Elissa Landi, who temporarily retires from acting in favor of motherhood. Miss Atwater is a Chicago girl who last appeared here as Maggie the beautiful secretary with the late Alexander Woollcott in "The Man Who Came to Dinner." Playing opposite Paul McGrath in "Tomorrow the World" will rate as a reunion, because it was at the Harris theater next door to the Selwyn that Miss Atwater had a minor but decorative role in "Susan and God," when Mr. McGrath was Gertrude Lawrence's leading man. Miss Lawrence, meanwhile, is still looking for a play to augment her radio skirmishes. She is interested in "Errand for Berenice," which would like to rival "The Voice of the Turtle" in the three character field.

Edith Atwater.

The Theater Guild is getting worried about Chicago's worry over those impending changes in the "Oklahoma!" cast. There won't be any, of course, before June 1, when contracts expire with the theater season. As you know, Evelyn Wyckoff and Harry Stockwell will move to the New York company then, and Pamela Britton goes to Hollywood. The Guild promises "perfect replacements to take care of any contingency," which is a large order, tho not impossible. But don't expect Jack Kilty, Mr. Stockwell's admired understudy, to step into his cowboy boots. The navy saw Mr. Kilty first.

There is a hint of gossip in the air that our next "Curly" may be Earl Covert, who comes to town April 2 singing Franz Schubert in "Blossom Time." Mr. Covert is described as a personable baritone good at his job. Certainly something besides Sigmund Romberg's concert tours and the dancing of Karen Conrad and Carl Randall has sent "Blossom Time" into astronomical figures. Night before last it played to $8,282 at the Shrine auditorium in Des Moines, and turned hundreds of people away.

"Tom Sawyer," a folk opera by Wilson Sawyer, will have its first performance at Ann Arbor tomorrow night and hopes to move to Detroit and other cities later. . . . Marian Anderson's program for her Civic Opera house recital March 26 includes four songs by Richard Strauss, including "Morgen" and "Cäcilie." . . . Andre Kostelanetz's publicity describes him as guest conductor of the Chicago Symphony orchestra April 5. It means he will conduct 75 members of the orchestra in his joint concert with Lily Pons. . . . Marjorie Lawrence is so much better she says, "With God's help I will be able to sing on my own two feet next year." A sympathetic world will say Amen to that.

Florence Reed is being paged for Mrs. Danvers in "Rebecca," the role left in the lurch by Estelle Winwood's decision to play in "The Lady and the Clown." . . . April 19 is the opening date of the Actors company's "Female Wanted." . . . "The Patriots" will end its Chicago engagement and its tour at the Studebaker Saturday night.

Prof. Viner Will Lecture on the Economics of Peace

"Peace as a Problem of Economics" will be discussed by Jacob Viner, the Morton D. Hull distinguished service professor of economics at the University of Chicago, at 5 p. m. today at the International Relations center, 84 E. Randolph st. The lecture is one of a series of six University of Chicago Walgreen lectures that is being presented on Tuesdays by the center with "The Problem of Peace" as its theme.

Fashion This Spring Says It with Flowers

BY REA SEEGER.

Costume flowers that are frankly fakes, in color, size, and botanical formation, rival the displays in the florist windows. Flowers are the big excitement of this new spring season. They are used for hats, in massed arrangements in off-the-face halos, in small, flirtatious turbans, and worn in wreath or garland formation from ear to ear without benefit of straw or fabric anchoring base.

There are some clever new ideas worth trying out, such as jabots made of flowers skilfully stitched to ribbon of silk or velvet. Small nosegays are sewn to the back of glove cuffs, floral bands are used to top a square cut bodice on slim simple dinner costumes, and long boa scarves are made of flowers similar to Hawaiian leis.

If you prefer, you can make your own floral accents from the unusually lavish flower displays ready for the spring fashion parades. You'll find, of all things, pale blue roses and gardenias, some chartreuse tinted roses and carnations, along with the usual red, pink, and yellow blooms. Huge cabbage roses a good six inches wide make sensational headdresses, wider than many smart small hats. Daisies, valley lilies, realistic orchids in white and pastel shades, pansies, fat colorful camellias in red, mottled pink, blush pink and white, forget-me-nots, white lilacs, freezia, every flower ever known and then some, are here ready for floral flourishes on each and every kind of a dress, coat, or costume.

The Inquiring Camera Girl

BY FREIDA ZYLSTRA.

[The Tribune will pay $5 for each interesting question submitted by a reader and used by The Tribune. Today's question was submitted by Miriam Disbrow, 549 Washington st.]

THE QUESTION.

What sudden impulse caused you to be placed in an embarrassing position?

WHERE ASKED.

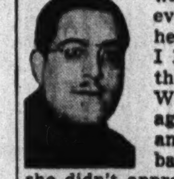
People's Gas Light and Coke Co. building, 122 S. Michigan av.

THE ANSWERS.

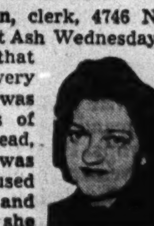
Mrs. Chancy Morgan, waitress, 2926 Fletcher st.—I was waiting on a dignified, bald headed customer when I spilled a pitcher of cream all over him. My judgment told me it wasn't exactly the time to laugh, but I couldn't control the impulse. I didn't feel like laughing when the boss walked up.

Fran Snow, shift manager, 2339 Collins st, Blue Island—As a girl walked past me, I noticed a thread hanging from her skirt. I grabbed it and gave it a pull. Before she had taken many steps I held in my hand the whole thread that, up to that time, had been keeping the hem of her skirt in place.

Jo Anne Schroeder, clerk, 7342 Princeton av.—There was no need to hurry on this particular occasion, but when I saw an empty space in the revolving door I thought I'd make it. I didn't and the bundles I was carrying jammed the door and made me feel clumsy.



John Mangino, welding inspector, 904 S. Francisco av.—I had a date with a pretty girl one evening. I didn't know her so very well, and I let my impulses get the better of me. Without any encouragement, I kissed her, and then I was embarrassed, for I found she didn't approve of the idea.



Jon Ann Tarczon, clerk, 4746 N. Linder av.—On last Ash Wednesday, I did something that made me feel very foolish. A girl was wearing the cross of ashes on her forehead, and I thought it was just a smudge. I used my handkerchief and wiped it off before she had time to explain.

Jean Rampage, clerk, 3247 Euclid av., Berwyn—When I made my first solo flight I acted on impulse. After a good landing, I shut off the motor. Then I was embarrassed. The instructor had to walk the length of the field to spin the propeller so I could taxi to the hangar.

Library Tells Big Post-War Building Plan

Carl B. Roden, chief librarian of the Chicago public library, reported to the library board of directors at a meeting yesterday that six new neighborhood branch library buildings and an addition to the main building are planned in the city's 25 million dollar post-war building program. They would be constructed in a period of six years and cost $1,406,400.

The first building would be at Sawyer av. and Altgeld st., where a site has been purchased, and others would be at Broadway and Lawrence av., 3600 Lawrence av. for Albany park, 63d st. and Kedzie av., 79th st. and Cottage Grove av., and Central and Lawrence avs. Cost is estimated at from $124,000 to $150,000 each. The main building addition would be built in Garland court, just west of the present building, where a foundation already exists, Mr. Roden said. The cost would be $605,000.

The federal government is expected to bear part of the cost under a coöperative plan, Mr. Roden said.

Russian Movie Tells Realistic War Story, with English Dialog

"NO GREATER LOVE."

An Artkino picture, directed by Frederick Ermler, with Russian cast, and presented at the World Playhouse.

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

KIND: Another story of Russian warfare and great mass and individual heroism on the part of the invaded.

ACTING: Never seems to be that.

DIRECTION: Forceful and unafraid.

SETS, SCENERY: The real thing.

PHOTOGRAPHY: Excellent.

DIALOG: In English and better than some.

STORY: Woven about the character of a happy Russian woman, who loses her adored husband and baby to the enemy and becomes the nemesis of the invaders.

AUDIENCE APPEAL: Should prove engrossing to many.

See you tomorrow.

Now is the time to examine the condition of the hair and ascertain its readiness for a spring permanent. If it seems even slightly dry and brittle, overly oily, or abnormal in any way, get busy with treatments that will help restore it to a healthy state. The success of a permanent depends on the hair itself, and it's a waste of money to have a permanent on locks that are not in good condition.

Hair that is in a particularly bad state calls for investment in professional treatments. An expert can restore it to normal far more quickly and fully than can be accomplished with home treatments.

Locks that are not in too bad shape, however, can be benefited by home treatments that include thoro shampoos, applications of helpful dressings and vigorous workouts with a hairbrush. The shampoo should be given with a cleansing agent suitable to the condition of the tresses, and rinsing must be complete. The brush should be used with gusto, bringing the bristles close to the scalp to help stimulate circulation. In addition, massage the scalp with the fingers, holding them closely and firmly to the head, lifting and rotating the scalp to encourage pliability. Be particular about giving extra care to hair ends that are brittle and broken.

OUR PRESENT TAX SYSTEM WILL KILL POST-WAR JOBS

[A McGRAW-HILL EDIPICTORIAL]

NEW jobs can only be created when it is profitable for men to take the risks involved in starting new business ventures and expanding old ones. To help clarify some of the problems involved in developing a tax program that will take account of the direct effect of taxes upon jobs and our standard of living, the McGraw-Hill Publishing Company is publishing an editorial on Incentives and Taxation by James H. McGraw, Jr., in all of its publications. This Edipictorial gives highlights from the editorial, showing some of the serious defects in our present tax system, and the steps that should be taken to correct them.

1 THERE ARE THREE principal ways of making a living. First, getting on someone's payroll. About three out of four of us fall in this group—we are job-holders.

BANK AND TRUST COMPANY SAVINGS LOANS

2 SECOND,* LENDING ONE'S SAVINGS to business enterprises. Millions of us get some income, large or small, by lending our savings—directly as in stocks and bonds, or indirectly through such channels as insurance companies and banks. We are suppliers of loan capital.

GRAND OPENING TODAY
HELP WANTED

3 THIRD,* STARTING OR HELPING TO START a business enterprise. About one out of four of us has his own business enterprise, and several millions of us are part owners of business enterprises. Those of us who go into business for ourselves and those of us who are part owners of enterprises are job-makers.

4 THE NUMBER OF MEN who attempt to make their living in whole or in part by starting new businesses or by expanding old ones depends upon the outlook for profits. When the outlook for profits improves, thousands of new jobs open up and thousands of men go to work; and, as men go to work, everybody benefits.

5 WHEN THE PROSPECT FOR PROFITS is bad, the demand for labor, capital, and raw materials drops. It may be roughly estimated that an improvement in the prospect for profits of one billion dollars raises the amount of wages for labor anywhere from two to five billion dollars. In other words, for every $1.00 of profit, $2.00 to $5.00 of wages is created for job-holders.

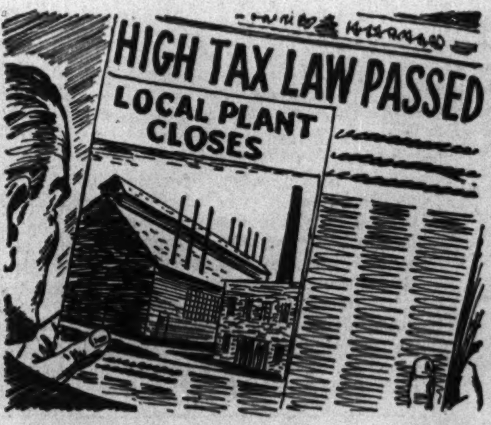
PRE-WAR
POST-WAR
COST OF LIVING
TOTAL TAXES

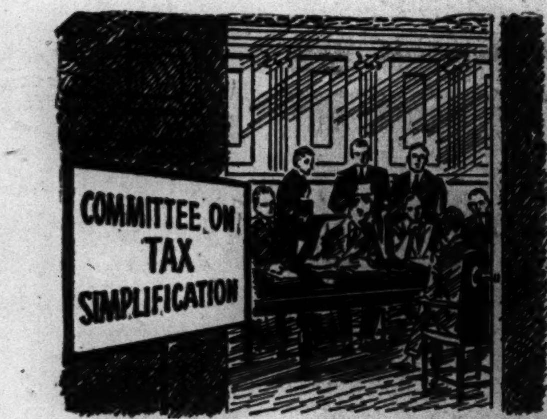
6 ONE OF THE PRINCIPAL FACTORS in the outlook for profits is the amount and the kind of taxes. After the war, the Federal government will need to raise each year about twenty billion dollars in taxes—three times the amount required before the war, and six times the amount required in the Twenties.



HIGH TAX LAW PASSED
LOCAL PLANT CLOSES

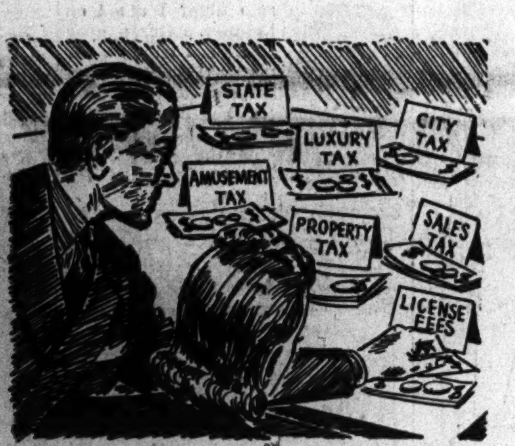
7 OBVIOUSLY, THE BIGGER THE TAX NEEDS; the greater the danger that the government will discourage enterprise and so diminish the number of jobs, after the war. That's why it is so important for every American to understand the part that taxes play in determining the level of employment.

8 OUR PRESENT TAX SYSTEM is full of needless complexities—a source of confusion and despair. In fact, it would seem almost as if our tax laws had been written for the purpose of making private enterprise unworkable. When the war is over there must be a thorough reform of our entire tax system.



COMMITTEE ON TAX SIMPLIFICATION

9 THE TAX SYSTEM should be coordinated with the broader objectives of monetary and fiscal policy. Federal, state and local tax policies should be integrated as to principles and objectives.



STATE TAX
LUXURY TAX
CITY TAX
AMUSEMENT TAX PROPERTY TAX
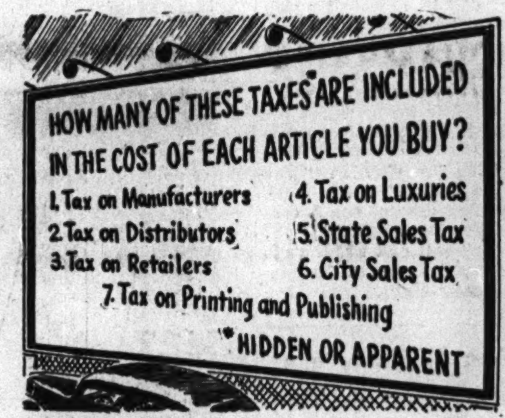
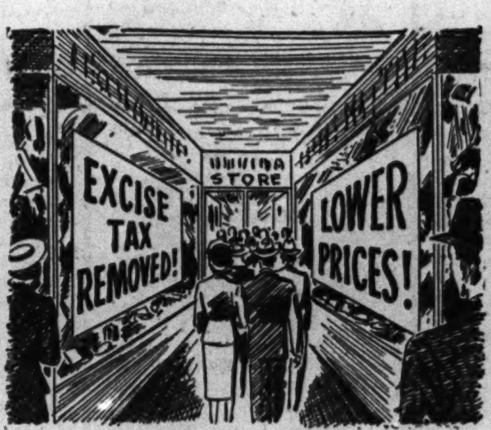
SALES TAX
LICENSE FEES

10 TAXES PLAY TOO IMPORTANT A ROLE in our total economic life to ignore the adverse consequences of unrelated and inconsistent policies of different taxing jurisdictions. The following reform measures are needed:



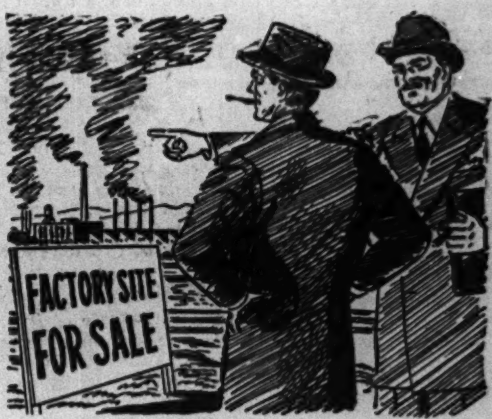
HOW MANY OF THESE TAXES* ARE INCLUDED IN THE COST OF EACH ARTICLE YOU BUY?
1. Tax on Manufacturers
2. Tax on Distributors
3. Tax on Retailers
4. Tax on Luxuries
5. State Sales Tax
6. City Sales Tax
7. Tax on Printing and Publishing
*HIDDEN OR APPARENT

11 MAKE ALL TAXES APPARENT, not concealed. Taxes should be levied, in the main, directly upon individuals so that each of us will know how much our government is costing him.



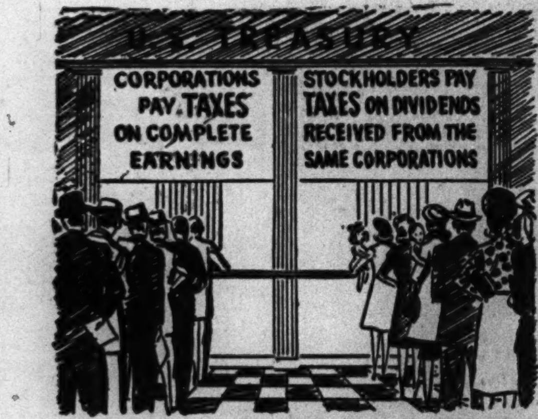
STORE
EXCISE TAX REMOVED!
LOWER PRICES!

12 REPEAL THE TAX-EXEMPT PRIVILEGE for all new securities issued by all governmental jurisdictions. Eliminate excise (hidden) taxes which place a disproportionate burden on persons with lower incomes so as to encourage greater consumption and provide an expanded market for our vast industrial capacity.



FACTORY SITE FOR SALE

13 RELY UPON THE PERSONAL INCOME TAX as the main source of revenue, with broad coverage, but reduce the upper range of personal income tax rates to a maximum of perhaps fifty or sixty percent so that risk-taking and job-making investments will be encouraged.



U. S. TREASURY
CORPORATIONS PAY TAXES ON COMPLETE EARNINGS
STOCKHOLDERS PAY TAXES ON DIVIDENDS RECEIVED FROM THE SAME CORPORATIONS

14 COORDINATE CORPORATION AND INDIVIDUAL income taxes so as to avoid double taxation and impediments to risk-taking. Full credit should be given to stockholders for all corporate income taxes paid.

1937
1938
1939
POST WAR
WAR YEARS SALES

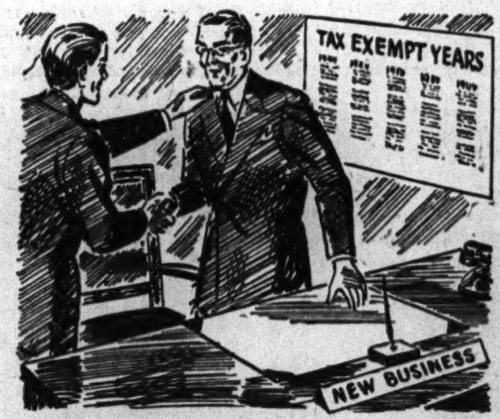
EXCISE TAX PREVENTS INCENTIVE FOR EXPANSION

15 REPEAL THE EXCESS PROFITS TAX so that industry can use this "seed money" for creating peacetime jobs. The excess profits tax will destroy all incentive to do a larger volume of business than in 1939, since it appropriates virtually all increase in profits about the level of 1939.



TAX EXEMPT YEARS
NEW BUSINESS

16 ENCOURAGE formation of new enterprises by allowing tax exemptions for a period of five years. Provide for averaging of incomes over a period of years, in order to remove discrimination against those with irregular incomes and those who take risks of loss in business ventures.

17 REFORM TAX ADMINISTRATION to simplify forms and procedures, to broaden the scope of enforcement, and to encourage the spirit of fairness.

BY giving the fullest encouragement to individuals and corporations in their function of creating jobs, government can stimulate the creation of wealth, the only source from which taxes can be drawn. With such reforms, and with continuing reappraisal of the tax program as it affects the economic situation, taxation can become a helpful instrument in the creation of jobs.

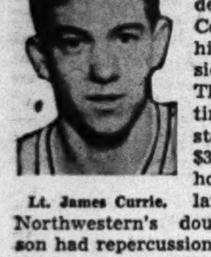
WHITE SOX SIGN FOUR; 29 UNDER CONTRACT

In the WAKE of the NEWS

BY ARCH WARD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

NEW YORK, March 13.—Slip Madigan, University of Iowa football coach, would like to see post-war eligibility rules altered so as to penalize any former college player a full season unless he enrolls at the same school he attended prior to entering the army, navy, or marines. . . . St. Mary's Jim Phelan was for the idea too, but is weakening since he learned he may find Johnny Podesto, one of the nation's leading forward passers, on his squad next season. Given a medical discharge from the marines, Podesto, who played for A. A. Stagg's College of the Pacific eleven until his induction, is reported to be considering a switch to St. Mary's. . . . The Sugar bowl committee will retire 340 debenture bonds on Tulane stadium tomorrow. This amounts to $34,000, the largest return for bondholders since the stadium was enlarged to accommodate 70,000. . . . Northwestern's double basketball victory over Notre Dame this season had repercussions at sea. . . . Lt. James Currie, former Wildcat star, now serving on a P. C. boat in the Atlantic, recently wrote Northwestern friends: "I ran into George Sobek, old Notre Dame basketball player out here, and did I rib him about those two victories!" . . . Helen Wills Roark soon will move into her new Santa Monica, Cal., home. . . . Lou Nova has a new manager, Ray Dodge, munitions manufacturer. . . . Ray Carlen, who used to handle the heavyweight when he had championship aspirations, has turned fight promoter in Oakland, Cal.



Lt. James Currie.

Helen Wills Roark.

Babe Ruth has a paresis of the left vocal cord and hardly can talk above a whisper. . . . The New Orleans Armed Guard Center basketball team that won the Southern A. A. U. tournament and goes to Denver for the national meet, is made up of ensigns. . . . Dr. Raymond D. Forsyth's contract as trainer of the Detroit Tigers stipulates that he can leave the baseball team as soon as the Detroit Lions open football training. . . . Capt. Frank Reagan, former Pennsylvania and New York Giant football star, is commanding a marine detachment aboard a battleship. . . . The New York racing commission has ordered all tracks in the state to install drinking fountains. . . . Lt. Comdr. George Halas, owner of the Chicago Bears, National Football league champions, is in San Francisco waiting orders to sail into the Pacific. . . . Washington Park's Princess Pat stakes is taking rank with the Arlington Lassie as one of the richest and most important national events of the season for 2 year old fillies. . . . Gross value of the baby contests will approximate $45,000. . . . The other night at Chicago Stadium this department thanked Sgt. Joe Louis for his coöperation in the presentation of the heavyweight Golden Gloves sportsmanship trophy to Ragon Kinney of Los Angeles. . . . "Why thank me for that?" inquired the heavyweight champion. "If it hadn't been for this tournament some of us never would have been heard of." . . . Joe's modesty is not the least of his attributes.

The Girls You Left Behind You.

Fellows, scattered all over the earth,
This is just to sort of remind you
That you really ought to be proud as Punch
Of the girls you left behind you;
I meet them hurrying off to work,
Sometimes it's scarcely dawn,
I meet them in buses at evening time,
All cheerfully carrying on.

I run into them at the postoffice,
Everything fine and dandy,
Mailing their letters and packages,
Cookies and cake and candy;
I notice them at the movies,
Half a dozen together,
Doing their best the lonely gap
While you're all away to weather.

And they chatter about you constantly,
At the very drop of the hat
Ruth will tell you about her Joe,
And Eva about her Pat;
Then Frieda chimes in 'bout a letter from "Red"—
Well, fellows, I'm sure you'll find you
Drew no blanks in these brave little Yanks,
These girls you've left behind you!

In Memoriam.

[Lt. William P. Mettel Jr.,

Dear Lord, Bill loved the open sky
And was content when soaring high
Within the plane he loved to fly—
Is that the reason why
You took him as he flew his plane,
So that content he'd e'er remain,
And never know earth's grief and pain?
Dear Lord, that must be why.

Our Bill was young and did love life;
He wasn't meant for war and strife.
Perhaps that's why, with death's swift knife
You took him to Your care.
And tho our hearts ache thru and thru,
We know he's safe in heav'n with You,
Where one day we shall all meet too—
This is our earnest prayer.

Shan—aningans!

Some of the folks were under the impression those unusual words "Etaoin" and "Shrdlu" were important Russian railway junctions just because they slipped into the news occasionally. I'm convinced they must be printers' cuss words. We just saw a linotype operator working on his form 1040 and muttering them under his breath. Sometimes, tearing his hair over a particularly complicated paragraph, he would even growl, "Cmfwyp!" That, we are sure, is the superlative epithet reserved for occasions when the printer is completely pi-eyed.

Boston, Mass., March 13 (AP).—Secretary John Quinn of the Boston Braves announced tonight he had received word from Jim Tobin, veteran knuckle ball pitcher, that he was forwarding his signed contract and leaving his Oakland, Cal., home to join the club's training camp at Wallingford, Conn.

Davis Signs; Dodgers Begin Drills Tomorrow

New York, March 13 [Special].—Nearing completion of preparations for opening their Bear Mountain training base, the Brooklyn Dodgers today signed Curt Davis, veteran right hander, who shapes up as the No. 2 man on the staff. The Dodgers are to begin training Wednesday.

CLARKE, HOAG, TWO PITCHERS COME TO TERMS

Cubs Get Oak Park Lad for Angels.

Business boomed yesterday for the White Sox and Cubs, who in a week's time will be sharing the benign spring weather at French Lick, Ind.

The White Sox reported the arrival of four more signed contracts, boosting the total to 29, with the status of the other 10 to be cleared up by getaway time Thursday evening. The American leaguers also announced that Jim Dykes will arrive tomorrow from California to prepare for his 10th season as manager.

Dykes' rival, Jim Wilson, was scheduled to beat him into the loop and the Cub manager also had the advantage of having looked over the spring training grounds at the southern Indiana base. Wilson has recently been a gadabout, having gone to Midland, Tex., from his Philadelphia home to visit his son, Bob, a bomber pilot. From there he went to French Lick, and he was due in Chicago early today.

Sox Welcome Hoag's Return.

Wilson reported by phone that the weather has been delightful and that the foliage is beginning to pop out. Today he will confer with Jim Gallagher, vice president and general manager, preparatory to Sunday's departure from Chicago. In the group will be 21 ball players. Others will go direct from their homes. The Cubs have made no announcements of signed contracts, tho some of the fellows have spread the news.

Chief among the White Sox signers were Myril Hoag, the 35 year old outfielder who was in military service last year, and Grey Clarke, 31 year old third baseman who hit .346 for the Milwaukee Brewers last season. The others were Pitchers Floyd Speer and Bob Mistele, both of whom were on St. Paul's rolls last year. Speers won 15 and lost 12. Mistele had no won and lost record.

Cubs Sign Oak Park Lad.

The Cubs yesterday reported that Dick Kemper, 17, Oak Park High school catcher, has been signed by their Los Angeles affiliate.

Wilson reported that the practice field fashioned by Bobby Dorr, Cubs' diamond expert, is in top condition. Dorr was so satisfied with his work of art he left the Indiana spa last night for Chicago. He will begin work this week on Wrigley field, which has housed professional football and ski events since the Cubs last dented it with their spikes.

RAIN HINDERS TRAINING

New York, March 13 (AP).—Spring rains, spring thaws, a bit of spring fever, and the ever present manpower complications greeted the players today as several major league clubs began their third war time training grind.

Mel Ott, opening his third season as manager of the Giants, told his players at Lakewood, N. J., that he had been reclassified 1-A, but had no idea when he might be called up. Ott, 35, and a father, worked during the off season in a New Orleans shipyard. Eighteen Giants and 22 members of the Jersey City farm club participated.

The Yankees, restricted to calisthenics in Atlantic City by rain, welcomed First Baseman Nick Etten, only expected returning regular of their 1943 infield. Etten said he does not expect to be called for examination until midsummer.

Senators Work Indoors.

Washington, assembling at College Park, Md., had to be content with a light drill in the University of Maryland armory when the thaw and rain made the diamond more suitable for mud pies.

It was a different story in Indiana. At Bloomington, Bill McKechnie routed his Cincinnati Reds out of bed at 7:30 a. m. and had them in the Hoosier fieldhouse by 9 a. m. McKechnie opened the session with a pep talk.

At near-by Lafayette, Lou Boudreau of the Cleveland Indians assigned Russ Peters to second base and shifted Jimmy Grant, an infielder in recent years, to the outfield. Mike Naymick, 6 foot 8 inch right hand pitcher, was the first Indian to appear on the practice field in uniform.

Pennock Warns Northey.

At Frederick, Md., Connie Mack and five coaches sent 17 players thru their paces. They included Fred Peeler, up from Salisbury, N. C., and Bert Kuczynski, former Penn State athlete and lately of the marines.

Herb Pennock, general manager of the Philadelphia Nationals, issued an ultimatum to Outfielder Ron Northey, who returned an unsigned contract. Northey, a pipe fitter's helper at Camden, N. J., was told that the next move was up to him.

Branch Rickey, chief of the Brooklyn Dodgers, reported that Curt Davis, veteran pitcher, had agreed to terms. Ott countered the announcement of his reclassification with one that Cliff Melton and Harry Feldman, both hurlers, had signed.

OLD CHAMPAIGN SHRUG TO GREET CITY CHAMPION

It's all right with South Shore, Chicago's city public school basketball champion, that the Champaign shrug, as in other years, again is operating with another state tournament about to start in the University of Illinois fieldhouse. The three day meet starts Thursday.

The Champaign shrug is directed at the Chicago champions and its implication is that these boys have no business competing with the other 15 schools from smaller communities. A Chicago victory, even in a first round state tournament game, always is considered a startling upset.

South Shore's squad has been told all about this Champaign shrug by the coach, Tony Maffia, an old Crane High school boy who was too busy working his way thru Illinois a decade ago to go out for athletic teams. Tony would like nothing better than to take a team down to his old campus stamping grounds and prove to the downstaters that there's always an exception to the rule.

Coach Is Optimistic.

"I think we've got a chance to win at least the first two games," said Tony last night. "That would put us in the semi-finals. Then, with our share of the breaks, I wouldn't be surprised if we'd go all the way.

"Our team hasn't reached its peak," continued Maffia. "The kids really are keyed up. One of the reasons, I think, why Chicago teams fail at Champaign is that the champion has leveled at the city title during a long season. The winner hardly has enough time to adjust itself for the state tourney, but I'm hoping we'll prove the exception."

South Shore, which won 21 out of 25 games this season, meets Quincy, a state tournament perennial, in a first round contest Thursday. The Chicago team is in the upper bracket of eight teams, which apparently is not so strong as the lower bracket.

It Is New School.

This is South Shore's biggest moment in basketball. It's a new school, located at 76th st. and Constance av. The class which is graduated in June will be the first one which has completed four years there. Of the 2,100 pupils, 850 are boys. The school had more than a mild attack of hysteria when South Shore walloped Harper, 51 to 34, for the title Saturday night.

"We could have disposed of a thousand tickets to the state tournament," said Maffia. "We'll have a sizeable rooting section, tho."

All of South Shore's losses came in practice games early in the season. Its conquerors were Lindblom, Mount Carmel, Leo, and Thornton. The city champions will carry a 19 game winning streak into the tournament. They averaged close to 60 points in their last 14 games, including four in the playoff rounds.

Coach Maffia credits the team's

Hawks Try to Win Play-Off Berth Tonight

Boston, Mass., March 13 [Special].—Chicago's Blackhawks and Boston's Bruins, who have spent the greater part of the National Hockey league season in a battle for fourth place in the standings, will resume activities here tomorrow night.

The fourth place situation was recreated last night when the New York Rangers scored four goals in the final period in Chicago to tie the fourth-place Blackhawks, 4 to 4, while the fifth place Boston Bruins were soaring to sufficient heights to defeat Montreal's Canadiens. The defeat by Boston marked the fifth loss of the season for the Canadiens and it was the third time during the season that the Bruins had turned the trick. Boston also has tied Montreal twice.

Boston will enter the game tomorrow night with the knowledge that it must beat Chicago, do the same to the Red Wings in Detroit Thursday, and wind up its regular schedule by defeating Toronto Saturday. In the event Boston wins all its remaining games, the Blackhawks would have to enter into the spirit of Boston's plans by losing their four remaining games. On the other hand, the Hawks, by winning two of their games, could pass Toronto and end the season in third place, even if the Leafs win their final game with Boston.

MISSOURI TAKES IOWA'S PLACE IN N.C.A.A. TOURNEY

Columbia, Mo., March 13 (AP).—George Edwards, head basketball coach at the University of Missouri, said tonight Missouri had accepted an invitation to replace the University of Iowa in the N. C. A. A. western tournament in Kansas City.

The Hawkeyes, invited to substitute for a Rocky Mountain team, withdrew because six members of the squad would not be available for the meet, March 24 and 25.

105 Answer Notre Dame's Baseball Call

Notre Dame, Ind., March 13 [Special].—One hundred and five candidates for the Notre Dame varsity baseball team reported today to Coach Clarence [Jake] Kline, as the Irish started preparations for the 1944 season. Notre Dame will open the season on April 14, playing Indiana at Bloomington. Kline is starting his 11th seeason as head coach.

Only three monogram winners from last spring's nine were among the players reporting. These were Bobby Klein, shortstop; Tommy Sheehan, catcher, and Tom Carlin, who shared the second base job.

Seven outstanding players from other midwestern schools, assigned to Notre Dame by the navy reported for the opening drill. Among these were Joe Siemenski, varsity pitcher at Illinois last spring; Len Scarpelli, an outfielder from Santa Clara; Hudson Mealy, varsity catcher at Minnesota; John Mayo, outfielder from Washington U. of St. Louis; Ken Manarik, a transfer third baseman from Great Lakes; Bill Corson, a pitcher from University of Chicago, and Al Whittingham, an outfielder from Ohio State. All of these, except Whittingham and Corson, played with the Notre Dame informal nine last summer.

NEW YORK OPENS ITS TOURNAMENT OF CHAMPIONS

88 Battle for Right to Meet Chicagoans.

BY ARCH WARD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 13.—Eight-eight amateur boxers representing communities stretching from Puerto Rico to New England tonight opened New York's Golden Gloves Tournament of Champions. Out of three nights of competition will come the squad which on March 27 will fight Chicago's winners in the 17th annual intercity bouts in Madison Square Garden.

While the scope of the New York tournament is by no means as extensive as Chicago's, the caliber of contestants is said to be the best in years. There are seven complete teams entered in the New York meet—Miami, Jacksonville, Charlotte, Washington, Newark, Puerto Rico, and New York.

Here's a Heavyweight Star.

The socking Puerto Ricans, who were the surprise of last year's New York show, are the favorites to win the team trophy, but the Charlotte, N. C., and Miami, Fla., units are packed with service men and should provide keen competition.

Miami, for instance, has a heavyweight who has won 90 bouts without suffering a defeat. He is Sal Mirabito, who in 1941 as a representative of Syracuse university won the intercollegiate heavyweight title. He beat Gerald Jackson of New York in the only heavyweight bout tonight.

Puerto Rico scored the first victory of the 1944 tournament when Francisco Garcia, high school student from San Juan, won a decision from Elias Zepedia of Jacksonville, Fla., in the opening flyweight contest. Garcia was defeated in the first round of last year's meet. Cecil Schoonmaker, representing New York's Catholic Youth organization, was the second 112 pounder to qualify for the semi-finals when he won the verdict over Bobby Temple of Charlotte, N. C. The Washington Time-Herald team turned up with a winner in Donald King, who whipped George Bashkingy of Newark.

Island Entrant Beaten.

The Puerto Ricans scored in the bantamweight division when William Hernandez, who competed in the intercity bouts last year, won a close decision from Sam Chernoff, Brooklyn office clerk. The two other 118 pound fights ended in knockouts. Joe Pittman of Jacksonville stopped Ralph Herndon of Miami in the third and John Rosato of Charlotte put away John Land of Newark in the first.

James Vakos of Washington whipped Elmer Bagdassarian of Miami in the only featherweight scrap. The others drew byes.

Puerto Rico's victory skein was severed when Louis Davila, southpaw from San Juan, wilted in the third round and lost the decision to Louis Crumes, coast guardsman from Jacksonville. Max Grothe of New York, who lost an intercity match in 1943, defeated Russell Richter of Newark and Pete Cilinski of Washington defeated John Kassada of Charlotte in the other 135 pound contest.

Billy Tiger Still Winning.

Billy Tiger, an Oklahoma Indian representing Charlotte, provided the surprise of the welterweight bouts when he won a decision from Puerto Rico's highly touted Angel Garayalde. Tiger took part in the Chicago Tournament of Champions in the late '30s. Joe Gannon of Washington was the other 147 pound victor. He stopped Ben Piccione of Newark in the third.

Leon Thompson of Charlotte, who never had on boxing gloves until he entered the army two years ago, knocked out Fred Luce of Miami in the second round of the first 160 pound battle with a right to the body. Hy Bronstein of New York, who last year was an intercity winner for Chicago, had to keep firing punches until the closing seconds to earn the judges' nod over Lewis Pavone of Washington. Both boys had terrific wallops and each was able to take a beating and come back with undiminished fury. In the third middleweight contest Phil Berman of Newark knocked out O. Dee Rogers of Jacksonville after 45 seconds of the first round.

Herb Kroeten of Minneapolis, now in the coast guard at Manhattan Beach, stopped Eddie Flannagan, a soldier from Puerto Rico, in the second round, and Floyd Cryderman of Jacksonville won a decision over Ray Atkins of Miami in the 175 pound class.

JACK LA MOTTA SIGNS TO MEET WOODS MARCH 31

Eastern Middleweight to Appear in Stadium.

BY FRANK MASTRO.

Jack La Motta, New York middleweight contender, who snapped Ray Robinson's string of 130 victories a year ago last February, yesterday was matched to meet Sgt. Lou Woods of Camp Grant in a 10 round bout in Chicago Stadium March 31.

It will be the first professional show held in the west side arena this year. The last previous card there saw Gus Dorazio, Philadelphia heavyweight, gain a decision over Nate Bolden on Dec. 10.

He's Zale's Chief Rival.

La Motta will be making his second appearance in this city. He lost a split verdict to Nate Bolden three years ago. Jack has not been defeated since Fritzie Zivic turned the trick in a 15 round meeting in Pittsburgh last July 12. Subsequently he twice conquered Zivic, in Madison Square Garden Nov. 12 and Detroit Jan. 14.

During a visit in Chicago following La Motta's first triumph over Zivic, Chief Petty Officer Tony Zale, world middleweight champion, expressed the opinion Jack was his leading challenger.

Big Chance for Woods.

Sgt. Woods will be receiving his first chance at big time competition in the forthcoming match. He earned the opportunity by scoring 28 victories in 29 bouts, his latest victim being Joe Sutka in Detroit last Friday. It was his ninth consecutive triumph.

success to its esprit de corps. Four of the boys take turns leading in scoring. Dan Trahey, a guard, is slightly out in front. When it isn't Trahey leading the parade, it's Jack Harr, the 6 foot 3 inch center; Forward Paul Schnackenberg, son of Elmer J. Schnackenberger, speaker of the Illinois house of representatives, or Forward Howie Erzinger. The other starter is Harvey Espisito, a guard. All are seniors.

The seventh ranking South Shore player is Jake Fendley, 14 year old freshman from Danville, Ill. He's 5 feet 11 inches tall and matches his height in huskiness. An added starter on the trip will be Bill Gibbs, who played with the South Shore Juniors. The other five squad members are Bud Wineburgh, Bill Toomey, Grove Carnahan, Larry Bauman, and Don Roberts. The champions will work out from 3 to 5 p. m. today at South Shore and leave at 9:05 a. m. tomorrow, with an afternoon workout scheduled at Champaign Junior High school.

For his triumphal return to his alma mater, Coach Maffia yesterday bought himself a new suit. He'd like to take along Mrs. Maffia, but there's no one else to mind the baby, the servant problem being what it is.

TEMPLE DRAWS OHIO STATE IN N. C. A. A. MEET

New York, March 13 (AP). — Dartmouth, Eastern Intercollegiate league champion, will meet Catholic university in the opening game of the Eastern National Collegiate A. A. basketball tournament in Madison Square Garden March 24.

The draw, made today, pits Ohio State, Big Ten champion, against Temple in the second game of the opening double header.

The winners of the first round games will meet in the final March 25 to determine the eastern team in the east-west final here March 28. The western tournament will take place at Kansas City March 24 and 25.

COACH RELEASES NORTH CAROLINA FROM CONTRACT

Chapel Hill, N. C., March 13 (AP). —Lt. Raymond [Bear] Wolf, head football coach at the University of North Carolina, who is on leave with the navy, has released the athletic council from his contract, to permit the university "to supplant its war depleted staff and continue a creditable football program."

The announcement was made tonight by Athletic Director R. A. Fetzer, after the council accepted Wolf's "generous action" with a tribute to his "fine work."

His contract has three years to run. Wolf came here from Texas Christian in 1936.

ARMSTRONG HITS COMEBACK TRAIL AGAIN TONIGHT

Miami, Fla., March 13 (AP).—Henry Armstrong, showing considerable pep despite his 31 years and two retirements, will make a 10 round appearance against Broadway Johnny Jones here tomorrow night.

Armstrong has toppled five opponents since the start of his current comeback. He is expected to make Jones victim No. 6, adding his name to the list that includes Al Spoldi, Servio Turello, Lew Hanby, Jimmy Garrison, and Jackie Byrd.

Armstrong has held the world featherweight, lightweight, and welterweight titles. He tipped the scale today at 140.

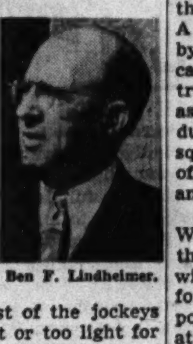
Lindheimer Sees War Time Challenge to Racing as Well as Other Sports

[This is the last of a series in which the nation's sports leaders have given their views on Sports After Peace.]

BY EDWARD PRELL.

BENJAMIN F. LINDHEIMER, the Chicago turfman, doesn't set himself up as the voice of racing or as an oracle. It seems that this segment of American sports has less need, perhaps, than any other for an expert with the crystal ball. Racing has been affected less than any other spectator sport by the war. Main participants are a horse and a jockey. They haven't got around to drafting horses yet, at least the thorobred kind, and most of the jockeys are either too short or too light for military service. At that, some of the little fellows have wangled their way into a uniform.



Ben F. Lindheimer.

Racing has been fortunate that its main actors, the horse and rider, spared it man power worries. Too, many of the trainers are over military age.

Racing's biggest problem has been in transportation. Many tracks are closed because of this factor. Others, in metropolitan sectors, especially New York and Chicago, have continued their meetings, but held them at the track nearest transportation.

Lindheimer, executive director of Arlington and Washington Parks, declares the future of any sport or enterprise depends upon how it conducts itself during the war.

Plan to Increase Seating Capacity at Chicago Tracks.

"A challenge has been issued to the leaders of American sports by the members of the armed forces who are making the greatest war sacrifices," he says. "They express the wish that sports be continued. A second challenge has been issued by many people at home who are carrying on well in the war industries. They have accepted sports as an important form of recreation during their leisure hours. It is squarely up to sports to be worthy of these expressions of confidence and interest."

Seating capacity at Arlington and Washington will be increased after the war, Lindheimer says. Seats will provide perfect vision and comfort for the patrons. Also in the post-war building plans are installation of escalators or adequate elevator service to facilitate accessibility of all parts of the stands.

The Chicagoan also sees a growth of internationalism in racing. He believes the champion thorobreds of other countries will race in all parts of the world and that American turfmen will play their part in this interesting development of the sport.

Horse racing now is enjoying unparalleled prosperity. Mutuel records are being set at most of the tracks. Lindheimer sees in this a danger if the racing folk grow selfish and what he is doing at Arlington and Washington shows the way to avoid this pitfall.

"It has been a sound policy of American business to use a prosperous period for the improvement of its facilities and product. Rather than to passively accept these present lush profits in a selfish manner, racing now has the opportunity to demonstrate that it has the courage and vision to build for the future.

Arlington and Washington Meetings Offer Record Purses.

"Our 1944 program gives followers and participants of racing an answer to their reasonable question of what is being done in these times to keep faith in them. Never before in the history of racing has a stake program been offered to equal that which is scheduled during the Arlington and Washington meetings next summer."

[During this combined 70 day meeting at Arlington Park there will be five $50,000 stakes and two events at $25,000.]

In the last two years racing has contributed $8,500,000 to war relief and charities. Arlington and Washington were the first tracks in the nation to give proceeds of their big days—the Fourth of July and Labor day—to war funds. Arlington-Washington, with the other Chicago tracks also participating, will hold a week of charity racing during the height of the season, in conjunction with The Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.

8 WINDY CITY BOWLING TEAMS TOP 3,000 MARK

A wave of high scoring marked competition in the major league of the Windy City Bowling association last night as eight of the 16 competing teams topped the 3,000 mark in three game totals. Six teams were grouped between the O. K. Motors, who were high with 3,062, and the Geprods, who rolled 3,021.

The Motors won three games from the Furman Funerals. The league leading Meister Braus won two games from the Mineralites, altho outscored, 3,024 to 3,029. They still hold a two game edge over Soper Brothers, who rolled 3,026 in taking two games from the Beevac Cleaners. The Mineralites are third, five games behind the Meisters.

Russell Creamer of the O. K. Motors had a 671 series for high individual score. He had a 258 single game. Al Piermattei was second high individual, contributing 665 to the Cascade Bowling Center's 3,060.

JOHN M'CUE, 78, OLD-TIME FIGHT PROMOTER, DIES

Racine, Wis., March 13 (AP).—John Charles McCue, 78, well known in boxing in the middle west shortly before the turn of the century, died today.

He was active as a trainer, referee, and promoter at a time when boxing was banned in Chicago, and Racine was a focal point for ring activties. One of the best known of his boxing proteges was Matty Paulson, who fought professionally as Matty McCue.

McCue was one of the organizers and trainer of the Racine Baseball club and for many years conducted a health institute here. In 1937 when he became ill, Racine sportsmen held a benefit and presented McCue with a check for $1,000.

A native of Rockford, Ill., McCue at one time traveled from coast to coast demonstrating health building equipment. Later he performed as a wrestler and was the possessor of a diamond studded belt emblematic of a championship in his division. His career as a wrestler ended when he came to Racine in 1885.

LT. COMDR. COOK WILL MOVE TO ST. LOUIS BERTH

Lt. Comdr. J. Russell Cook, U. S. N. R., for the last two years athletic officer at the Great Lakes Naval Training station, has been detached from that assignment and named commanding officer of the naval electric school in St. Louis, it was announced yesterday.

Lt. Comdr. Cook will report to his new station Friday. His successor at Great Lakes has not been announced. A veteran of the navy in World War I., Lt. Comdr. Cook has been largely responsible for the development of the athletic program at Great Lakes.

Bolden K. O.'s Freddy Griggs in 2d Round

Fight Decisions

At Marigold Gardens—Nate Bolden knocked out Freddie Griggs [2]; Gene Mickens beat Pug Wilson [6]; Willie Moon stopped Al Evans [2]; Al Jackson stopped Eddie Allen [2]; Walter Patrick and George Sapolich drew [4]; Red Levasseur stopped Chuck Shuster [2].

At Baltimore, Md.—Harry Jeffra beat Frankie Rubino [10]; Howard Bennett stopped Bob Jacobs [3].

At Philadelphia, Pa.—Jose Basora stopped Harold [Jamaica] Smith [3]; Mike Della stopped George [Dusty] Brown [4]; Billy Arnold knocked out Sandy Mack [2].

Nate Bolden, 1937 Chicago Intercity Golden Gloves middleweight winner, knocked out Freddy Griggs of Memphis in the second round of a scheduled eight round bout in Marigold Gardens last night.

The finishing blow, a right to the body, was the only solid punch landed by Bolden, who was making his first Chicago appearance since last December.

1,569 See Knockout.

Griggs' showing in the first round was not impressive. As a result the sellout crowd of 1,569, which paid a gross of $2,709 was not surprised when the match ended after one minute and 26 seconds of the second round.

Three of four preliminary bouts ended in knockouts. Willie Moon, former Catholic Youth organization lightweight, stopped Al Evans of Indianapolis in the third round, Al Jackson, south side middleweight, was declared winner over Eddie Allen in the second, and Red L. E. Vasseur, Bay City, Michigan junior welterweight, stopped Chuck Shuster, Johnstown, Pa., also in the second round.

Patrick, Sapolich Draw.

Walter Patrick, 160, also of Bay City, and George Sapolich, stablemate of Shuster, went four rounds to a draw.

Pvt. Gene Mickens, heavyweight from Baer field, Ind., hammered out a six round victory over William [Pug] Wilson, Gary.

COUNTY TO SELL TAX WARRANTS TO PAY '43 BILLS

Owes $3,953,918; Asks Bids on $10,090,437.

County commissioners yesterday took steps to sell $10,090,437 in 1944 tax anticipation warrants—the maximum permitted by law. Out of the proceeds the county would be able to pay $3,953,918 owed to 1,300 institutions and supply dealers for goods bought in 1943.

The board instructed Chief Deputy Controler Richard J. Daley to seek bids on the warrants, on which the interest is expected to be not much more than 1 per cent. It was estimated the warrants would be paid off within 14 months and that the cost to the county would be slightly more than $100,000.

It's 75 Per Cent of Tax Levy.

The amount sought to be sold is 75 per cent of the $13,453,918 tax levy for county purposes. Receipt of the money would permit the board to repay County Treasurer Schlaeger approximately $3,000,000 borrowed from him for current expenses last fall.

The board also directed the county auditor to determine whether the board owes Coroner Brodie money or Brodie owes the board. The action came on Brodie's request that the board credit him with $52,980 in payment for 8,830 inquests he held without collecting fees from relatives or friends of the decedents.

Taxpayer Sues Coroner.

Brodie is being sued by Frank Hanket, a taxpayer who claims Brodie owes the county about $18,000 for fees the coroner failed to collect. Atty. Harry S. Ditchburne, representing Hanket, contends the county should not pay Brodie unless the coroner shows he made an effort to collect the fees and was unable to do so.

A hearing in the case is scheduled for tomorrow before Judge Ulysses S. Schwartz in Superior court.

On motion of Commissioner George A. Miller, the board deferred action on Brodie's petition, pending a report from the county auditor.

FATALITY TOLL IN MENINGITIS OUTBREAK IS 33

Chicago's death toll in the current spinal meningitis outbreak reached 33 yesterday as the disease proved fatal to a 2 year old girl in the 200 block of E 77th st., and to a man, 41, in the 5500 block on Broadway.

Cases reported in Chicago since the first of the year total 175. Last year there were only 14 cases with nine deaths at this time.

One new case reported in the county outside Chicago brought the county total since Jan. 1 to 45 cases and four deaths.

Cobb's "Omit Flowers" Not Obeyed at Funeral

New York, March 13 (AP).—Services requiring only 10 minutes were conducted in a funeral home here today for Irvin S. Cobb, author and humorist, who died last Friday. The services followed closely his burial instructions, except there was a profusion of flowers despite his wish that there be none, and that the relatives and friends attending failed to heed his injunction to "keep it cheerful."

STOCKS
Exempt from Illinois Personal Property Taxes

We have just published a booklet listing approximately 1,400 stocks of American corporations which are exempt from Illinois personal property taxes when owned by residents of this State.

We suggest that Illinois residents give careful investment consideration to these stocks. We will be glad to furnish without obligation any information on the companies and will buy, sell or quote any of the stocks.

LEGENDS

Men in high office progress in public estimation as they grow smaller in their own.

That is the Lincoln legend and the hardest of all political examples to follow.

But it is men who can live toward that example who are most needed in the political affairs of this country.

America is in the market for Lincolns.

URGE DIVERSION OF MAGNESIUM TO CIVILIAN USE

Early Waste Draws Committee's Fire.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 13.—American production of magnesium—lightest structural metal known to man—has progressed to the point where its use for civilian goods manufacture now should be permitted, the Truman war investigating committee reported today.

The report at the same time criticized early waste and inefficiency in a 133 million dollar government financed plant at Las Vegas, Nev., which will cost almost double original estimates. However, early errors have been corrected and nation-wide production this year will exceed war and essential civilian needs and provide a surplus for civilian goods, the committee said.

Uses Are Varied.

The war production board was urged to release this extra production for development of new uses of the metal. The report said magnesium can be developed for use in the making of automotive parts, portable tools, vacuum cleaners, typewriters, business machines, photo-engraving plates, and conveyors.

"Magnesium is supremely important not only to the war but to the future welfare of the country," said Sen. Wallgren [D., Wash.], who filed the report.

The Nevada magnesium plant was authorized by the Defense Plant corporation in 1941 under contract to Basic Magnesium, Inc., of Cleveland. Of this contract, the report remarked:

"This was one of the most unjustified contracts which was proposed in connection with the war program and represented a wholly unwarranted advance of government funds to a newly organized corporation which had no financial resources and only the most meager experience and talent.

Causes Management Change.

"Aside from the lack of coördinated engineering, extravagances on the project, general inefficiencies, overoptimistic attitude with respect to the ore reserves both as to quality and quantity, errors in efficient layout and design occurred to such a degree that they not only prompted the committee's interest but culminated in the removal of Basic Refractories [parent of Basic Magnesium, Inc.] from the management of the project."

Since October, 1942, the plant has been managed by the Anaconda Copper Mining company. Sen. Wallgren said it was "most unfortunate" that this company had not been in charge from the outset.

KAISER OFFERS TO RESIGN AS BREWSTER HEAD

New York, March 13 (AP).—Henry J. Kaiser is ready to resign the presidency of Brewster Aeronautical corporation and concentrate on his other war work if Brewster stockholders desire.

He made that clear in a letter to stockholders, in which he said:

"Since the present management assumed office for the purpose of meeting the production emergency and this task has been accomplished, it is now appropriate for this management to retire and be replaced by a management selected by the stockholders."

Power Sales Double 1939, Utility Reports

After expanding generating capacity 31 per cent in four years, the North American company utility system is supplying twice the electric power it did before 1939, Edward L. Shea, president, said yesterday in the company's annual report to stockholders.

Edward L. Shea.

Principal properties in Cleveland, St. Louis, Milwaukee, and Washington, D. C., now have generating capacity of 2,638,430 kilowatts. The expansion program cost 144½ million dollars.

The company's consolidated net income in 1943 was $19,719,430, equal to $1.85 a common share, compared with $18,530,753, or $1.72 a share, in 1942. Operating revenues increased to $161,297,059 from $143,992,252 the year before.

Reorganization Plan Shaped.

Preparatory to complying with the securities and exchange commission's divestment order, North American now has pending before that body a reorganization plan which contemplates transfer to common stockholders of direct ownership of the company's principal holdings. The Supreme court's inability to act on the company's appeal, because it lacks the necessary quorum, does not stay the commission's order, Shea said. Four of the court's nine justices have disqualified themselves on the case and six are required for a quorum.

Borden company's consolidated sales for 1943 rose to a new high of $371,866,527, compared with $325,350,306 in 1942, the annual report showed. Net income increased to $9,405,705, equal to $2.17 a share, from $8,379,654, or $1.91 a share. Theodore G. Montague, president, said profit was 2.5 per cent of sales, compared with 2.6 per cent in 1942.

Chicago Unit Reports.

Concurrently, C. L. Dressel, president of Borden's Chicago milk division, reported operations of this unit had resulted in a profit of 2.35 per cent on total sales during 1943.

Borden's earnings last year were determined after deducting 5 million dollars as reserve for contingencies and $900,000 for deferred maintenance. This compared with $3,900,000 special reserves in 1942.

Packard Motor Car company's net sales and other income in 1943 increased 53 per cent to $341,261,650, George T. Christopher, president, said. Consolidated net income was $4,754,587, equal to 32 cents a share, compared with $4,726,237, or 31 cents a share, in 1942.

American Radiator Dips.

Net sales of American Radiator and Standard Sanitary corporation last year increased to $124,057,703 from $114,648,065 in 1942.. Net income was $5,429,431, equal to 51 cents a share, compared with $5,551,657, or 52 cents a share. Profit was determined after appropriating $750,000 as reserves for contingencies, compared with $500,000.

Allied Chemical and Dye corporation, after setting aside 4 million dollars for general contingencies in each year, reported net income of $19,023,679, equal to $8.59 a share in 1943, compared with $20,457,601, or $9.24 a share, in the preceding year.

National Cash Register company's sales last year mounted to $102,766,613 from $83,194,958 the year before. Net income was reported at $3,463,953, equal to $2.13 a share, against $3,136,652, or $1.93 a share.

City Ice Advances.

City Ice and Fuel company reported net income of $2,842,898, equal to $1.81 a common share, for 1943, compared with $2,449,146, or $1.47 a share, in 1942. Net sales of $45,960,158 compared with $37,128,573 in 1942.

Brunswick-Balke-Collender company's consolidated net sales in 1943 were $15,867,640, against $18,337,799 in 1942. Profit was $1,349,926, equal to $2.73 a common share, compared with $1,592,094, or $3.28 a share, in 1942.

INCOME TAX REVENUE RUNS ABOVE YEAR AGO DESPITE WITHHOLDING

Washington, D. C., March 13 (AP).—Despite generally smaller individual payments because of pay-as-you-go, early March income tax payments are running substantially ahead of a year ago.

Today's treasury statement shows total collection of $502,696,000 during the first 10 days of the month, with $190,122,000 representing withholding receipts.

The $312,574,000 in other payments compares with a $283,670,000 aggregate a year earlier. Deadline for filing 1943 returns is Wednesday midnight.

NAVY SLASHES CONTRACTS FOR MERCY PLANES

The navy has reduced the Howard Aircraft company's contracts for hospital and instrument training aircraft, it was learned yesterday. Both types of planes, developed from the famous Howard cabin plane made for civilian use before the war, are in production in a government owned plant at St. Charles.

K. W. Rowe, vice president of the company, said the navy's bureau of aeronautics in Washington had ordered a contract for 350 hospital planes reduced to 90, and a contract for 475 trainers reduced to 320.

The contracts cut down were extension of earlier ones under which Howard had produced 175 trainers and 50 hospital ships.

About 1,200 persons are employed in the St. Charles factory, and about 600 in another plant at Clearing, Rowe said. The company will seek other war contracts to keep its production lines going.

CELANESE PLANS NEW PREFERRED STOCK ISSUANCE

Stockholders of Celanese Corporation of America will be asked at the annual meeting on April 12 to authorize a new 500,000 share issue of no par first preferred stock, the corporation announced yesterday.

The 164,818 shares of 7 per cent prior preferred stock, redeemable at 120, and 37,710 shares of 5 per cent prior preferred redeemable at 103 will be called for redemption concurrently with issuance of the initial series of the first preferred.

Holders of the common stock will be offered the right to subscribe for additnonal shares of common stock at the rate of one share for each 10 shares held. Net proceeds from the financing will be used in a program for additional plant facilities, the statement said.

MARKET FOR RYE GAINS ON REPORT OF MORE WHISKY

The growing feed shortage and a trade report that Sen. McCarran [D., Nev.], chairman of a senate subcommittee investigating the alcohol situation, had predicted the war production board would permit manufacture of some whisky soon after the committee files its report brought increased buying of rye futures on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday. When the committee report will be ready was not indicated. Rye closed slightly under the top, but gained ⅝ to ⅞ cent a bushel with May leading and reaching a new high for close to 30 days.

Wheat was dull and closed unchanged. Oats gained ⅛ cent. Barley was ½ to 1½ cents higher. Short covering in barley found offerings limited.

Plan Terminal to Rush Truck Cargo Switch

BY AL CHASE.

Plans for a 2 million dollar consolidated motor truck terminal, to be privately financed, are being considered for Chicago by the army, Col. Dan A. Hardt, commanding officer of the 6th transportation zone, said yesterday. Various governmental agencies and transportation lines are studying the project, he said.

Purpose of the freight center would be to accelerate interchange among the various truck lines of freight passing thru Chicago.

Altho several hundred smaller trucking lines, and most large ones, are expected to use the proposed terminal, the biggest tenant would be the army-navy consolidating station, now at 2035 W. Pershing pl., which handles 4 million pounds of freight daily, a total which is increasing as the tempo of the Pacific war is accelerated.

"Better Terminal a Necessity."

"Improved interchange of war freight in Chicago is a vital necessity," said Hardt. "Many transportation agencies, including forwarders and carloaders, are convinced that consolidated terminal facilities are needed now."

Suggested as a location is the 125 acre tract bounded by Archer av. on the north, Ashland av. on the west, 33d st. on the south, and the south fork of the south branch of the Chicago river on the east.

Plans for the proposed terminal have been drawn and are being submitted to the Chicago plan commission, the Chicago Regional Planning association, the city, big trucking operators, air lines and waterway carriers.

Might Finance Thru Bonds.

Maj. Alex Baxter, chief of the highway branch of the 6th transportation zone, who prepared a report on the project for Col. Hardt, said the project might be financed with a bond issue similar to that used by the port of New York authority in financing its trucking terminal which is now under construction.

Harry F. Chaddick, head of Standard Freight Lines, whose trucks enter the army-navy consolidating station, said that all large trucking systems favor the proposed terminal.

"Such a pooling terminal, where freight passing thru Chicago can be interchanged for other points, will save millions of miles a year in the picking up of freight," Chaddick said.

Illinois World War II Vets Paid 3 Million by Army

St. Louis, Mo., March 13 (AP).—Illinois veterans of this war have received approximately 3 million dollars in mustering out pay, Col. W. Gritz, army finance officer, said today in disclosing that his office had received more than 40,000 applications for the discharge imbursement. He said many ex-soldiers apparently did not know that an application must be accompanied by the original discharge papers and not photostatic copies.

WHAT'S IN A NAME.

I have been told that corporate stock of the city of New York represents bond issues. Is this true, and if so, how can the bonds be called stock? K. M.

Answer: New York City's corporate stock actually is a general obligation of the city in every respect. Usually the corporate stock is a long maturity issue, retirable by sinking fund and issued for permanent improvements, principally construction.

The true nature of a security is not always indicated by its title. Common stock of the Green Bay and Western railroad, for example, ranks ahead of the company's class B debentures. Another oddity in the Green Bay and Western situation is the fact that the common stock's participation in earnings is limited, whereas the class B debentures are entitled to any remaining surplus earnings after the common stock and the class A debentures have received their maximum distribution.

TAX ADVANTAGES IN OWNING COMMON STOCKS
FOR LONG-TERM INVESTMENT

- There are many opportunities today to purchase the common stocks of major companies whose postwar prospects appear promising. Informed investors are not overlooking these opportunities.
- One of the most important factors for investors to carefully consider is the tax advantages in owning common stocks. For example, the maximum tax on profits derived from the sale of capital assets held for six months is 25% of such gain. In contrast, all other income is taxable at rates ranging from 22% to 90%.
- We will be glad to discuss the position of common stocks in your investment portfolio with the thought that there may be advantages in selling stocks of certain corporations and replacing them with others with a possible greater postwar future, as well as assist you in considering new purchases.
- We are always prepared to furnish detailed information on individual companies and industries and invite specific inquiries without obligation.

JACOBS URGES STEPS TO END WAR CONTROLS

Tells Need of Policy in Liquidation.

Elimination of government controls must begin now with planning by and for free individuals substituting for the restrictions as the key to a successful conversion from a war to a peace economy, Whipple Jacobs, president of the Belden Manufacturing company, asserted last night. He addressed a dinner meeting of the Industrial Relations Association of Chicago in the headquarters of the Chicago Bar association.

Whipple Jacobs.

"We must begin now to eliminate controls, to plan disposal of unwieldy stockpiles, and to set forth a policy for liquidating government owned surplus plant and equipment," Jacobs said.

Scarcity Would Disappear.

The inflation "bogeyman" is one reason advanced for maintaining strict controls after the war, he said. Inflation implies scarcity, but the moment military needs are satisfied the nation's capacity for a high production rate soon can dissolve the existing excess purchasing power, he asserted.

"Another argument for controls comes from those who have lost the good old American trait of self reliance," he said.

They fear free and open competition and seek government protection, which would include a system of complicated controls, he warned. The most dangerous advocates of controls are those who wish to destroy our form of government, he asserted.

Warns of Lower Living Standard.

"They subscribe to the collectivist state as the answer to their theories of a matured economy and the absence of new frontiers," he said. "This defeatist attitude accepts the necessity of a lowered standard of living for us all, and overlooks the real answer to abolishing want, which is not in finding ways to divide up what we have, but in creating more to divide."

Vice President Wallace is a leading spokesman for this philosophy, he asserted.

"In one breath he expresses sympathy with free enterprise, attacks American business, and invites us to go the way of Communist Russia," he said.

Jacobs advocated conversion plans, which include: Release of statistical information for true comparisons with the pre-war period, analysis of stockpiles in the light of present needs and present productive capacities; abolishment of the majority of war production board restrictions and return to a simple priority system; and elimination of all WPB restrictions except war priorities at the cessation of European hostilities.

U. S. Judge Sides with Ward in Suit to Prevent WLB Order

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 13.—Government attorneys seeking dismissal of a suit filed last October by Montgomery Ward & Co., Chicago, to prevent the war labor board and Stabilization Director Vinson from enforcing a WLB order affecting the big mail order and merchandising enterprise, found a Washington, D. C., federal District court judge siding with the company today.

Francis M. Shea, assistant attorney general, asked Judge T. Alan Goldsborough to dismiss the case on the grounds that Ward had filed it before either the WLB or Vinson had taken any action to enforce a WLB order directing the company to accept a maintenance of membership provision in its labor contract with a CIO union in its retail stores in Detroit, Mich., Denver, Colo., and Jamaica, N. Y.

Says He "Cannot Go Along."

Altho Judge Goldsborough made no ruling on the case, he told the government attorneys that "I cannot go along with you on this contention. You would have the company wait until it got its head chopped off before it could do anything."

Judge Goldsborough asserted that if the court took no action in this case the company would be left in the "status quo." He said a case questioning the right of the WLB and the director of economic stabilization to enforce WLB directives was "a new kind of litigation," and ordered the attorneys to proceed with their presentation so that "I may learn something about it."

Give Their Argument.

Company attorneys, John Barr, Stuart S. Ball, and Henry F. Butler, contended that the WLB has no authority to require the company to write maintenance of membership and union checkoff provisions into its labor contracts because the company is not engaged in war work.

Barr told the court that the "very day" the board said it had no power to enforce the order against Ward and asked Director Vinson to enforce the directive for it, another WLB order had directed a workman to obey one of its rulings that would cause him to violate the laws of the state in which he worked.

The hearing on the government's motion will be resumed tomorrow.

Shift to Peace Stocks Shown by Portfolios

A comparison of investment company 1943 year-end securities holdings with pre-war portfolios showed a distinct trend away from war industries and into industries considered to have favorable post-war prospects, a survey by the National Association of Investment Companies, covering 12 large funds, disclosed yesterday.

Since the end of 1939 the investment companies have added to their holdings of common stocks in oil, bank and finance, food and beverage, rubber and tire, and motion picture companies. In addition they have bought utility holding company preferred stocks and railroad bonds, principally the defaulted and second grade rail issues.

Reduce War Industrials.

The most conspicuous reductions in holdings during the four years were in the metal and mining stocks, chemicals, steels, and electrical equipments.

Among stock other groups in which holdings showed a large percentage increase were drugs, air transport, and textiles. Decreases occurred in glass and container shares, rail equipments, and aricraft manufacturing, and automobile equipment issues.

The 1943 year end list necessarily represented past judgment and there are signs that some investment companies are renewing their interest in certain stocks in the war industry category, the association declared.

Oil Stocks Popular.

Oil stocks lead in popularity with investment companies at the present time, with utility shares, including preferred stocks, running a close second, the survey revealed.

The most widely held individual issue among 90 big investment companies was Standard Oil of New Jersey which appeared in 54 portfolios, followed by Montgomery Ward and General Motors, held by 53 and 52 companies, respectively.

People and Events

Charles C. Greene has been named vice president of Doremus & Co. national advertising agency, and will have charge of the Chicago office, it was announced yesterday. He will assume his duties tomorrow. Greene was formerly vice president of Buchanan & Co. and before that vice president of Critchfield & Co.

Charles C. Greene.

Proposals for recasting the federal tax system, including the abolition of all federal taxes on corporate income, will be outlined tomorrow by Henry C. Simons, assistant professor of economics at the University of Chicago, at a luncheon of the citizens board of the university in the Chicago club.

Brig. Gen. Pedro del Valle, chairman of the equipment board of the Quantico, Va., marine base, and William Stout of Stout Research, Consolidated Vultee Aircraft corporation, will be principal speakers tomorrow at the annual dinner meeting of the Chicago branch, National Metal Trades association, in the Palmer House.

The Milwaukee railroad yesterday commemorated completion of 60 years as the official mail line on the Chicago-Milwaukee-St. Paul-Minneapolis route.

BILL WOULD GIVE NAVY POWER TO SETTLE ORDERS

Washington, D. C., March 13 (AP).—Proposed legislation which would give the secretary of the navy major authority in settlements of navy war contracts was introduced in the house today.

Chairman Vinson [D., Ga.] of the house naval affairs committee called it "the navy department's bill." He said his committee would start hearings on it tomorrow with navy officials the first witnesses.

The bill would authorize the navy department to make prompt and final settlements of claims on termination of its contracts. It would bar the general accounting office from navy termination settlements except to determine whether fraud existed and whether payments to contractors carried out terms of the agreements.

STOCKS CLIMB IN FAST TRADE, PACED BY RAILS

Income Statements Lend Impetus.

New York, March 13 (AP).—In one of the fastest sessions of the last several months, the stock market today responded to further investment confidence by a push to a new high mark since last July with gains of fractions to more than a point.

Low priced issues were transferred in blocks running to around 20,000 shares and principal bidding centered on rails, motors, steels, and specialties. Peace rated stocks were strong. The direction was upward from the start and, altho a little profit taking trimmed top figures in the final hour, closing advances were widely distributed.

Profit Reports a Factor.

Additional earnings statements encouraged the return of idle funds to securities with consistent dividend records. As during last week, bullish sentiment over politics was a factor and good war news was helpful.

The Associated Press 60 stock average was up 0.4 point at 53.1, a peak since July 14, 1943. The rail composite was at the highest since October, 1937, and the utilities since November, 1940. Transfers totaled 1,618,920 shares, compared with 1,147,720 last Friday.

In the "new high" class were Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Atlantic Coast Line, Pullman, American Locomotive, General Motors, Chrysler, Packard, Studebaker, Western Union "A," Oliver Farm, United Aircraft, Braniff Airways, Westinghouse Electric, du Pont, Johns-Manville, Distillers corporation, Pepsi-Cola, and Warner Brothers.

Universal Pictures voting certificates jumped 1⅛ on the Curb.

CHICAGO LIST ADVANCES.

Prices advanced, with 10 issues closing at new 1943-'44 peaks, on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday. Transfers totaled 52,000 shares, the heaviest since last Nov. 9. Most active issues included Commonwealth Edison, up ⅛; Chicago corporation and Hupp Motor Car, both unchanged, and Illinois Central, up ¾.

Westinghouse Electric advanced 5, to close at a new peak of 99¾. Other issues closing at new highs included Illinois Central, 16⅞, up ¾; Santa Fe, 66, up 1½; Chicago Flexible Shaft, up 1; Eddy Paper company, up 1⅜; General Motors, up 1½; McCord Radiator, up 1¼; Lion Oil Refining, up ¾; Noblitt-Sparks, up ⅜.

BONDS CLOSE UNEVEN.

New York, March 13 (AP).—The bond market had a few firm spots today, but prices in the main corporate list failed to change much.

Most of the popular priced reorganization rails held to a narrow range with fractional advances and declines about evenly balanced.

Commodities

Cotton futures prices rose 55 to 85 cents a bale yesterday on continued trade and commission house buying, boosting the aggregate rise for the month so far to $1.80 to $3.15 a bale. Hedge selling increased with the uptrend and, along with some profit cashing, offered the only resistance to the advance.

The war need for textiles, taxing the facilities of the industry, remained the principal factor behind the demand for cotton for future delivery.

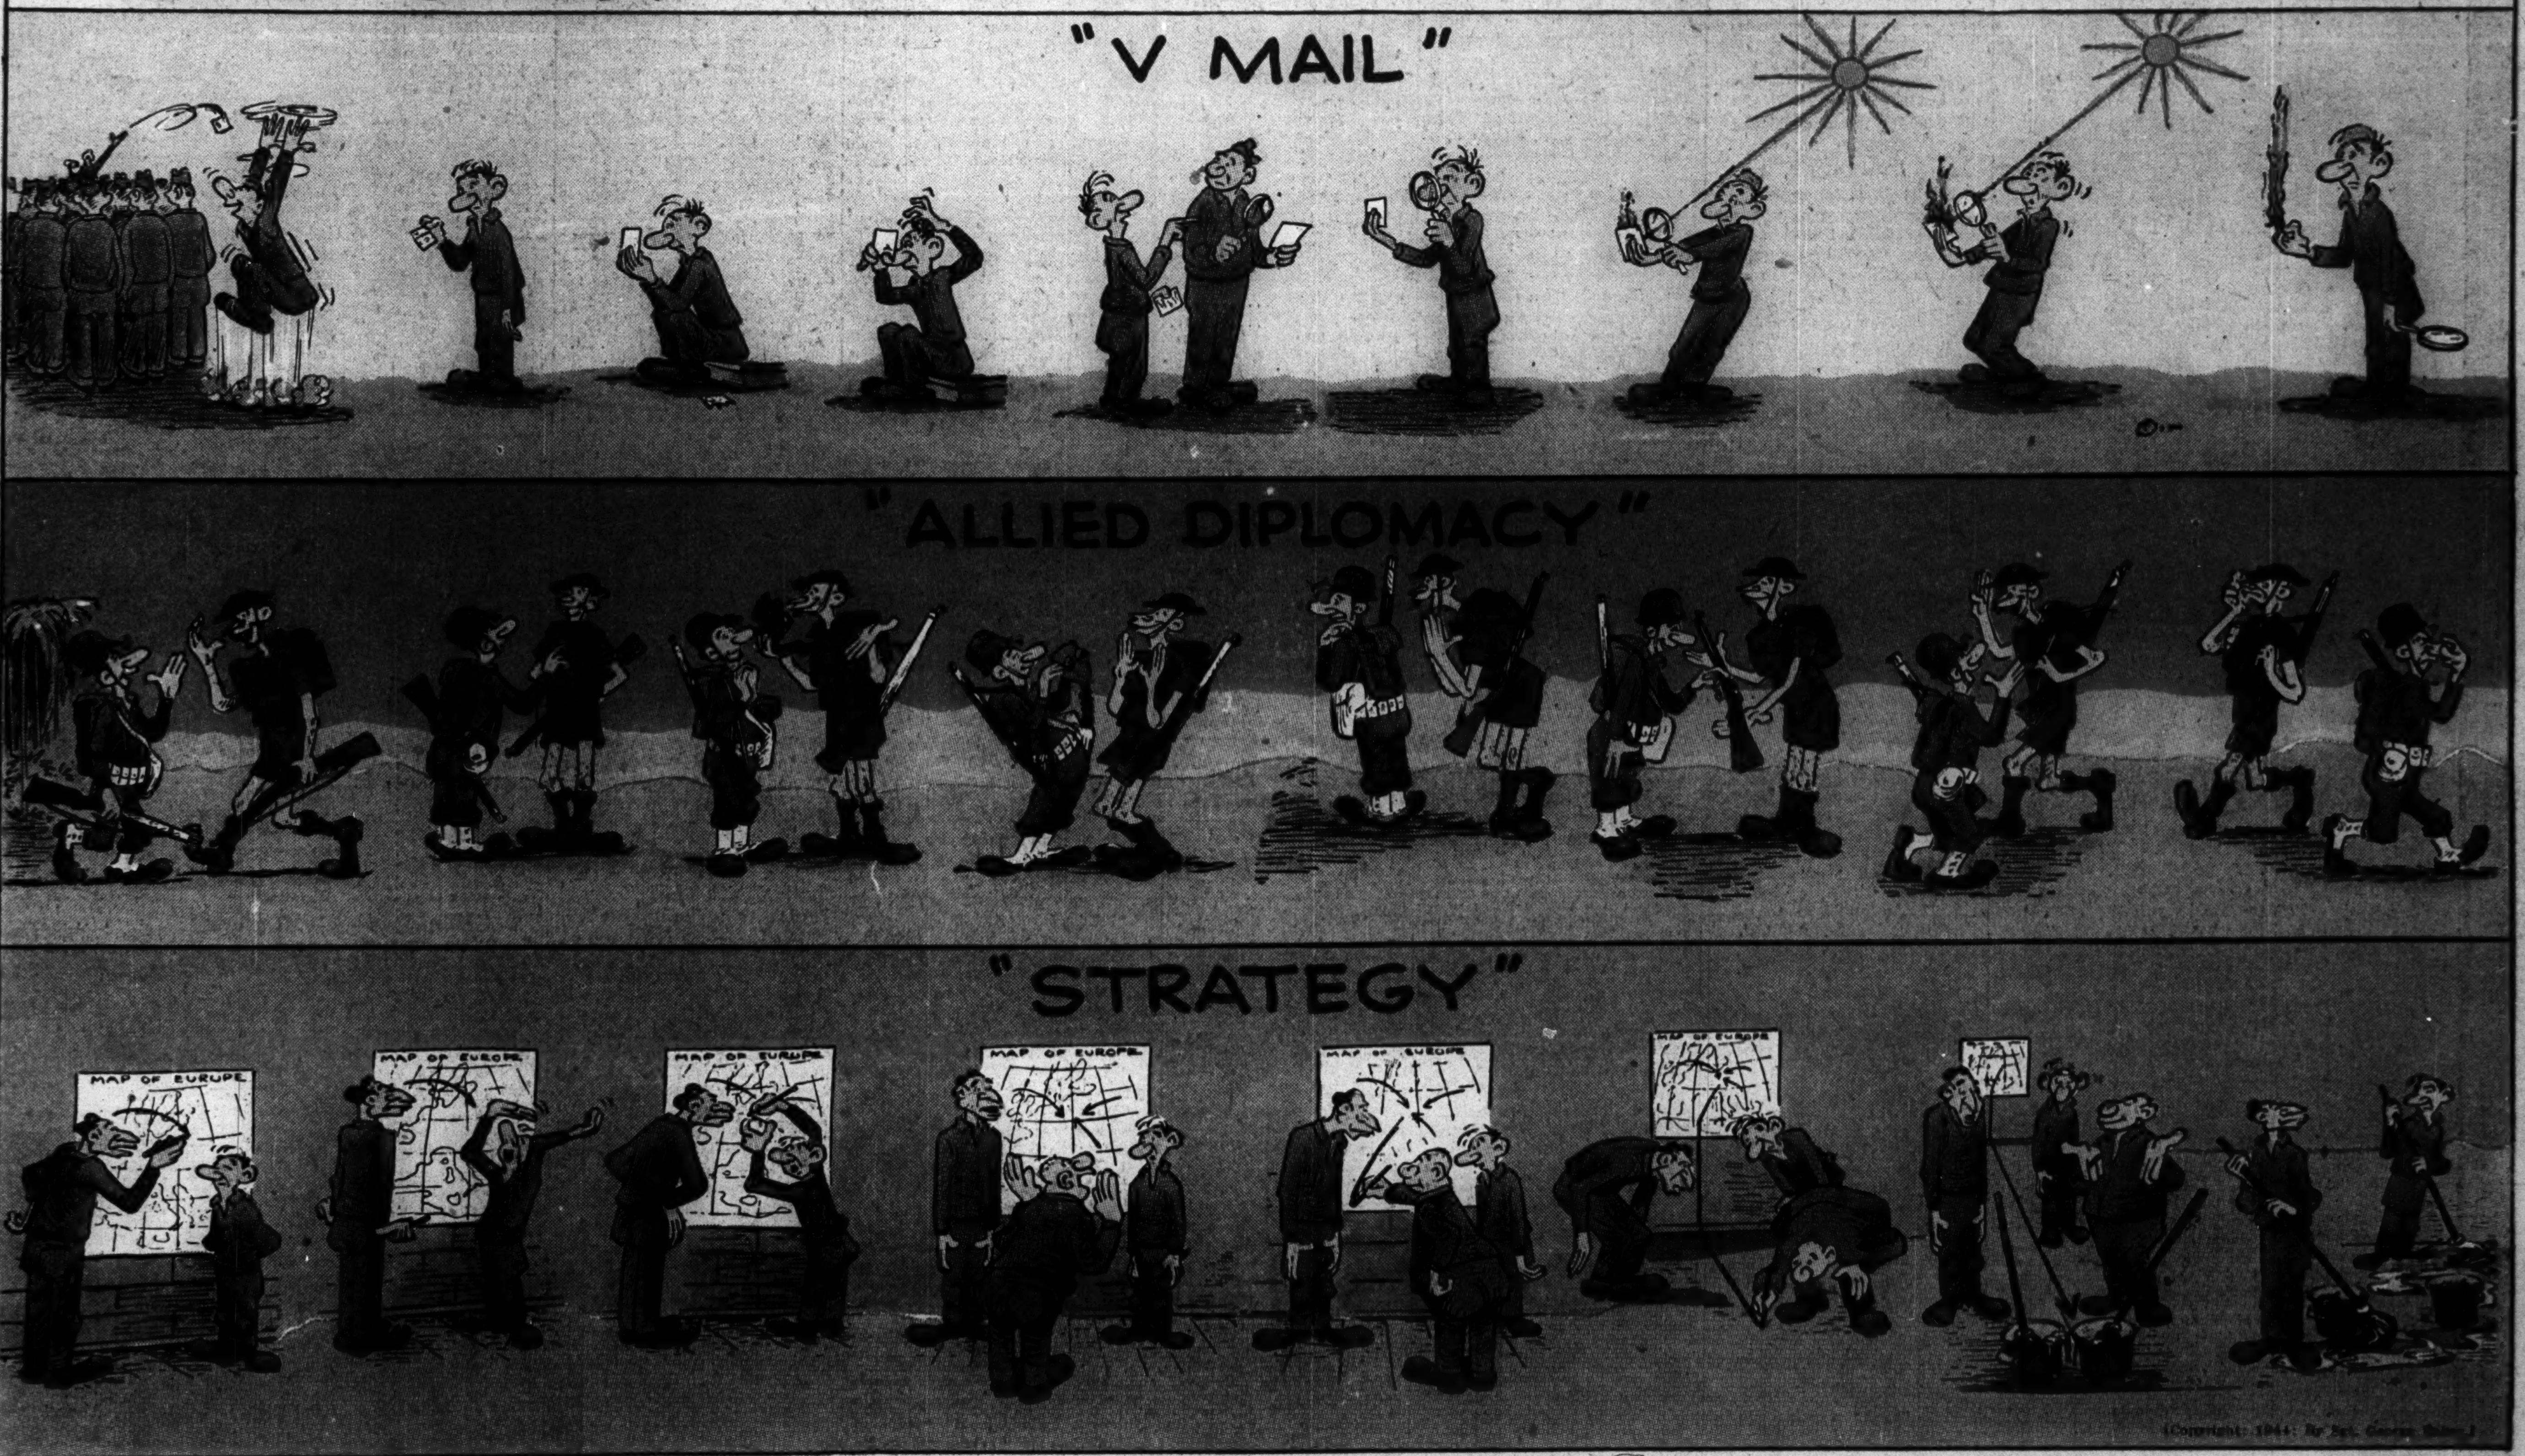
THE SAD SACK A COMIC CHARACTER POPULAR WITH MEN OVERSEAS



[Copyright: 1944: By Sgt. George Baker.]

AMONG American fighting men overseas one of the most popular comic features is "The Sad Sack," examples of which are reproduced here in color. The drawings, which appear in Yank, the army weekly, are by Sgt. George Baker, a former Chicagoan. Baker, who is 28, attended the Chicago Academy of Fine Arts, worked for a while in an advertising art studio in Chicago, and in 1937 joined Walt Disney's staff in Hollywood, where he contributed his talents to outstanding animated movies such as "Snow White," "Bambi," "Pinocchio," and others. Inducted into the army in 1941, he spent a year and a half in the signal corps, where his drawings in camp magazines attracted the attention of the editors of Yank. His droll character "Sad Sack" made his bow in the first issue of Yank in June, 1942, and has since been a regular feature of that publication. Baker gets a great deal of fan mail on the subject of "Sad Sack," who, according to Maj. Jack Weeks, executive officer of Yank, is a great morale builder among the soldiers.
